"Certified that (subject to the remarks recorded below)* qualifying service in inferior or superior grades has been duly proved for.....years.....months.....days; and that a pension and retiring gratuity or gratuity not exceeding Rs.....a month and Rs.....in lump, respectively, are admissible under the West Bengal Services (Revision of Pension) Rules, 1952, issued with Finance Department Notification No. 2122F/F/1P/1(10)/52, dated 11th August, 1952. The calculations have been duly verified The pension and retiring gratuity or gratuity are chargeable to.....and the pension will commence from.....195...."

(iii) In the fourth page (docket)—

(1) for the heading "Application for Pension or Gratuity" substitute "Application for pension and retiring gratuity or gratuity".

(2) after the item "Amount of gratuity sanctioned" insert a new item "Amount of retiring gratuity sanctioned".

On receipt of the certificate of the Accountant-General on the third page of the form, the authority competent to sanction the pension of the Government servant concerned may formally sanction the retiring gratuity along with the pension. The payment will then be made in accordance with the provisions of Subsidiary Rule 294 of the Treasury Rules, Volume I. If the Government servant dies before receiving payment, the amount will be payable to his legal heirs and the payment will be made only to the person who produces the legal authority.

(b) Death Gratuity.—(i) When it is payable to the nominee or legal heir of the Government servant who dies while in service.—If the Government servant has executed a nomination in the prescribed form and the nomination subsists, the Head of the office should, on receipt of the death report of the Government servant, draw up a statement of his services in the second page of C.S.R. Form 25. If there is no nomination, or if the nomination does not subsist, the death gratuity is payable only to the legal heirs of the deceased and in such cases the Head of the office need draw up the statement of services only on receipt of an application for death gratuity from or on behalf of the legal heirs supported by legal authority. The statement of services along with the provisional recommendations of the Head of the office as to the amount of gratuity proposed to be paid (and the name and address of the person or persons to whom it is to be paid together with the nomination form, where necessary, in the case of non-gazetted officer) shall be forwarded to the Accountant-General for verification. After obtaining the certificate of verification (and ascertaining from the Accountant-General the details as to nominee or nominees if the deceased is a gazetted officer) formal sanction to the payment of the gratuity may be accorded by the Head of the office in the case of non-gazetted Government servants and Government in the administrative department in the case of gazetted Government servants. The sanction should indicate the name, address and the relationship to the deceased Government servant of the person or persons to whom the gratuity is to be paid to each of them. The Accountant-General will then arrange for the disbursal of the amounts in the same way as General Provident Fund balances.

(ii) When it is payable to the nominee or legal heirs of the Government servant who dies after retirement.—Immediately after the death of a pensioner, his nominee or legal heirs shall report the fact of death to the authority which sanctioned or is competent to sanction the pension of the deceased. The latter will then ascertain whether any gratuity is due to the nominee or legal heirs of the deceased in terms of sub-rule (2) of rule 7 of the West Bengal Services (Revision of Pension) Rules, 1952, and in that case, proceed to sanction the amount after following the procedure indicated in sub-paragraph (i).

10. Anticipatory payments of retiring and death gratuities.—When a Government servant whose retiring gratuity is payable in India is likely to retire before the amount of the gratuity can be finally assessed and settled in accordance with the procedure mentioned in paragraph 9 above the Audit Officer may sanction the disbursement of not more than three-fourths of the amount of gratuity to which, after the most careful summary investigation that he can make without delay, he believes the Government servant to be entitled on the basis of his permanent service alone. Similar payments of death gratuity may also be authorised in the appropriate proportion to the nominees or the legal heirs who produce the usual legal authority, in the event of the death of the Government servant. In all cases the anticipatory payment of retiring or death gratuity should be made after the recipient has executed a declaration in the form shown in the Appendix.

These rules shall be called the West Bengal Services (Revision of Pension) Rules, 1952.

They shall be deemed to have come into force on 1st April, 1952.

2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(c) "Emoluments" has the same meaning as in the existing rules, except that in its application to cases falling under rules 6 and 7, it shall—

(1) in the case of a Government servant in superior service be subject to a maximum of—

(i) Rs.1,300 per mensem in calculating emoluments under rule 6; and

(2) in the case of a Government servant in inferior service, mean the pay as defined in rule 5(b) of the Inferior Services (Gratuity, Pension and Retirement) Rules, 1936, provided that if in any case the pay was reduced during the last 3 years of service, otherwise than as a penalty, "average pay" as defined in rule 6(c) of those rules, may, at the discretion of the authority empowered to sanction the retiring or death gratuity, be treated as emoluments.

(d) "Family" shall include the following relatives of a Government servant:—

(1) wife in the case of a male officer,

(2) husband in the case of a female officer,

(3) sons (including step-sons),

(4) unmarried and widowed daughters (including step-daughters),

(5) brothers below the age of 18 years and unmarried or widowed sisters,

(6) father, and

(7) mother.

(e) "Appropriate authority" means—

(i) Accountant-General, West Bengal, in the case of a gazetted Government servant, and (ii) the Head of the office in the case of a non-gazetted Government servant.

3. These rules shall apply to all Government servants under the rule-making control of the Government who hold a lien on a permanent pensionable post under the Government or would have held a lien on such a post had their lien not been suspended:

Provided that all Government servants who were in permanent and pensionable service of the Government on 31st March, 1952, shall have the option to remain on the existing rules. Where the option to remain on the existing rules is exercised, it shall be communicated in writing to the appropriate authority within a period of one year from the date of notification of these rules in the Official Gazette or the actual date of retirement, whichever is earlier. The option once exercised shall be final and cannot be modified at any subsequent date.

4. Unless, otherwise provided in these rules, the provisions in the Civil Service Regulations or in the Inferior Services (Gratuity, Pension and Retirement) Rules, 1936, will apply in respect of all matters dealt with in those rules.

5. With effect from 1st April, 1952, the amount of pension of any Government servant to whom these rules apply shall be regulated as follows:—

(a) The amount of superannuation, invalid and compensation gratuity and pension shall not exceed the appropriate amount set out in Schedule I.

(b) The amount of retiring pension for officers who are permitted to retire after completing 25 years' service or more shall not exceed the appropriate amount shown in Schedule II. (c) Special additional pension at the same rates and subject to the same conditions as mentioned in Article 475A of the Civil Service Regulations shall be admissible to the holders of such posts as are included in Schedule III to these rules.

6. When a Government servant to whom these rules apply, retires after qualifying for a pension, i.e., after completing 10 years' qualifying service in the case of superior service and 20 years' qualifying service in the case of inferior service, he shall be granted, when he retires from service and is eligible for a pension under rule 5, a retiring gratuity not exceeding nine-twentieths of his emoluments for each completed year of qualifying service subject to a maximum of 15 times the emoluments.

Note.—The rates of retiring gratuity are shown in extenso in Schedule IV annexed herewith.

7. (1) When a Government servant, to whom these rules apply and who has completed 5 years' qualifying service, dies while in service, a death gratuity not exceeding nine-twentieths of his emoluments for each completed year of qualifying service subject to a minimum of 12 times and a maximum of 15 times the emoluments at the time of death, shall be paid to the person or persons on whom the right to receive the gratuity is conferred under rule 9 or if there be no such person to his legal heirs.

Note.—The rates of death gratuity are shown in extenso in Schedule V annexed herewith.

(2) When a Government servant, who has become eligible for a pension and retiring gratuity under rules 5 and 6 of these rules, dies after he has retired from service and the sum actually received by the deceased or payable to his legal heirs on account of his pension and retiring gratuity is less than the amount which would have been admissible as death gratuity under sub-rule (1) of this rule had he died on the date of retirement, the balance shall be paid as gratuity to the person or persons on whom the right to receive the gratuity is conferred under rule 9 or if there be no such person to his legal heirs. This benefit will not be admissible if the officer had commuted a portion of his pension before death.

8. Any Government servant to whom these rules apply shall be eligible to commute pension in accordance with the Civil Pension (Commutation) Rules; but the maximum amount of pension which may be commuted shall be restricted to—

(a) One-third of the pension granted under sub-rule (a) or (b) of rule 5; and

(b) Half of the additional pension granted under sub-rule (c) of the said rule.

9. (a) Any Government servant to whom these rules apply may, provided he has completed five years' qualifying service, make a nomination conferring on one or more persons the right to receive the death gratuity that may be sanctioned under rule 7:

Provided that if, at the time of making the nomination, the Government servant has a family, the nomination shall not be in favour of any person or persons other than the members of his family.

(b) If a Government servant nominates more than one person under sub-rule (a), he shall specify in the nomination the amount or share payable to each of the nominees in such manner as to cover the whole amount of the gratuity.

(c) A Government servant may provide in a nomination—

(i) in respect of any specified nominee, that in the event of his predeceasing the Government servant, the right conferred upon that nominee shall pass to such other member of the Government servants' family as may be specified in the nomination; and

(ii) that the nomination shall become invalid in the event of the happening of a contingency specified therein.

(d) The nomination made by a Government servant who has no family shall become invalid on his subsequently acquiring a family.

(e)(i) Every nomination shall be in such one of the Forms A to D in Schedule VI as may be appropriate in the circumstances of the case.

(ii) A Government servant may at any time cancel a nomination by sending a notice in writing to the appropriate authority, provided that the officer shall along with such notice send a fresh nomination made in accordance with the rules.

(f) Immediately on the death of a nominee in respect of whom no special provision has been made in the nomination under clause (i) of sub-rule (c) or on the occurrence of any event by reason of which the nomination becomes invalid in pursuance of clause (ii) of that sub-rule or sub-rule (d), the Government servant shall send to the appropriate authority a notice in writing formally cancelling the nomination, together with a fresh nomination made in accordance with this rule.

(g) Every nomination made, and every notice of cancellation given, by a Government servant under this rule shall be sent to the appropriate authority who shall, immediately on receipt of a nomination, countersign it indicating the date of receipt and keep it under his custody.

(h) Every nomination made, and every notice of cancellation given, by a Government servant shall, to the extent that it is valid, take effect on the date on which it is received by the authority mentioned in sub-rule (g).

10. Nothing in these rules shall apply to the members of the Higher Judicial Service.

By order of the Governor,

Secretary to the Government of West Bengal.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 2081Dis./D/13L-30/52.—2nd August 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3Dis./13L-28/51, dated the 4th September 1951, the industrial dispute between the "Statesman", Ltd., Chowringhee Square, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Press Employees' Association, 249/B, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the "Statesman", Ltd., Chowringhee Square, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Press Employees' Association, 249/B, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta.

PRESENT:

SRI S. K. NIYOGI, District Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Sri P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel, instructed by Sri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., solicitors.

Present for the Association: Sri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel, assisted by Sri S. K. Dhar, Pleader.

AWARD.

By order No. 3Dis./13L-28/51, dated the 4th September 1951, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, appointed me to be the Tribunal and referred the dispute to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

The following issues were raised for decision :—

(1) Grades and scales.

(2) Reorganisation of the existing peon staff, if necessary.

(3) Method of recruitment.

(4) Hours of work.

(5) Leave.

(6) (a) Bonus. (b) Whether withholding of bonus for 1950, payable in 1951, was justified?

(7) Dearness allowance.

(8) (a) What should be the rates of pay payable to those who are required to work on the 4 Pujah days and on 12 other Government gazetted holidays? (b) Whether the existing condition of regular attendance which qualifies for Pujah payment should remain in force or not?

(9) Quarters and winter clothings for the subordinate staff.

(10) Medical expenses.

(11) Whether withholding of annual increments was justified?

Before proceeding to make my award on the issues raised I would like to mention the facts which led up to the dispute according to the Union, and the circumstances urged by the Company as explaining its financial position in relation to the dispute generally. The position of the Company as a newspaper undertaking is unique both from the point of view of circulation and standard of workmanship. The paper is published simultaneously from Calcutta and Delhi. From its well-equipped process and job department, which may be regarded as its special feature, is printed the weekly journal, "The Capital". The Company also undertakes outside job work. The employees of the "Statesman", Ltd., formed into a Union, called the Statesman Employees' Union, in 1944, and it is affiliated with the Press Employees' Association, hereinafter called the Association. Since its formation the Union placed before the Company in the beginning of every year all matters of general interest of the employees and tried to get the grievances settled through negotiations. Throughout these annual negotiations, during the past few years, the Company's attitude with regard to such matters as annual bonus and increments continued to be doubtful and questionable. In pursuance of the above practice the Union submitted its demands for 1951 on the 15th January of the same year. The Company's reaction to the demands was unsympathetic, and the Company even refused to consider the question of Pujah bonus at a subsequent stage of negotiations. Thereupon the Union submitted to the Company a fresh detailed charter of demands by its letter, dated the 11th June 1951 (Annexure C), and made several attempts for coming to a settlement with the Company, but to no effect. Ultimately the Union sought for the intervention of the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal. The Conciliation Officer of the Labour Directorate held several joint conferences with the representatives of the Company, but all attempts failed. The case was then referred to the Tribunal for adjudication.

The Company denies that its attitude during the past few years with regard to such matters as annual bonus and increments was doubtful and questionable. It is also denied that the Company took an unsympathetic and unhelpful attitude towards the demands of the employees for unjustifiable reasons. It is the case of the Company that the rates of wages paid by the Company to the members of the process and job department staff have proved an embarrassment. In years when the Company was prospering there was never any real difficulty in settling the demands of the Statesman Employees' Union, but on this occasion difficulty has been experienced because of the fact that the business of newspaper production in India is passing through one of the most serious depressions in its history. In 1939 the Company was able to buy newsprint delivered in India at less than £10 per ton. During and after the War the prices increased, until in March 1950, the Company was paying £37-10 per ton, but since then there has been an extraordinary rise in the prices of this vital commodity with the result that now the price is £106-12-6 per ton for Scandinavian newsprint and approximately £75 per ton for Canadian newsprint. Of the Company's total annual expenditure, newsprint and payments to the staff together account for as high a proportion as 71 per cent. Whereas in 1939 newspapers were selling at 1 anna when newsprint was being bought at £10 per ton, they are now selling at 2½ annas. The cost of newsprint has increased ten times but the selling prices of the papers only 2½ times. The only other principal source of newspaper income is advertisement. The world newsprint shortage has resulted in the introduction of an [illegible] Government Newsprint Control Order, which restricts the size of a 2½ anna daily paper to 8 pages. As the percentage of adevretising in any newspaper is limited, the effect of this order is to restrict the amount of advertising, which can be accepted by a newspaper. An effort to adjust this position has been made by a typographical revision, which increase the number of columns available, but even this experiment has not had the effect of preventing the Company from continuing to operate at a substantial financial loss. With output control and source of revenue strictly restricted, newspapers cannot enjoy financial advantages arising from the law of supply and demand, enabling the prices of ordinary commodities to fluctuate with fluctuations in the prices of raw materials.

The reference was received here on 6th September 1951. The Association filed its written statement on 29th September 1951. Before the Company filed its written statement, the Association made a prayer for the grant of bonus as an interim relief. That prayer was ultimately withdrawn and the Company filed its written statement on 31st October 1951. Issues were framed thereafter on 10th November 1951. After the date of hearing was fixed, both parties jointly obtained several adjournments for the purpose of effecting an amicable settlement. With that end in view the Company offered certain terms which were accepted by the Staetsman Employees' Union at an emergency executive meeting held on the 23rd February 1952, by a resolution passed with the consent of the majority of the members. Subsequently, this resolution of the Union was adpoted, and the terms offered by the Company were accepted by the other employees of whom the number totalled 776. The Union has seceded from the Press Employees' Association and has got itself registered since its decision to accept the terms of the Company. As I understand, the Company has already taken steps to implement the terms of settlement with regard to those who have joined in the compromise on those terms. So far as these employees are concerned, an award will be made as suggested by them and the Company in terms of the agreement entered into by the parties by offer and acceptance of the terms on which settlement has been arrived at between them. The dispute is now confined between the Company and its lower subordinate staff which continues to be represented by the Press Employees' Association.

Let us now proceed with the issues in so far as they concern the members of the lower subordinate staff to whom the dispute is at present confined.

Issue No. 1.—Grades and scales.

The demand of the Association under this head is that the existing grades and scales for the following members of the lower subordinate staff should be revised in the following manner:—

		Existing grades and scales.	Revised grades and scales as demanded.
		Rs.	Rs.
1.	Peons, bearers, mazdoors, durwans and orderlies.	27—1—33	40—2—70
2.	Cycle peons, delivery peons, liftman, gate durwan, etc.	27—1—33	45—3—90
3.	Counters, lascar naik, etc.	40—3—58	55—3—100
4.	Inspectors, receptionist, havilders, etc.	45—3—60—4—84	60—4—120
5.	Jamadars	55—4—80—5—100	70—4—130
6.	Drivers	63—4—80—5—90	80—4—140
7.	Tailors and khidmatgars	30—1—33—40	45—3—90
8.	Motor cleaners, mazdoors, etc.	27	40—2—70

On behalf of the Association it has been contended that the demand for a minimum basic wage of Rs. 40 is justified by a consideration of the cost of living for a family unit of 3 adults on the lines adopted by Sri S. N. Guha Roy in the dispute between the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., and their workmen, and by Sri G. Palit in his award in the dispute between Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., and their employees published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of 30th August 1951, and confirmed on appeal by the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The Company contends that the existing grades and scales of pay are already generous in comparison with the emoluments in other newspapers and printing industries in respect of which rates of payments have to be co-ordinated. Judging by the total emoluments received by the Company's employees, the current wage structure is, it is urged, on a much higher level than the prevailing wages in other industries. In opposing the demand for fixation of the minimum basic wage at Rs. 40 the Company points out that the Calcutta Tramways Co., Ltd., is a monopolistic concern enjoying a unique position in respect of profit-making and the oil companies, like Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., earned huge profits from increased prices of petrol from time to time, whereas the Company has to face competition with other newspaper and printing industries and has had no advantage from fluctuation of prices.

The average workman's family is supposed to consist of 3 consumption units, namely, the man, his wife and 2 dependable children. The cost of living on food would come up to Rs. 15 per month for such a family on the pre-war level of prices according to Dr. Akroyd's Food Norm prescribing a nutritious standard of diet of 2,600 calories for an adult worker in Bengal. Assuming the cost of living index of the working class of Calcutta to be 300, as against 100 in 1939, Mr. Guha Roy found that the cost of food requirements, according to the minimum standard prescribed by Dr. Akroyd, was Rs. 45 per month of a family of the average size consisting of 3 adults. The first award of Sri S. N. Guha Roy in that dispute was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of 5th June 1947. At page 1063 he observed "For all practical purposes one may take even for a working class family a normal expenditure on food in the existing conditions to be about 60 per cent. of the total expenditure, and the rest of the expenditure, excluding the cost of housing which is to be considered separately, as it forms a separate issue, comes to about 30 per cent. This is also the estimate of Professor K. P. Chattopadhya in Exhibit 4. Thus if the cost of food for a working class family is Rs. 45, the rest of the items excluding housing accommodation should cost exactly half of that, viz., Rs. 22-8, and the total expenditure for a working class family would come up to Rs. 67-8 for food and other necessaries excluding housing accommodation". On this basis, the Association's contention that the minimum basic pay of the lowest paid worker should be fixed at Rs. 40 per month may be justified. But the basic pay is supposed to include house rent also which is normally expected to be 10 per cent. of one's basic pay. So in calculating the basic pay, the normal house rent amounting to 10 per cent. should be taken into consideration. Taking Rs. 5 per month as the pre-war expenditure on food per month per adult, according to Dr. Akroyd's estimate, the expenditure on food for a 3-unit family would come to Rs. 15 per month, and therefore, the basic pay would come to Rs. 25 per month on the pre-war level of prices. Multiplying by 1·6 on the assumption that the prices would stabilise at the cost of living index 160, Rs. 40 per month may be held to be the basic pay per month of a least paid worker. It is to be remembered that the estimates made of the minimum requirements of a workman relate to the period when the workman is expected to have at least 2 children to support besides his wife. This will roughly be about the 7th or 8th year of the service by which time he might expect some increments to cover the additional expenditure for birth of children. Mostly for these considerations, Rs. 30 has been generally accepted, at least in West Bengal, as the estimated cost for a worker's family of 3 consumption units at a cost of living index of 160 to 180 at which the prices were expected to stabilise. The basic minimum wage was accordingly fixed generally at Rs. 30 for the least paid workers in various industries by the major Tribunals, the rise in the cost of living being met by the grant of dearness allowance. Members of the working class or sub-staff were not parties to the dispute between Messrs. Caltex, Ltd., and their employees of the Calcutta district, which was the subject-matter of the reference for adjudication to my learned brother Sri G. Palit. For the purpose of calculating the cost of a middle class family with 3 consumption units, the Tribunal in that case came to a finding that the cost of a worker's family was expected to stabilise at Rs. 40 per month. But the ultimate decision in that case was based upon the conclusion that that was the minimum level of a fair wage because the employee was given that wage at the commencement of his service though he would be entitled to it at the 7th or 8th year of his service and he was to have all the time the benefit of yearly increments prescribed in the wage scale, besides other benefits, given under the award.

The total emolument awarded by Mr. S. N. Guha Roy in the case of the Calcutta Tramways Company for the least paid workers is Rs. 70 which was made up of basic pay Rs. 37-8, dearness allowance Rs. 30 and quarter allowance Rs. 2-8. The minimum total emolument of the lowest category of workers in the present Company amounts to (basic pay Rs. 27 plus dearness allowance Rs. 33) Rs. 60. The Company also pays a fixed amount of Rs. 13 per month as canteen allowance which, according to the Company's contention, ought to be added to the monthly pay. So the total amount which a least paid worker gets in the Company comes to Rs. 73 and that is higher than the total amount awarded by Sri Guha Roy in the case of the Tramways Company. In the major engineering industries the basic wage and dearness allowance together for the lowest paid workers make up Rs. 61. In the jute industries the minimum total emolument consisting of basic wage and dearness allowance amounts to Rs. 62 per month. As against this the Company pays, as I have already stated, Rs. 60 (excluding the canteen allowance of Rs. 13) per month, which cannot be said to be inadequate. With the canteen allowance, the total emolument paid by the Company to lowest category of wage earners is much higher.

The Fair Wages Committee has recommended that in determining basic wage, the prevailing rates of wages in the same or similar occupations in the same or neighbouring localities ought to be taken into consideration. A wide disparity between wage payments in comparable concerns is likely to create unfair conditions of competition among the employers. This recommendation has been accepted by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of B and C Mills, and their workers, reported in Volume II, Labour Law Journal, 1951, page 314. The rates of wages awarded for the engineering and jute industries have been mentioned. Besides these, the Company has quoted the following figures for other newspapers like the "Hindusthan Standard", and the "Amrita Bazar Patrika" which claims to have the largest circulation today:—

"Hindusthan Standard"—Basic pay Rs. 40 + dearness allowance Rs. 20 = Rs. 60.

"Amrita Bazar Patrika"—Basic pay Rs. 35 + dearness allowance Rs. 20

Then, in the dispute between 90 printing presses in Calcutta and Howrah and their employees, the learned adjudicator Sri A. Das Gupta awarded the following grades for the lower subordinate staff:—

Head durwan—Rs. 40—55.

Durwan—Rs. 30—45.

Bearers—Rs. 25—35.

Dearness allowance awarded was Rs. 22, which was raised to Rs. 28 by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal. Judging by its position and respectability and past prosperity, the Company may perhaps be assumed to have the capacity to pay a minimum basic wage of Rs. 40 per month, but it should not be lost sight of that the Company has been paying from before an additional sum of Rs. 13 in the shape of canteen allowance, which is a fixed amount payable to each and every worker without any condition, and which together with the minimum pay makes up Rs. 40 per month for almost all the members of the sub-staff. Moreover, the capacity to pay of an employer is to be determined on an industry-cum-region basis. The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal has observed in the case referred to above that if this rule be not adopted, and the capacity to pay be judged on a unit-wise basis, there would be unfair competition, and it would be placing in the hands of a unit able to pay higher wages, a weapon to drive out its competitor—another unit of the same industry—from the field. The rule which would tend towards monopoly cannot be adopted in deciding industrial disputes.

The claim for revision of the grades and scales for those workers among the lower subordinate staff who get more than the minimum wage is sustainable only if the minimum wage level is revised and increased as suggested by the Association. The only ground pressed for revision of such grades is that the Company having recognised that they are entitled to higher pay by reason of their more responsible work, it is desirable that the existing wage differentials should be preserved by a flat increase in their emoluments as far as possible. The whole wage structure as proposed is apparently sought to be built upon the minimum emolument. So, if the existing minimum emolument does not call for any revision, being already adequate, the claim for revision of the other grades does not also stand. Apart from the basic wage and the dearness allowance, and the canteen allowance in addition thereto, the Company has been giving to all workers other privileges and amenities in the shape of special payment round about Pujah times which is not dependant on profits, and also gratuity and Provident Fund with 10 per cent. contribution from either side. Taking all these into account, I do not consider that the existing grades and scales need be revised in the manner suggested by the Association.

As I have already mentioned, the Company offered certain terms for the purpose of bringing about an amicable settlement with the employees, which were accepted by all the employees other than the members of the subordinate staff. From this it is seen that the management was agreeable to a revision of the grades of the lowest paid members of the subordinate staff by increasing the maximum as shown below:—

	New grades.	Existing grades.
	Rs.	Rs.
Motor cleaners	25—39	25—39
Liftmen	27—41	27—39
Delivery peons	27—41	27—39
Orderlies	27—41	27—39
Durwans	27—41	27—39
Office bearers	27—41	27—39
Sweepers

Most of the workmen in the abovementioned existing grades are likely to be already drawing more than the minimum of those grades, and some of them may reasonably be expected to have reached a stage which is not far off from the maximum. The proposed increase of the maximum is obviously intended to benefit those workmen. The proposal must have proceeded from a desire to ameliorate the conditions, which the workers presently needed to the best of the management's information and knowledge regarding their present-day conditions. Upon all these considerations, I decide that the grades for the following categories of workers among the lower subordinate staff should be revised in the following manner, and that the workers of the categories mentioned below should be pulled up to a stage next higher to their present stage by giving one increment at the existing rate of increment which is to remain unaltered. This is my award on the first issue relating to grades and scales for the lower subordinate staff, and the award will come into operation, with effect from 1st January 1951, to which the Company was agreeable under the proposed terms of settlement:—

	New grades. Rs.
Motor cleaners	.. 25—39.
Liftmen	.. 27—41.
Delivery peons	.. 27—41.
Orderlies	.. 27—41
Durwans	.. 27—41.
Office bearers	.. 27—41.
Sweepers	.. 25—39.
Tailors	.. 30—41.

I do not propose to change the minimum basic wage nor to revise the grades and scales of the workers of the lower subordinate staff belonging to any of the existing grades beyond what has been indicated above.

Issue No. 7.—Dearness allowance.

The Company pays dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 33 per month. The rate has been increased by Rs. 4 per month by an agreement with those workmen with whom there has been an amicable settlement. The Association demands that dearness allowance should be paid on the lines of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme at the rate of 90 per cent. of the basic wages with a minimum of Rs. 55 per month. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme aims at 100 per cent. neutralisation of the rise in the cost of living index. But the generally accepted view is that the complete neutralisation should not be allowed by the grant of dearness allowance, the reasons being that the industrial workers should also be called upon to make sacrifices like all other citizens affected by the rise in the prices due to the abnormal condition in the country, and that complete neutralisation would lead to a vicious circle, viz., a rise in the total emolument of an industrial worker which would in its turn bring about a rise in the prices which again would force a rise in the total emolument of an industrial worker. The rate of dearness allowance at present paid by the Company is already higher than the rates current in similar newspaper undertakings, and also in the presses generally. With the basic wages of Rs. 27 per month, the dearness allowance of Rs. 37 per month, which the Company has agreed to pay to others, neutralises nearly 75 per cent. of the rise in the cost of living, taking the cost of living index figure to be 382 as in June 1951, when the revised charter of demands, on which the present claim is based, was made, provided the canteen allowance of Rs. 13, which is a permanent feature, be considered an addition to the present basic wages. Regard must also be had to the amenities and privileges given by the Company to its workers as already mentioned. I am unable, therefore, to accept the claim of dearness allowance at Rs. 55 per month. I direct that dearness allowance be paid at the rate of Rs. 37 per month for the workers of the lower subordinate staff with effect from January 1951, just as in the case of others with whom there has been an amicable settlement.

Issue No. 6.—(a) Bonus. (b) Whether withholding of bonus for 1950, payable in 1951, was justified?

The Association demands one month's pay as bonus. It is contended that one month's pay has been paid by the Company as Pujah bonus from 1943 up to 1950, irrespective of profits, and this payment of bonus has become one of the conditions of employment in the Company. So, the withholding of bonus for the year 1950 was unjustified, its payment not depending upon profits made by the Company. The Company has stated in its reply that it has as a gesture of goodwill to its staff paid Pujah bonus which, over the years, has fluctuated in accordance with the Company's trading position. For example, in the years 1936, 1937, 1938 and 1940 this bonus was paid at a quarter of a month's pay. With improved trading conditions, this was increased to half of one month's pay in 1941 and to one month's pay in 1943, and in succeeding years up to 1950. In 1950 the Company suffered a loss unprecedented in its history and it is almost certain that another substantial loss would be shown in 1951. The Company contends that bonus cannot be paid out of loss, and the demand for bonus for the year 1950 payable in 1951 cannot be sustained. The Association's statement that the Company has hitherto paid one month's wages as bonus, irrespective of profit and loss, is not thus borne out. The payment of bonus was dependent on profit and the amount of bonus paid in the past was determined according to the amount of profit made by the Company in its business in different years. The Company has produced its balance-sheet for the year 1950 showing a loss to the tune of Rs. 2,78,769. The correctness of the audited balance-sheet of the Company has not been challenged. It is the basic principle that bonus is paid from the profit of the year under claim. Profits made in the previous years or expected to be made in future are irrelevant for the purpose of determining whether the industry is able to bear the burden for the year under claim, and if so, to what extent. The Company's balance-sheet for the year 1951 was not complete at the time of hearing, but the Company apprehended that there would be a loss in that year also. I am accordingly to hold that the workers are not entitled to claim bonus for the year 1950, and the withholding of bonus for 1950, payable in 1951, was justified.

Issue No. 3.—Method of recruitment.

The demand under this head is that preference should be given to the relations of employees retired or in service at the time of recruitment; and in the matter of appointment to the higher grades, promotions from the lower grades should be the rule. The Company's reply is that in recruitment to the Company's staff, preferential consideration has always been given to applications from relations of employees and former employees, and the Company has a particularly impressive record in this respect. With [illegible] demand for promotions from lower grades the Company states [illegible] generally observed in practice, but the management cannot agree [illegible] in service being the sole criterion for promotion. I accept the contention that ability and merit must also be taken into consideration, and final decision in all cases must rest with the Company. After this the Association did not press their claim under this head generally. The only point pressed on behalf of the lower subordinate staff is that vacancies in the post of Inspectors should be filled in by promotion from the subordinate staff. The Company is opposed to this claim principally on the ground that it would be most inequitable to promote a peon to the post of an Inspector, and the peons themselves would object to such promotions. The Company employs about 90 delivery peons whose duties are divided in two sections. In the early morning they take out and sell copies of the "Statesman" on which they receive a commission of 25 per cent. in addition to the emoluments and other allowances available to them. During office hours they are expected to perform various office and delivery duties, though in recent years, the Company alleges, these duties have not been carried out satisfactorily. Their additional earnings based on average monthly commission on the sale of papers only, amount to more than Rs. 175 per month, as has been shown in Annexure B to the Company's written statement. Some of them earn as much as Rs. 500, some within Rs. 350 and Rs. 400, and some between Rs. 250 and Rs. 300 as detailed in the said Annexure. It is possible that these delivery peons would hesitate to accept promotions to the post of Inspectors. Neither party has however placed before me any analysis of the duties to be performed by an Inspector to enable me to judge whether a peon on promotion will be able to perform the duties assigned to the post of an Inspector. So, I think I should leave the matter in the hands of the management with this recommendation that if any member of the subordinate staff be found fit for appointment to the post of an Inspector, when vacancies in such posts occur, the management should give its best consideration to the claim of such a member for promotion, it being the Company's avowed principle, as expressed in its written statement, that there should be no bar to any promising young man progressing through various stages to the highest position in his particular line of work.

Issue No. 4.—Hours of work.

The demand under this head is 42 hours a week, including recess, which is the accepted hours of work for all workers in other departments. The Company is not willing to concede to a 42 hours' working week including recess, though it is agreeable to a 48 hours' working week including a half-hour daily recess for members of the day staff, and 45 hours including a half-hour recess for those on night duty. Although the office commences at 9-30 a.m., the delivery peons among the peon staff who work in rearer beats attend office at 10 a.m., and those who work in distant beats come to office at 11-30 a.m. So, the Company contends that co-ordination is very very difficult in the matter of fixing uniform hours of work amongst these groups. It is pointed out by the Company that at any rate the members of the sub-staff have not to work more than 45 hours a week. Forty-five hours a week is the generally accepted period of work for the subordinate staff in almost all other concerns. I am not satisfied that any case has been made out for reduction of the working hours to 42 hours a week for the subordinate staff of this Company. The existing working hours will continue for the subordinate staff.

Issue No. 5.—Leave.

Leave demanded by the Association is as follows:—

(1) One month's privilege leave; (2) ten days' casual leave; and fifteen days' sick leave; with pay and other allowances.

For the subordinate staff the Company's existing leave rules provide for 24 days per annum with pay, and also 24 days per annum without pay, out of which 4 days are paid for if the individual returns to duty in time. They are also entitled to get 14 days' medical leave with pay. Casual leave is not generally granted to the members of the subordinate staff. No special claim for such leave has been made out in this case. The Company grants leave with pay practically for 28 days a year, to those who return to duty in time, besides medical leave for 14 days with pay. No change in the existing system of leave is, in my judgment, necessary for the subordinate staff. The demand on this head is rejected.

Issue No. 8.—(a) What should be the rates of pay payable to those who are required to work on the four Pujah days and on 12 other Government gazetted holidays? (b) Whether the existing condition of regular attendance which qualifies for Pujah payment should remain in force or not?

The existing practice is that 10 days beforehand a list is published naming the persons who will be required to work on 4 days during the Pujah holidays. According to the Association those who are required to work on 4 Pujah days are paid 4 days' pay and given some compensatory leave in lieu of those 4 days. The Association demands that the existing system of issuing 10 days' notice beforehand is to be withdrawn and those attending during those 4 days should be paid double for that period. If the Association's contention that those working on 4 Pujah days are paid nothing more than their ordinary pay for those days be correct the demand for double rate for those days is not unreasonable because the compensatory leave granted is really no consideration for the deprivation of the Pujah festival forced upon them. But the Company maintains that owing to the necessity of continuous publication, certain members of the staff in Production Departments could not be granted 4 days' holidays at the time of the Pujahs, and by way of compensation they were granted a bonus being equivalent to 4 days' pay. If this bonus is an extra payment in addition to the usual pay for the 4 days of the Pujah holidays, it amounts to double payment which the Association is contending for, and no further direction need be made in this respect. If, however, the 4 days' Pujah bonus, as it is called by the Company, is not an extra payment in addition to the usual pay of 4 days for the 4 Pujah holidays, I will direct that the Company should pay those workers who may be detained on duty during the 4 Pujah holidays, their usual pay for those days in addition to the Pujah bonus paid for those days, so that they may be paid at the rate of double their pay for the period of their detention for work during those 4 days.

I understand that the system of issuing 10 days' notice beforehand was introduced with the idea that the workers had to attend regularly for that period to qualify for the 4 days' Pujah bonus, as otherwise the required men might not be available for work during those 4 days. Nothing has been said on behalf of the Association for total abolition of the system which is not altogether unreasonable from one point of view at least. The period of regular attendance has since been reduced by the Company to 8 days under the agreement made with the workers who have amicably settled their disputes with the Company. Accordingly I reduce the period of 8 days from 10 days. This is my award relating to 4 days' Pujah payment and the condition of regular attendance attached thereto.

The second part of the issue No. 8(a) relates to what is known as "annual payment" by both parties. Round about the close of the year the Company makes a special payment which is not dependent on [illegible] of the basic pay is treated as accumulated dearness allowance and is paid to the employees of the Company. This means 60 per cent. of a month's pay or equivalent to 18 days' pay. In addition to this, the Company also pays to all workers 12 days' pay and dearness allowance by way of compensation, since the employees of the "Statesman" do not get the benefit of normal gazetted holidays, numbering 12 days. In this way the Company is paying one month's pay extra for the 12 days' gazetted holidays of which its employees are deprived. The demand on this head is that for those 12 gazetted holidays the workers should get at double the rate of pay and dearness allowance. Practically the workers have already been getting double pay for those 12 days, since they receive their full normal monthly pay, and also 12 days' additional pay at the end of the year. Furthermore, 18 days' pay is paid to them by the Company as a general grant. No further claim on account of the 12 gazetted holidays can be justified. The demand on this head is rejected.

Issue No. 9.—Quarters and winter clothings for the subordinate staff.

The Association demands that quarters should be provided for the subordinate staff, or in lieu thereof, Rs. 15 per month should be paid to those entitled to quarters. The Company takes the stand that it is in no obligation to provide free quarters. There is some truth in this contention because it has been generally accepted that to provide quarters to the workmen is not the exclusive responsibility of the industries. The Company, however, allows certain members of the subordinate staff to reside in the Company's premises, and in its opinion, there is sufficient space for those members of the staff concerned who are required to stay in the Company's premises. But, it is pointed out that the members of the Company's subordinate staff, who live in the Company's premises bring in their friends and relatives who are not members of the staff, and thereby cause overcrowding. The Company has hitherto asked for co-operation of the staff through the Union to stop overcrowding by disallowing outsiders residing in the premises. The Company believes that the problem of accommodation may be solved with the co-operation of the members of the subordinate staff who live in the Company's premises. On behalf of the Association it has been pointed out that a worker who has to attend his duty at 4 a.m. or thereabout has to come at night before the stoppage of buses and tram cars, and stay in the premises of the Company during the whole night. In a way such workers as are required to attend in the early morning are accommodated in the Company's premises besides those who have been allowed to reside in these premises. I do not think that the Company should be required in its present circumstances to provide accommodation for all the members of the subordinate staff, or pay them house rent in lieu thereof.

Inspectors and jamadars of the Company are given winter clothing and this should be extended to the members of the subordinate staff, is the demand made by the Association. Members of the subordinate staff are given two sets of hot weather uniforms every year. The jamadars and the Inspectors receive warm coats for the winter. All members of the subordinate staff who receive hot weather uniforms also get warm woollen jerseys for use during the cold weather. I consider that warm woollen jersey gives adequate protection against the Calcutta cold weather. The Company says that the jamadars and the Inspectors are given warm coats only to distinguish them from the members of the subordinate staff. In the circumstances the claim for similar warm clothings to the members of the subordinate staff can hardly be accepted.

Issue No. 10.—Medical expenses.

The Company maintains a well-equipped dispensary in its premises in charge of an experienced Compounder paid by the Company. The dispensary is attended by a qualified doctor for fixed periods twice daily. The claim that the Company should appoint a Residential Medical Officer for 24 hours or make some arrangement for attending the workers during day and night, in spite of the fact that medical assistance is available in the Company's dispensary and also outside in the city, seems to me extravagant. I do not think any change is necessary in the arrangement which the Company has made for giving necessary medical help to its employees.

Issue No. 11.—Whether withholding of annual increments was justified?

The only available explanation for withholding annual increment appears to be that the Company sustained loss in 1950 and apprehended incurring loss in 1951 also. But annual increments form part of the wages earned, and they are payable, just as wages are payable for the routine work done irrespective of the question of profit or loss of the employer. The decision to withhold payment of annual increments cannot be justified on the ground of actual loss or apprehended loss in a particular year which is more or less a temporary phase of the Company's trading position. In its agreement with the general body of workers the Company has made a provision for payment of annual increments on the usual scale for the year 1951 subject to the maximum of the grades. I direct that annual increments should also be granted to the members of the subordinate staff for the year 1951 at the Company's existing rates of increment. The payment herein directed is to be made within a month of the award coming into operation.

Issue No. 2.—Reorganisation of the existing peon staff, if necessary.

The Company raised this issue by Annexure B to its written statement. It has been suggested that the peons who sell copies of the "Statesman" and earn commissions of 25 per cent. in addition to their other emoluments should have the choice of earning their livelihood as hawkers of the morning paper (terminating their employment as salary-paid peons of the Company), or continue in the service of the Company on a salary basis on office duty only and give up selling papers in beats now allotted to them. The Company contends that unless that is done, definite conditions should be laid down for continuance of the system now in force as suggested in the said annexure. I am afraid, this is not a dispute covered by the reference for adjudication. No such dispute had ever been raised by the Company by placing before the workers concerned or their Union or Association a definite proposal for reorganisation of the existing peon staff before the reference was made for adjudication of the dispute raised by the employees of the "Statesman". The question of reorganisation of the existing peon staff was not a part of the charter of demands submitted by the employees, and it was not a dispute raised by the employees themselves which was referred for adjudication by the Tribunal. So the point of dispute that has been raised by the Company does not come under the scope of adjudication proceedings. The point has been dropped altogether in the terms of settlement offered by the Company and accepted by the majority of its workers. So the issue No. 2 relating to reorganisation of the peon staff does not call for any decision in this case. The issue is accordingly left undecided.

For employees other than the members of the subordinate staff whose case is to be governed by my award as above made, I make an award on the basis of the mutual agreement entered into between them and the Company in terms of the memorandum of amicable settlement which is to form part of the award as Appendix A. The resolution dated the 23rd February 1952, which was passed by the Statesman Employees' Union accepting the terms of settlement as in Appendix A hereto annexed, and which was adopted by the employees of various departments of the Company numbering 773, is incorporated in this award as Appendix B.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shamnagar Jute Factory Co., Ltd. (Sealy), Shamnagar, 24-Parganas [Managing Agents—Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India), Ltd., 3, Clive Row, Calcutta] and their mistries, masons, oilers and coolies as represented by the Jute Workers' Federation, 35B, Wellington Street, Calcutta, regarding the following issue:—

Whether in view of the curtailment of production hours from 48 hours to 42½ hours per week, the mistries should continue to work 48 hours or the Management are justified in calling as many mistries as required by them to do maintenance work on Saturdays, i.e., beyond the normal mill hours of 42½ hours per week?

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri R. M. Sen Gupta, Labour Adviser and Sri M. M. Ghose, Deputy Labour Adviser of Indian Jute Mill Association, assisted by Mr. W. H. Jacks, Chief Labour Officer of the Company.

For the Federation: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, assisted by Sri P. Ghose, General Secretary of the Federation.

AWARD.

The above dispute has been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, by order No. 1272Dis., dated the 19th May 1952, for adjudication.

The case of the Jute Workers' Federation is that the Company had been working 42½ hours a week from the 10th December 1951. Before that, the ıpany was working 48 hours a week and the mistries, oilers, masons coolies used to complete 48 hours during the scheduled working hours of ıe mills and they also used to get double wages for overtime work beyond the normal working hours. It is alleged that while the running repair work is attended by the mistries, etc., during the normal working hours of the mills, the maintenance work is done by them outside the mill hours and the whole complement of mistries, etc., would be required to clean, oil and overhaul the machines during the idle hours. It is alleged that after the 10th December 951, the Company served notice upon the mistries and others indicating that every Saturday outside the mill hours, the Company would employ a part the complement of mistries, etc., to do the maintenance work, which was hemently opposed by the mistries, etc. The Workers' Federation opposed ıe idea of employing only a part of the complement on every Saturday morning and prayed that the whole complement of mistries and not a part only should be employed on Saturdays. They also addressed a letter to the Labour Commissioner on 3rd May 1952 stating that if all the mistries and others are offered jobs on Saturday morning, then and then only they would work otherwise none would join. The negotiations were started for conciliation, but to no effect. The following issue thereafter had been sent to this Tribunal for adjudication:—

(1) Whether in view of the curtailment of production hours from 48 hours to 42½ hours per week, the mistries should continue to work 48 hours or the Management are justified in calling as many mistries as required by them to do maintenance work on Saturdays, i.e., beyond the normal mill hours of 42½ hours per week?

The Company submits a written statement alleging that the curtailment of production hours from 48 to 42½ hours had been effected from 31st March 1952 (not on 10th December 1951 as alleged by the Union). It is alleged that prior to 31st March 1952 when the mill was working a 48 hour week, mistries and other categories of workmen worked the normal mill hours applicable to other mill operatives. As, however, maintenance work is absolutely essential when the mill machineries remain idle, the Company found it necessary to employ only such number of mistries, oilers, coolies, etc., as are required outside the normal working hours and the workmen so employed were paid wages for overtime work in accordance with the Factories Act.

Since the curtailment of production hours, the Company continued this practice of employing only the required complement of mistries and other categories of workmen for maintenance work on Saturdays, i.e., beyond the normal 42½ hours production week when the machinery was idle. The mistries and others insisted that they would not work unless a full complement of mistries together with other workmen mentioned above were brought in for Saturday work, irrespective of the requirements of the Company.

Reading the written statement of the Union as also of the Company it is seen that the mistries, etc., are insisting through their Union in this case that the Management should employ the full complement—work or no work on Saturdays. It is a patent fact that running repairs and ordinary maintenance are carried out during normal mill working hours, when the full complement is required. Only such maintenance and essential work which cannot be done except when the machinery is idle, is done outside mill working hours and for this work a part of the crew is required. The question is whether the Company is bound to engage the full complement of mistries on Saturdays as insisted on by the Union. The argument advanced by the Union is that when the mill was working 42½ hours a week, the Company had required service of all the mistries, oilers, masons and coolies for 48 hours a week. In other words, if there was necessity of carrying on maintenance and essential work during idle period at that time, i.e., when the mills were working 42½ hours a week by requisitioning the services of the full complement, why the full complement should not be now necessary when the mill is again working 42½ hours a week. It is idle to speculate now what are the factors that contributed to such a state of thing. The question is if the Management is to be dictated by the workers regarding the number of staff to be employed or is the Management the sole Judge to decide what should be the complement or cadre of the staff. The only rational answer is that it is the Management who should be the sole Judge in determining the strength of the complement. It is common sense to think that when a person requires four hands for a particular work why should there be a persistent demand to appoint 12 by a Union or Federation when there is absolutely no necessity of the service of so many. It is not only unreasonable but preposterously an arrogant attitude on the part of the workers to force the Management and to tie their hands in a matter in which according to the principles of equity, good conscience and rational principles, the Management should be the sole Judge. The workers unfortunately in this case were so unreasonably arrogant that even in spite of the situation being explained to their representatives both by the Management and the Labour Commissioner, they persisted in their refusal to work on Saturday unless all the mistries and general workers were brought in. It is reported that "such was the stand" taken by the mistries that they would not agree to even the boiler mistries reporting for duty on Saturdays in spite of the fact that lack of proper maintenance of boilers might have resulted in a serious break down of boilers with irreparable damage to mill machinery and possible danger to the water supply of the whole of the Garulia Municipality which depended on the mill for this service.

There would have been some reason and some sanity if the reason advanced by the workers for employment of full complement had been that by not employing the full complement, the workload on the employed staff on Saturdays becomes heavy. That is not their case. Their grievance is more imaginary than real, as will be apparent now.

Let us read that the witness Prafulla Kumar Choudhury, the Turner, says, "By employing lesser contingent, all the repair works necessary for looms cannot be done with the result that some looms remain idle and the workers next day take us to task". This is simply puerile. It is in the interest of the Management to see that the repair work is properly done and that the running of the looms is quite in order. Nobody acts against his own interest and it is absurd to suppose that the Management willingly is not employing full strength in order that the work is not fully completed or half completed. The Union is not in a position to say if new machineries have since been indented when the mill was working 48 hours or what was the condition of the machineries earlier when full strength was employed. In any view of the matter the stand taken by the workers cannot be justified and I want to make it clear that it is the Management and Management alone that should be the sole Judge to decide the strength or cadre of the workers and it is not for anybody else or an outsider to dictate the number of men necessary for a particular job. The Second Jute Tribunal avoided the question of standardisation of wages and workload presumably on the principle that it is a highly technical matter in which the Tribunal is quite incompetent to pass an opinion.

It is alleged that there had been an Award by Mr. Modak in which he had directed that full complement of mistries, etc., should be employed on Saturday. This is wrong, for in reading the Award of Mr. Modak in Shamnagar South and three other Jute Mills it is quite clear that this issue was not raised there. The issue before Mr. Modak was—

> "Should the working hours of mistries, masons, mason-coolies, oilers, khalasis and General Department coolies be 8 hours for 6 days in a week on the shift system? If not what should be the fair working hours".

Mr. Modak was not called upon to decide what should be the cadre of mistries, etc.

The Management's right to determine the number of mistries required for maintenance work beyond the normal mill hours was never agitated before that Tribunal. In my opinion, the Company is amply justified in calling the required number of mistries and other workmen to do the maintenance work on Saturdays beyond the normal mill hours of 42½ hours per week in view of the curtailment of production hours from 48 to 42½ hours per week. I also want to make it clear that even if the Company reverts to 48 hours a week or to hour lesser than 42½ hours a week in future, they still will be under no obligation to appoint the full complement of mistries and other workers on Saturday beyond the normal mill hours. In other words the Company is free and will always be free to determine the strength of the mistries, etc.

In conclusion I am sorry to find that the Union has taken a wrong and unreasonable attitude and they have been illadvised and misguided in the matter. I hope they will take the award in proper spirit and further hope that there may not be any trouble on this point in future. If in future, however, the workers take up this unreasonably arrogant attitude and refuse to work if the full complement is not engaged, the Company will be at liberty to take such steps against them as they think fit and proper in the matter.

I, therefore, answer the issue as follows:—

(1) The mistries should continue to work only 42½ hours per week and not 48 hours normally.

(2) Beyond the normal working hours of 42½ hours per week as many mistries as are necessary in the judgment of the Management should be employed to do maintenance work on Saturdays, i.e., beyond the normal mill hours of 42½ hours per week.

I make my Award accordingly.

ORDER.

No. 2129Dis./D/15L-1(A)/52.—7th August 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 835Dis./D/15L-1(A)/52, dated the 17th April 1952, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Burmah Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., Hongkong House, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, and their clerical employees employed in the Calcutta industrial area represented by Burmah Shell Employees' Association, Hongkong House, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Burmah Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., Hongkong House, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, and their clerical employees employed in the Calcutta industrial area as represented by Burmah Shell Employees' Association, Hongkong House, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel, Sri D. Basu Thakur, Attorney-at-Law of Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors. Sri Charangiba, Staff Manager of the Company.

For the Union: Sri N. Dey, Counsel, Sri B. K. Chowdhury, Counsel, Sri S. N. Tagore, President of the Union.

AWARD.

The above industrial dispute had been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 835Dis./D/15L-1(A)/52, dated the 17th April 1952, for adjudication on the following issues:—

(1) Bonus for the years 1947 and 1948.

(2) Claim for additional bonus for 1950.

The case of the Union is that Burmah Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., with other three Companies, viz., Caltex, Standard Vacuum and I.B.P., has the exclusive control of business in petroleum and its products among other places in the State of West Bengal, and this Company controls about 65 per cent. of the said business.

Prior to 1946, the Company used to pay its clerks salary of 9/10th of a month as bonus in the year; but instead of paying it in cash, the Company used to credit the same in the Provident Fund account of each individual clerk.

There were inequalities of pay and other conditions amongst different branches of the Company's workmen in different provinces and the Company with a view to remove these inequalities set up the Brunt Commission in or about 1947. Pursuant to a report of Brunt Commission made some time in December 1947, the Company abolished the system of bonus as from January 1947. Dissatisfied with existing terms and conditions of service, the Association by its letter, dated 21st March 1949, put forward its demands to the Company, which are as follows:—

> "Most of the leading mercantile firms, offering similar, and in a few cases even better terms of service than we are now putting forward for sanction, grant a bonus ranging from one to four months' pay depending on the profits earned. We therefore demand a minimum of a month's pay as bonus at the Poojah time, and even greater than this amount depending on the profits earned by the Company. In making this demand, we have of course taken into consideration the benefits of the Pension Scheme lately introduced by the Company in place of the bonus of 7½ per cent. of the annual basic salary (equal to 9/10ths of a month's salary) which had been credited to the Provident Fund accounts up to 1946. Compared with large cash bonuses stated above, our Company's Pension Scheme pales into insignificance."

The Company having failed to implement the above demands, the dispute was referred to Sri A. Das Gupta for adjudication by Order of Reference, dated 19th August 1949. A similar dispute between the Company and its workmen at Bombay was by an Order of Reference, dated 5th March 1949, referred by the appropriate Government for adjudication to Sri I. G. Thakore, who by his award published in September 1949, inter alia directed that the clerical staff should be paid bonus equivalent to 5/24ths of their annual basic earnings for the year 1947 and a bonus equivalent to 1/8th of the annual basic earnings for the year 1948. As a result of adjudication the clerical staff of the Company have been awarded as bonus basic salary for two months for the year 1949.

As a result of adjudication by the Appellate Court at Bombay the clerical staff of the Company at Madras were awarded the same bonus for the years 1947, 1948 and 1949 as the clerical staff of the Company at Bombay.

By his award, dated 2nd February 1950, Sri Das Gupta made an award that the Company should pay each and every clerk 1/12th of his basic yearly earnings as bonus for the years 1949 and 1950. The said award of Sri Das

Gupta was in force for the period of one year and it expired some time about February 1950.

On or about 2nd July 1951, the Association submitted a fresh charter of demands at Calcutta including amongst other claims a claim for bonus. Relevant portion of the said charter of demands is set out hereunder:—

1947	.. ..	4 months' salary.
1948	.. ..	4 months' salary.
1949	.. ..	8 months' salary (4 months' salary less one month received in October 1950).
1950	.. ..	4 months' salary.

In or about December 1951, the Association accepted certain offer of the Company in full and final settlement of all the demands contained in the said charter of demands, dated 2nd July 1951, other than the demand for bonus, and it was agreed that the demand for bonus should be referred to the Tribunal for adjudication.

The Company appears and files a written statement denying the allegations that this Company and three other Oil Companies mentioned in the Association's written statement have the exclusive control of business in petroleum and its products in the State of West Bengal. The business of import, storage and distribution of petroleum products is carried on in the State of West Bengal by a large number of other Companies as will be seen from Annexure A to the written statement. The Company further asserts that the bonus (equal to 7½ per cent. of annual basic salary) was never paid in cash but was credited to the Provident Fund accounts of the staff concerned and that its Pension Scheme is more expensive than the bonus credited prior to 1st January 1947.

The Company opposes the idea of following Bombay and Madras awards, as it affirms that it should be guided by regional basis according to local practice, which view was given expression to by Sri Das Gupta in his award relating to the clerical staff of the Company in Calcutta.

The Company further urges that the claim of further bonus for the year 1950 is not maintainable inasmuch as the said award is still in force and has not been terminated either by the Association or by the Company.

The Company further submits that it is preferable and prudent to remunerate its employees by the payment of salary and dearness allowance and the grant of other benefits and facilities so that the total remuneration represents an adequate return for the work performed by them and that such total remuneration does not require to be supplemented by any additional bonus, as the total emolument more than satisfies the living wages.

Before I take up the issues, it is necessary to discuss the principles on which bonus is awarded. It has been held by numerous authorities that a bonus is a payment made by the industry to supplement the earnings of workmen whose wages have not reached the standard of living wages. In awarding bonus therefore, the first and foremost question is if the employees are getting living wages or more than living wages. The employees naturally expect some more creative comfort and a decent standard of living and when the wages fall short of that, bonus is given to supplement the gap so created. This Company has all along paid one month's bonus and so far as the year 1949 is concerned, one month's bonus had already been given by the award of Sri Das Gupta. After the Bombay award (which granted two months' bonus) came into existence, a revised demand has been set up claiming bonus of further three months' salary for the year 1949.

The claim of additional bonus for three months for 1949 after Bombay award, though subject-matter in the charter of demands, had been kept out of the order of reference, and as such, I am not called upon to adjudicate the same.

I am only called upon to adjudicate the claim of additional bonus for the years 1947-48 and for 1950. The Union claimed four months' salary for each of these years as bonus. They claimed this bonus as at Bombay branch of Burmah Shell, the award of Sri Thakore granted two months' bonus, which had been ratified on appeal and at Madras similar bonus for two months for clerical staff had been awarded. They also urged that in Caltex at Calcutta they got three months' basic salary as bonus for 1950 awarded by the Appellate Tribunal. Sri Das Gupta at Calcutta granted three months' basic salary as bonus for 1950 in Standard Vacuum Oil Company.

The main pillar of argument on the part of the employees is that the sister Companies like Standard Vacuum, Caltex and other branches of Burmah Shell at Madras and Bombay are paying higher bonus and this should be a standard on which the bonus at Calcutta branch should be brought on a par with the rates of bonus granted outside this province by this Company and their sister concerns. So far as comparison of the sister concerns with the present Company is concerned, I must say that this comparison cannot be allowed on any good principles of justice and equity. Each Company is a separate unit, having separate conditions of service and separate financial gains or loss, and the case of each Company should be judged separately. Similarly, the scales of wages, bonus and conditions of service should be determined regionwise than on industrywise. Sri Das Gupta had been invited to decide the question of bonus on the precedents of Bombay and Madras awards, but that contention had been turned down in his award relating to the very clerical staff of the Company, and Sri Das Gupta had been pleased to observe as follows to which I fully agree:—

> "Where a question arises as to whether this should be determined on industrywise or on a regionwise basis answer should be that wages and other conditions of service should be determined on a region basis. This is quite rational inasmuch as wages and dearness allowances are fixed on the living index prevalent in a particular place and naturally differ from province to province. Living index in Calcutta is quite different from the living index of Bombay and Madras, and as such it would not be prudent to adopt the wage scale on a industry basis."

I, therefore, do not feel inclined to engraft the decision regarding bonus by Bombay and Madras Tribunals in Standard Vacuum or Caltex on Burmah Shell.

Moreover, the Company had an early Pension Scheme for male members of Indian Provident Fund, the intention being to provide more security for old age of members of staff to the Indian Provident Fund by a definite scheme offering greater security under a non-contributory Pension Scheme. Accordingly, the contribution in lieu of bonus had been paid by the Company and as such the claim of bonus for 1947 and 1948 must be rejected.

Regarding claim of bonus for years 1947 and 1948, there had been a claim in Union's written statement, dated 5th September 1949, before Sri Das Gupta previously. This claim was rejected and cannot now be revived and agitated afresh. Moreover, claim for past years' bonus cannot on principle be allowed as the budget and finances were all previously adjusted and granting of earlier bonus of three or four years will create difficulty in adjusting the budgets.

It is also significant that in the charter of demands in March 1949, there had been no demand for bonus of 1947-48, presumably because the above position was accepted and contribution by the Company in lieu of bonus to the Provident Fund had been accepted without demur.

On the question of back period bonus, the findings of the Appellate Tribunal in the Caltex award may be quoted. There the bonus for the years 1946 to 1948 had been paid by the Company at the rate of one month's bonus, but the Union later on claimed additional bonus for those years. On this the Appellate Tribunal observed as follows:—

> "The bonus paid for the years 1946 to 1948 was accepted by the employees voluntarily and without demur at the time. Later on, by awards given by the Bombay Tribunal, bonus at higher rates were allowed for these years to the Company's employees at Bombay. This led to the belated demand for more bonus for those years by the employees of the Calcutta branch made on the 5th November 1949, which was placed before the Conciliation Officer. Although that demand was made almost at the colse of the year 1949, there was no demand then for the bonus for the year 1949. The bonus for the year 1949 at one month's basic wages was thereafter offered by the Company and was accepted without any protest, nor was there a demand for more at the time when the bonus was offered and accepted. It was only on the 3rd August 1950, that demand for three months' basic wages as bonus for 1949 was made. On that date the demand for bonus for 1950 also was made at six months' basic wages. On these facts we do not see how there can be any scope for an industrial dispute for the years 1946 to 1949." (Appellate Tribunal, Calcutta, 335/51.)

I shall now come to the merits of the application. The pay scale of this Company appears very favourable when compared to many other leading industrial firms and mercantile offices and Government offices, as the following chart will show:—

	Pay.	Dearness allowance.	House Rent allowance.	Other allowances.	Bonus.	Total.
	Rs..	Rs. a.	Rs.	Rs. a.	Rs. a.	Rs. a.

*Not paid by all concerns.

It is also apparent that this Company has all along been favourably disposed towards the demands of the employees and they sympathetically allowed increment to the workers from time to time and that there had been increments from 1949 to 1952 gradually and steadily. In the following table this will be amply evident:—

Average monthly remuneration of clerical staff of Burmah Shell for Calcutta Industrial area.

		Average dearness allowance ..	128	0	(C.L.I. 382).

It is also very good of the Company that the very recent charter of demands, dated 14th November 1951, regarding revision of scales of wages had been well-considered by the management and the terms had been settled amicably on almost all the points excepting the question of bonus on which the matter had been referred to this Tribunal. The Company could not agree, presumably because the claim was preposterous and no less surprising and it would have created a dangerous precedent if the claim once made in the past and adjudicated upon be subsequently revived and made a fresh subject of industrial dispute. In civil law there is such a thing as res judicata and finality in litigation, which I must say is as old as the law itself. Similarly, there should be an end and a finality in industrial dispute too. As an arbitrator settling industrial dispute, I must discourage such sorts of receiving demands which are clearly an afterthought. The Union has made this additional demand simply because Bombay award was lavishly generous and they thought that they have been losers in the last battle.

Now I shall examine if the wage paid by the Company barely satisfied the needs of the employees regarding food or cloth, or it leaves some balance for amenities. I have already shown that the pay of Burmah Shell compares very favourably with many first class commercial firms of Calcutta. Moreover, dearness allowance is paid fully to the point and is much higher than Bombay dearness allowance, as the following chart will show:—

Comparative statement of dearness allowance of clerical employees of Burmah Shell.

Regarding Provident Fund and Pension Scheme at Calcutta, Burmah Shell's terms are more favourable than the other two sister concerns—Caltex and Standard Vacuum Oil Company—on which the employees have so much relied.

I shall next consider if the payment of bonus for one month in this concern is sufficient. Bonus, as already observed, is paid to fill up the gap between the actual and living wages which are not sufficient to meet actual necessities and some amenities. On a comparison of the pay scale of this concern, it will be quite apparent that this Company is paying higher emolument than that recommended by the Central Pay Commission, or which is paid by Bengal Chamber of Commerce, Jute Industry, Engineering Industry, Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation and Calcutta Tramways. So, in this case they are having a decent wage which not only meet their actual requirements but leave much room for other amenities of life. Considering along with this the claim of Provident Fund and Pension Scheme, I think there is little scope for argument that there is any gap to be filled up in the case of these clerks. Even assuming that there is such a gap, it is sufficiently compensated by the payment of one month's wages at the Puja time when every Hindu home has to make extra expenses for some purchases. The Company has paid bonus at the rate of one month's salary during Puja time in 1950. No further claim can be entertained. The claim of bonus for 1947 and 1948 is also turned down for reasons already discussed.

The next point of investigation will be if the clerks are getting living wages in this concern. Living wage is always determined on the strength of national income. Mr. Justice Divatia in award of Bank Employees, published in the extraordinary issue of the Bombay Gazette of 9th April 1947, held as follows:—

> "The expenditure of a middle class family has generally been accepted to be 80 per cent. higher than a worker's family. Calculated by this standard, the minimum basic monthly salary of a clerk should be Rs. 54."

But here the minimum basic salary of a clerk is Rs. 80 per month. In this connection, the following observations of the Pay Commission in pages 31 and 32 of the Report is relevant:—

> "Dr. Gopal thinks that a minimum wage of Rs. 40 per mensem will be justified only when the per capita national income reaches Rs. 135 per annum, which according to him is not likely to be before 1960. In the meanwhile, he would progressively fix the minimum at Rs. 30 for 1950 and Rs. 35 for 1955."

Even according to this observation, the proper wage for a middle class family would be Rs. 44 for 1950, as already enunciated by Justice Divatia. All this clearly shows that the clerical staff here are fortunate to get basic minimum monthly salary of Rs. 80 which is based on what had been found to be more than fair under present national condition and economic condition of the country. Over and above this, the Company is paying dearness allowance to meet every rise in price index; whereas generally 80 per cent. of the industry are not able to compensate every rise in the cost of living index point by point. That being so, the payment of one month's Puja bonus must be deemed to be quite sufficient and proper in the circumstances. Bonus is awarded on the principle that the deficiency between actual living wages is to be filled up, but in this case no such question arises. Therefore, I may venture to say that any further bonus in this case must be deemed to be an ex gratia payment. Bonus is not a wage. Payment of bonus does not rest on contract, but still payment of bonuses are made not because legally due, but which parties do not contemplate continuing indefinitely where goal of living wage had been fixed—Per Lord Birkenhead in Satan vs. Attorney General, 1924 T.L.R.

To sum up, the Company in this case is paying a decent living wage and is paying dearness allowance fully to the point to meet the rise in living index. The demand of four months' bonus in this case sounds something like profit-sharing bonus. Simply because the Company earned huge profits bonus should also be claimed in tune with that profit, this cannot be allowed. This would be certainly unfair to the employers.

It is difficult to imagine how much these clerks had contributed substantially to the making of the profit. Judging the wage standard, dearness allowance, Provident Fund Scheme, Pension Scheme, which compare favourably with many other leading concers in this province, I must say that any further grant of bonus cannot be entertained except on the maxim "the more the merrier". In this connection, I am tempted to quote the observations of the Planning Commission, which had been set up by the Government of India to formulate policies for the development of wealth and resources and improvement of the economic conditions in the country and which enunciated the important point of principle that "any upward movement of wage at this juncture will further jeopardise the economic stability of the country if it is reflected in cost of production and consequently will raise the price of the product. It is therefore suggested that increase in wages should be avoided except to remove anomalies or where the existing rates are abnormally low". The Commission further observed that "betterment of standard of living and further advance of living wages can be achieved only through a fall in the prices, and increase in the productivity of labour or an improvement in the capacity of the industry to pay, brought about through various measures of rationalisation of industry as well as renewal or modernisation of plants". I, therefore, hold that the award of any bonus higher than that already paid by the Company when their employees' other remuneration is not either abnormally low or anomalous but rather fairly very high, will not be in conformity with the Planning Commission's well-considered statement of principle which have been made in the national interest.

I conclude my award with the observation of the Fair Wages Committee: "It must be stated at the outset that any attempt to evolve principles of governing the fixation of wages must be made against the background of general economic condition of the country and the level of national income. Capacity of a particular industry to pay is not the only governing principle to raise the wages". This is quite in consonance with what the celebrated politician Jethrow Brown once observed: "I have already said that such needs cannot be interpreted without reference to national income and national output." Judging all the circumstances carefully, I cannot entertain the additional claim of bonus for the years mentioned in the order of reference, and I make my award accordingly.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of reference No. 172Dis./10L-21/51, dated the 19th October 1951, as amended by order No. 218Dis./10L-21/51, dated 5th February 1952, and order No. 750Dis./10L-21/51 of the 3rd April 1952 of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. (India), Ltd., 5, Rustomjee Parsee Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen and Sri J. K. Ghosh, Advocates, instructed by Dr. J. K. Bose, Adviser to the Indian Engineering Association.

For the workmen: Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, President of the National Carbon Mazdoor Union, instructed by the workers' representatives.

AWARD.

The following points have been referred for adjudication:—

(1) Allowances for involuntary unemployment on account of the stoppage of supply of gas.

(2) Method of communicating the rates of wages to the piece rates.

(3) Working hours of drivers.

(4) Uniform for workers engaged in dirty work.

(5) Loan from Provident Fund Account.

(6) Leave and holidays.

The adjudication proceedings relating to the industrial dispute between Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., and their workmen have been unusually delayed, and I feel it my duty to explain the delay. The workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., were being represented by the National Carbon Workers' Union at the time of the original reference, dated 19th October 1951. At the time when the workers were directed through the Union to file their written statement there was a split among the office bearers of the Union. Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya claiming to be the Secretary of the Union with its office at 1/2, Rustomjee Parsee Road, filed a written statement for the workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd. Bebore this written statement was accepted by my predecessor in office, Sri B. K. Bhattacharyya claiming to be the President of the said Union and claiming to have his office at 54/1, Satchashi Para Road, Calcutta, stepped in praying that he might be permitted to represent the workmen. The matter was referred to the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by my predecessor in office as far back as on 26th November 1951. Subsequently several reminders were given, the last reminder being dated 28th February 1951. In the meantime the registration of the Union was cancelled on 16th February 1952. After cancellation of the Union it had no locus standi to represent the workmen. The workmen then selected their own representatives and the original order of reference was amended by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 750Dis., dated 3rd April 1952. It was only after this date that the proceedings were continued in the usual way. Notice was issued to the parties and they were called upon to file their respective written statements. The Company filed its written statement on 15th May 1952, and the case was taken up for hearing on 1st July 1952 and the hearing was concluded on 4th July 1952.

Before I enter into the merit of the case, I shall do well to dispose of the preliminary objections raised by the parties. Mr. J. R. Galloway has signed a written statement for the Company as its Works Manager. He is also a Director of the Company. Mr. Galloway also appears to have authorised, on behalf of the Company, Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors, to represent the Company before this Tribunal. Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya contended that Mr. Galloway, standing by himself, had no authority either to sign the written statement or to authorise the lawyer to represent the Company before this Tribunal. About representation of parties before the Industrial Tribunal section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act is not exhaustive. It lays down only some rules and prohibitions in addition to the ordinary rules of representation of parties before Courts and Tribunals. The ordinary rules of representation of parties are laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure. The rules as laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure are applicable to proceedings before the Industrial Tribunal only so far as these rules have not been expressly excepted by the Industrial Disputes Act and the rules framed thereunder. The Industrial Disputes Act and the rules framed thereunder do not also specifically lay down any rules as to who is competent to sign and verify the pleadings on behalf of a party or to appoint its legal representative at the hearing. In the absence of definite rules in the Industrial Disputes Act and the rules framed thereunder we are to follow the general rules as laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure. The objection of Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya relates to a question as to how the pleadings on behalf of the Company have got to be signed and verified and how the Company's legal representative may be appointed. Rule 1 of Order 29 of the Code of Civil Procedure is clear in this point. This is reproduced below:—

"Subscription and verification of pleadings.—In suits by or against the Corporation, any pleading may be signed and verified on behalf of the Corporation by the Secretary or by any Director or other principal officer of the Corporation who is able to depose to the facts of the case. Such office bearers or officers of the Corporation are also competent to appoint the legal representative of the Company."

Mr. Galloway is both a Director and the Works Manager of the Company and is able to depose to the facts of the present case. He thus satisfies the requirement of the law to represent the Company and to do all acts for the Company. Further the entire body of Directors of the Company appears to have ratified the action of Mr. Galloway in appointing the legal representative of the Company. There is, thus, no defect, and even if there had been any defect that has been cured by the resolution of the entire body of Directors in writing filed before this Tribunal.

Sri S. Sen on behalf of the Company has raised two preliminary objections—one is about representation of the workmen before this Tribunal and the other is about maintainability of the disputes specified in the order of reference in view of a conciliation which is said to be still in force. About representation of the workmen before this Tribunal it has been urged that the minimum number of workmen required to represent the workmen before the Tribunal is 5. But that 4 workmen who have signed the written statement on behalf of the workmen claim to represent the workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd. My attention has been drawn to rule 3, sub-rule 4(b) of the rules framed by the Government of West Bengal under the Industrial Disputes Act. This objection appears to me to be entirely misconceived. Under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act the appropriate Government may refer an industrial dispute to a

Tribunal either of its own motion or on the application of a party. It is only when a case when the appropriate Government makes a reference on the application of a party, the law requires that the Government must be satisfied that the persons applying represent the majority of the party. Section 10(2) of the Act is clear on this point. With a view to make out a case that the workers applying for a Tribunal, represent the majority, the Government of West Bengal, in exercise of the powers conferred on it by section 38 of the Industrial Disputes Act framed, among others, the following rule:—

"The application and the statement accompanying it shall be signed..... (b) In the case of workmen, either by the President, Secretary or other officers of a Registered Trade Union of the workmen, or by 5 representatives of the workmen duly authorised in this behalf at a meeting of a majority of the workmen held for the purpose. [Rule 3, sub-rule 4, clause (b) of the rules framed by the West Bengal Government.]"

We are not concerned with this rule. Section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the rules about representation of parties before a Tribunal or in any other proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act. This section is reproduced below:—

"Section 36.—Representation of parties.—(1) A workman who is a party to a dispute shall be entitled to be represented in any proceeding under this Act by—

(a) an officer of a Registered Trade Union of which he is a member;

(b) an officer of a Federation of Trade Unions to which the Trade Union referred under clause (a) is affiliated;

(c) where the worker is not a member of any Trade Union by an officer of any Trade Union connected with or by any other workman employed in the industry in which the worker is employed and authorised in such manner as may be prescribed."

Clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 36 is relevant in this connection. It prescribes that a workman can be represented by any other workman employed in the same industry provided he is duly authorised. Neither the act nor the rules framed thereunder fix the minimum number of workmen that may be authorised by the workmen of any industry to represent them in any proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act. I am, therefore, clearly of opinion that there is no defect in 4 of the workmen representing the entire body of workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., before this Tribunal. To remove any doubt on this point Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, President of the National Carbon Mazdoor Union, signed and verified the statement filed on behalf of the workmen. I have already mentioned that at the time when the original reference was made the workmen were being represented by the National Carbon Workers' Union. During pendency of the proceedings before this Tribunal the registration of the said Union was cancelled, and a corrigendum was issued by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, as to how the workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., were to be represented. By the time when the case was taken up for hearing the National Carbon Mazdoor Union was registered. It was registered on 13th June 1952, its registration number being 2418. Thus at the time when the original reference was made there was no difficulty nor was there any defect in the representation of the workmen. There was also no defect in the representation of the workmen by the President of the newly registered Union before this Tribunal. I am definitely of opinion that there was no defect in 4 workmen representing the entire body of workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd. Even assuming for argument's sake that the contention of Sri S. Sen, Advocate for the Company, is correct, the defect has since been cured by Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya signing and verifying the statement of the workmen and representing the workmen before this Tribunal.

The second objection of Sri S. Sen is that in view of the conciliation between the parties which was to be in force till 26th August 1952, there cannot be any adjudication on the industrial disputes under reference. Exhibit 5 is the copy of the said conciliation. The conciliation appears to have been over some definite points. Whether this conciliation bars adjudication on the points under reference or any of them will be discussed when I enter into the merit of the several items of the industrial disputes under reference.

I now take up the several points on their merit.

1. Allowances for involuntary unemployment on account of stoppage of supply of gas.

The Company have had to partially close the various departments of the factory from the 14th June 1951 to the 20th July 1951 owing to the stoppage of gas supply. A notice was issued on the 14th June 1951, a copy whereof is Annexure A to the Company's written statement. We are to see whether this demand is barred by any of the settlements between the Company and its employees that were entered into from time to time. From the record we find that there had been 3 settlements between the parties in 1949 and 1951. Copies of the terms of settlements have been placed before me. These are Exhibits 4, 5 and 6. The settlement in 1949 appears to have been concluded on the 13th September 1949 (Exhibit 4). Exhibit H is the copy of the terms of settlement between the parties which was concluded on 11th January 1951. On the 15th January 1951 there was another settlement the terms whereof have been marked Exhibit 5. Of the 3 settlements, the one which was concluded on 11th January 1951 (Exhibit H) relates to reduction of working hours and involuntary unemployment compensation on account of shortage of raw materials in the stock of the Company. This agreement appears to have been arrived at a time when retrenchment of the labour force was threatened. As an alternative to retrenchment, the workmen appear to have agreed to reduction of working hours and to a scheme of involuntary unemployment compensation. We find that the Secretary of the Union terminated the settlement about reduction of working hours by a letter, dated the 19th January 1951. The agreement about the involuntary unemployment compensation was, however, allowed to stand. The settlement refers to the then working position of the Company. At the time when this agreement was entered into the difficulties caused by the stoppage of gas supply on account of a strike of the workers of the Oriental Gas Co., Ltd., in June and July 1951 could not be foreseen. The settlements (Exhibits 4 and 5) do not appear to have dealt with the question of involuntary unemployment compensation. Besides at the time when these settlements were arrived at, neither party could foresee the difficulty about gas supply on account of the strike of the workers of the Oriental Gas Co., Ltd. The agreement which was concluded on 13th September 1949 was put in force until 6th September 1951. These settlements cannot in any way bar the present adjudication on involuntary unemployment compensation. The agreement which was concluded on the 15th January 1951, was put in force until 26th August 1952. The agreement deals with savings fund, dearness allowance, medical facility, disciplinary action, transfers, and the concluding paragraph is reproduced below:—

"6. This agreement settles all claims and will be in force until August 26, 1952 and during this period, it is agreed that no other demands regarding wages, allowances, remunerations, payments, gratuities or bonuses of any kind, will be made by the hourly-paid employees of National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., or their representatives."

Registered No. C207

The

Calcutta Gazette

THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1952

PART IA—Orders and Notifications by the Government of India republished for general information.

Some of the demands which were placed by the workmen before the management have been placed before me. These are Exhibits 2 and 3. These do not refer to any claim for involuntary unemployment compensation. There is no evidence that any other demand was placed before the management and was considered at the time when the settlement was arrived at. By this agreement demands about allowances and payments of any kind were to be barred till 26th August 1952. In the absence of any definite evidence that such allowance and payments refer to involuntary unemployment compensation, I am inclined to hold that the allowances and payments mentioned in the agreements referred to general allowances and payments which may be demanded by the workmen normally, and not any demand for compensation for involuntary unemployment which is not a normal feature of a factory is barred. I accordingly overrule the contention of Sri S. Sen, Advocate for the Company. A reference was made to paragraph 15 of the Standing Orders of the Company which deals with stoppage of work (Exhibit 1):—

"The Company may at any time or times, in the event of fire, catastrophe, breakdown of machinery or stoppage of the power supply, shortage of essential raw materials, epidemic, civil commotion, or other cause whatsoever beyond the control of the Company, stop any machine or machines, or department or departments, fully or partially for any period or periods, without notice or compensation in lieu of notice, the workers involved being treated as suspended during such period or periods."

The Standing Orders do not provide for any compensation for involuntary unemployment. We are not aware when these Standing Orders were framed or certified. The National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., was a party to the adjudication proceedings of the First Major Engineering Tribunal which were followed by an award which was published under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2161Lab., dated 30th June 1948. The learned adjudicators laid down some rules for payment of compensation on account of involuntary unemployment. The relevant extracts from the award are reproduced below:—

"1. We direct that compensation for a period of involuntary unemployment should be payable at the rate of half the basic pay and half the dearness allowance for 30 days in each half year from January to June and July to December. To

As regards involuntary unemployment compensation, the workmen are agreeable to accept the principles laid down in the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal. Their contention is that the Company is not fully implementing the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal.

As I have already mentioned the Company had to partially close various departments of the factory from 14th June 1951 to 20th July 1951 owing to the stoppage of gas supply on account of a strike of the workers of the Oriental Gas Co., Ltd. On the 14th June 1951 the Company issued a notice which is Annexure A to the Company's written statement. This is reproduced below:—

NOTICE.

"Owing to the stoppage of gas supply, it is impossible to continue full-time working of the factory.

Those employees for whom work cannot be provided will, today June 14th, 1951, day and night shifts, be awarded involuntary unemployment compensation at the rate of full basic hourly rate plus full dearness allowance for the period which they would have normally worked but for which work could not be provided.

Commencing 8 a.m. on Friday, June 15, 1951 onwards until further notice, all workers will report for duty in their respective departments as usual. If work cannot be provided, they will be allowed to leave the factory and will be compensated by involuntary unemployment payment at the rate of half basic hourly rate plus half dearness allowance.

National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd.,

(Sd.) J. R. GALLOWAY."

On the 16th July 1951 there was an agreement between the management and the workmen about alterations of working hours due to non-supply of gas. This is Exhibit 12. Pursuant to this agreement the management issued a notice on the 16th July 1951 (Exhibit 14). Subsequently, the management altered the working hours of some of the departments by notices, dated 18th, 19th and 21st July 1951 [Exhibits 15, 13(a) and 13]. In Exhibits 13(a) and 15, an indication appears to have been given as to how the compensation for involuntary unemployment would be assessed. It is clear from Exhibit 15 that the agreement arrived at between the management and the workmen on the 16th July 1951 had been cancelled. I reproduce below relevant extracts from the notices, dated 19th and 18th July 1951, indicating how involuntary unemployment compensation is to be assessed.

"The hand soldering section of Can Department will work from 7 a.m. to 12 noon, on 20th July 1951. The operators of this section will be sent home after 12 noon. They will be paid involuntary unemployment wages at the basis of half-hourly wages and half dearness allowance for the number of working hours during the week ending 21st July 1951, falling short of a total of 44 hours."

"Effective Thursday, July 19th, workers will report for duty as usual at 7 a.m. or 8 a.m. as may be directed by their departmental heads and those employees for whom alternate work cannot be provided will be sent home after 1 p.m. or at such time as the gas supply is turned off. Normally those employees who are sent home earlier will be notified the day previous and will receive involuntary unemployment compensation at the rate of half basic hourly rate and half dearness allowance for those hours less than 44 hours worked in the week."

We could understand at the hearing that the workers who could be given full work during this period were paid full wages and dearness allowance and the workers who were asked to go away after answering Muster Roll were paid half basic wages and half dearness allowance, and those who were detained in expectation of work were paid full wages and full dearness allowance for the hours they could be provided with work and half basic wages and full dearness allowance for the hours for which no work could be provided. Thus it is clear that the management accepted the two principles laid down in the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal about involuntary unemployment compensation. The management paid half basic pay and half dearness allowance to those who left the factory after answering the Muster Roll. Those who were detained after answering the Muster Roll were paid full wages and full dearness allowance for the hours they could be provided with work and full basic wages and full dearness allowance for the hours they could not be provided with work. The workmen are agreeable to accept the principles laid down in the award. The only dispute is about interpretation of the basic wages in the award. For some time past the management appears to have split up the wages of a worker into three parts. One is called the hiring rate. All workers of the factory whether unskilled, semi-skilled or skilled get the same hiring rate. The workers are also given increments over this hiring rate according to their respective seniority which is also uniform for all the workmen. In addition to these payments, the workers also get what is called job premium, which is variable according to the nature of the job. This is undoubtedly very scientific. The Company appears to have proceeded in a very scientific way to evaluate the different jobs and to fix the wages of the workers who perform these jobs according to the skill, arduousness, responsibility, risk, tediousness, unpleasantness and other relevant factors involved in the job. In India there are very few firms which have proceeded scientifically to evaluate the different jobs and fixed the wages of the different workmen who perform these jobs. In some industries the wages of an unskilled worker are fixed and an extra payment is made to the workmen whose work involves some extra care, responsibility, skill, risk, unpleasantness, tediousness, etc. This is called differential. The wages which these workmen get along with the unskilled workers together with the differentials represent the value of the job they perform, or in other words, their wages. I may in this connection refer to the award of the Major Cotton Textile Tribunal which was published under the Government of West Bengal order No. 2956Lab., dated the 21st August 1948. What the Company calls job premium is really a part of the wages of the worker concerned. The method may be an incentive to the workmen for higher production, but the job premium should not be confused with what is called production bonus or incentive wages. I may, in this connection, quote several extracts from the book of Ludwig Teller entitled "Management, Function and Collective Bargaining (Edition 1947)":—

"Once the jobs have been described, it is advisable as the next step to slot them in proportion to one another.....Wages come into the discussion only after the contents of jobs have been analysed, described and their relative importance established. These two operations are often performed in connection with a job evaluation plan which the parties may desire to establish for their own good, quite apart from the question of wage incentive (pages 218-19)."

At page 226 the author says that the standard with reference to which incentive payment is calculated should generally be the job rate.

"In the simplest kind of incentive plan the guaranteed rate is the same as the base rate (the rate upon which incentive payments are based) and the time rate (the hourly rate received by employees when not working at incentive tasks), and workers should be paid for "Down time" (i.e., idle time resulting from such causes as breakdown of machinery) and other hours during which the employees are unable to earn incentive money." It is clear that the value of the job is the wage of the worker doing the job. This includes what is called by the Company job premium. It is independent of the wage incentives. The incentive wages should be based on the wages for the different jobs and not on the wages less the job premium or differential. The hiring rate, the pay for services and the job premium, as they are called by the Company, together form the basic rate for the job or in other words the basic wages of the workers performing the job. As I have already stated that wages are fixed in India generally without scientifically analysing the contents of the different jobs. Some weight, however, is given to different jobs on a rough calculation of the varying degrees of the skill, care, responsibility, arduousness and unpleasantness involved in the jobs. The total value of the jobs thus arrived at are generally known in India as the basic rate for the job. This is how the term basic rate or basic wages is understood by the common people of India. The scientific way of assessing the value of a job is so very rare in India that I presume in all Indian statutes and awards given by the Judges of the Tribunals of the different States of India proceeded on the commonplace interpretation of the term basic wages.

The schemes of compensation for involuntary unemployment laid down by different Tribunals is generally based on a letter of the Government of India, Labour Department, No. L.1891, dated 12th June 1944. This scheme has been adopted in the different awards with slight modifications. The relevant extract from this letter is reproduced below:—

(2) Benefits to be given.

(a) Benefit which should be on a scale lower than the ordinary rate of pay may be fixed in either of two ways:—

(i) Seventy-five per cent. of the ordinary rate of pay for first fortnight of unemployment and 50 per cent. of the ordinary rate of pay for the second fortnight of unemployment with possibly a flat rate of benefit for persons drawing lower levels of income.

(ii) A flat rate which would be about 75 per cent. of the average of lower range of wage rates in the undertaking.

(b) Duration of benefit should be one month in each half year, allowing for a waiting period of 7 days (benefit however to start from the first day of unemployment provided the unemployment lasts longer than the waiting period).

(c) This special unemployment benefit will not qualify a worker for bonuses determined by reference to earnings over any period.

(d) The cost of benefits will be admitted as revenue expenditure for income-tax and excess profit tax purposes.

(3) Conditions attached to benefit.

(a) To qualify for benefit a worker must answer to a Muster Roll once a day at his usual place of employment or, with the permission of the employer, at any other place.

(b) A worker will be ineligible for benefit if he unreasonably refuses work even of a different sort in his usual factory or (provided employment offered is in the same locality) by transfer from one department to another in the same undertaking (or from one industry to another).

* * * * * *

Thus it is clear that Government of India intended that for assessing compensation for involuntary unemployment the ordinary rate of pay of the different workers should be taken into account. Hence on a careful consideration I am inclined to hold that in calculating the compensation for involuntary unemployment the ordinary rates of wages of different workers performing different jobs should be the basis. Hence for the involuntary unemployment on account of the stoppage of supply of gas the workmen shall get compensation according to the following schemes:—

(1) Those who were detained for work after answering the Muster Roll on any day shall get their full wages for the day made up of hiring rate, pay for services and job premium and full dearness allowance.

(2) Those who were allowed to leave the factory after answering the Muster Roll shall get half their ordinary pay made up to hiring rate, pay for services and job premium and half dearness allowance up to a limit of 30 days in each half year January to June and July to December.

If the workmen have been paid any compensation which is less than what is found due to them on actual calculation according to the aforesaid principles they shall be paid the difference within a month from the date when this award comes into force. For the purpose of compensation for involuntary unemployment of piece-rated workers the average of the normal total wages for the week just preceding the stoppage of work shall be the basis. The overtime allowance but not the job premium shall be excluded in calculating compensation for involuntary unemployment.

2. Method of communicating the rates of wages to the piece-rates.

It has been agreed before me that the job and the rates with the basis for fixing the rates should be communicated to the workers before the rates are actually enforced with sufficient margin to enable the workers to place their grievances before their management.

3. Working hours of Drivers.

There are 12 vehicles consisting of several buses, several cars and several lorries and tractors. I am told that these drivers get the dearness allowance according to the scales recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and, in fact, none of the drivers is at present getting less than Rs. 64 as dearness allowance, while the maximum dearness allowance for the workmen in the Company is Rs. 45. I could understand at the hearing that the bus drivers' duty is to take the staff to the factory and back in a scheduled route where the members of the staff have got to wait for the bus and to get down from the bus on their return. The intermediate time is at the disposal of the drivers. Their services may be required only in cases when some other drivers are either sick or absent on any other account. Drivers of the cars which are generally used by the officers may leave and enjoy leisure with the permission of the officers concerned. The drivers of the lorries and tractors are not permitted to leave their lorries. In any case the hours of the drivers are staggered. It is inherent in the very nature of the work of the drivers that a strict routine of their working hours is not possible. I am told that in consideration of this difficulty the drivers are paid a higher rate of dearness allowance. Under the award of the Second Major Engineering Tribunal they were entitled to Rs. 42 as dearness allowance. The Company is, however, paying Rs. 45 as dearness allowance to workers of other categories drawing similar wages, but the drivers of this Company get dearness allowance varying from Rs. 64 to Rs. 96 per month. Besides they get annas 10 per hour for duties performed after 1 p.m. on Saturdays, subject to the condition that the period of work extends beyond 2 p.m. They also get annas 10 per hour for work on Sundays and holidays and car drivers get a tiffin allowance of annas 12 per day when they cannot avail themselves of the normal tiffin break. All drivers are supplied uniforms. I am clearly of opinion that for the irregularity in the working hours of the drivers they are sufficiently compensated. I, however, recommend that the benefit of tiffin allowance should be extended to the drivers of the bus, lorries and tractors as well.

4. Uniform for workers engaged in dirty work.

This demand appears to have placed before the management so far back as on the 21st September 1950, on behalf of the workers of the Manganese Department. This demand was followed by an agreement, dated 15th January 1951 (Exhibit 5). This agreement purports to have settled all claims and was put in force until 26th August 1952. Obviously, the demand for the workers of the Manganese Department was dropped. The written statement of the workmen does not disclose specified cases as to whom the uniform should be supplied. The Company has filed a list of workers to whom uniforms and protective equipments are supplied. In the absence of any specific case of the workmen it is not possible to ascertain the necessity or otherwise of the uniforms.

5. Loan from Provident Fund Account.

The Company has a Provident Fund which is vested in the trustees. There is no provision for loans to the members of the provident fund. Loans from the provident fund cannot be a condition of service. Besides, in the absence of the trustees no direction can be given in supersession of the rules framed for the provident fund. The provident fund scheme is a retiral benefit for the employees. Loans should not be allowed in the interest of those for whose benefit the provident fund is intended. Further, the Company has introduced several schemes to accommodate its workmen with monetary assistance. By the end of October 1948 the Company introduced a scheme, in addition to this scheme of provident fund, called the savings fund. To this fund both employees and the employer should contribute 2 annas 3 pies per rupee of the wages of the individual workman. From the end of October each year the accumulation of each workman at the end of 12 months is paid to him. Contribution on each side works out to 1·62 months' pay for each year. The object of this scheme is to enable the workmen to meet their increased obligations during ceremonial occasions, the Pujahs or Id festival.

Savings fund was the outcome of a joint agreement and the rules governing the fund which are said to have been framed in consultation with the Union prohibit any advance against the savings fund before the expiry of 12 months. To meet increased obligations at times other than the Pujahs and the Id, the workmen have a Co-operative Credit Society. The Company has advanced Rs. 10,000 to facilitate workers of the Society. The workmen may become members of the Society and get loan from the funds of the Society. The workmen contend that loans are not available for want of sufficient funds and that loans even if allowed carry interest. The interest charged, ultimately goes to the members of the Society in the form of dividends. This is undoubtedly to the benefit of the workmen. Loans must be discouraged by all means, in the interest of the workmen themselves, so that they may not be led to unnecessary debts. In view of the arrangements which are existing on this day to accommodate the workmen with loans, no recommendation is called for for providing advances from the General Provident Fund.

6. Leave and holidays.

The scheme of leave and holidays with pay and without pay is as detailed below:—

"In the whole year, there will be (i) 8 paid festival holidays for all workers on roll at the time of such festivals; (ii) 7 unpaid festival holidays for all workmen on roll at the time of such festivals; (iii) 4 paid statutory holidays hich will be taken on festival days for all workmen on roll at the time of such stivals; (iv) 10 days' statutory leave with pay, for those who are entitled statutory annual leave according to sub-section (1) of section 79 of the Indian actories Act, 1948, to be taken individually in one instalment during the year, accordance with a schedule drawn up at the beginning of the year; (v) 1 day aid statutory leave for every 20 days worked over and above 280 days, in). . in reference to paragraph (i) of sub-section (1) of section 79 of the Indian actories Act, 1948, which may be taken, on casual occasion or occasions, as e case may be, by the workers individually, in course of the year."

he holidays are selected in consultation with the Union or workmen's presentatives. Any of the holidays selected in a particular festival occasion ay be substituted by any other such occasion, provided notice for such sub-itution is given to the employer sufficiently ahead of time, the total number f holidays for the year remaining the same. The Company urges that most f the countries which are much industrially advanced like the U.K., U.S.A., .S.S.R., do not believe in long holidays. It has further been urged that some ave in those countries is essential for the workmen who are divorced from ural contact. The western workmen are completely urbanised, while the Indian orkmen are not at all divorced from their home land. It is on this account s has been contended on behalf of the Company, the workmen of India equire much less leave. That may be one side of the picture but it must not e forgotten that apart from all considerations the workmen of India do require ome rest after working continuously for a period in the degenerating climate f the country. I do not propose to enter into an academic discussion on this oint in this award. The National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., is an engineering rm, and there is no sufficient reason why this engineering firm should be xempted to introduce the leave and holidays prescribed by the 2nd Major ngineering Tribunal award. The awards of the Major Engineering Tribunals aid down the scheme of holidays and leave which was intended to be standardised n accordance with the provision made in the said award, even though such a rocess might mean reduction of existing privileges in individual cases. The ompany is agreeable to allow 14 days' sick leave on half average pay and half learness allowance on medical certificates. This offer is accepted. Instead f 6 or 5 days' other leave with wages and 10 festival holidays with pay rescribed by the award of the 2nd Major Engineering Tribunal, the Company llows to its workers 4 days' additional statutory leave and 8 paid festival holidays. I do not find any valid reason why the leave and holidays should not be increased in conformity with the award of the 2nd Major Engineering Tribunal. I accordingly increase the number of festival holidays to 10 as under the present Indian Factories Act the workers are not denied wages for Sundays and intervening statutory leave as under the previous Act. Thus under the previous Act which prescribed 10 days' continuous leave, the workers could get the wages for 8 or 9 days at the utmost but under the present Act there cannot be any loss of wages during this statutory leave. This fact does not appear to have been considered by the 2nd Major Engineering Tribunal. If this fact was considered the number of other holidays would have been less. This was undoubtedly an error on the part of the Tribunal to which I myself was a party. In the circumstances I consider that the other statutory leave of 4 days available to the workmen of the National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd. under the scheme of the Company need not be increased. However, I recommend that these 4 statutory holidays may be available to the workmen acording to their requirements without pinning them to take these holidays on festival occasions. To sum up my award on leave and holidays is as detailed below :—

Sick leave—14 days with half pay and allowances (on medical certificates).

Festival holidays—10 days (for religious and national festivals).

submitted a final report to the Government under section 12(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, recommending a reference to a Tribunal for adjudication on the following issues:—

"(1) Whether the dismissal is justified, and

(2) to what compensation he is entitled to."

In accordance with his recommendation so made, the Government of West Bengal made an order of reference being No. 7012Labour, dated the 6th December 1950. The material portion of the said order runs as follows:—

"Whereas an industrial dispute exists between Messrs. The India Paint Colour & Varnish Co., Ltd., and one of their employees, Shri G. S. Chatterjee, represented by himself regarding the matters specified in the Schedule;

And whereas it is expedient that the said dispute should be referred to an Industrial Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to constitute an Industrial Tribunal consisting of one member and appoint Shri G. Palit, District Judge, and to refer the said dispute to the said Tribunal for adjudication;".

Two issues that were referred to for adjudication of Shri G. Palit were mentioned in the schedule to that order and they were the two issues, which the Conciliation Officer recommended for adjudication. Shri G. Palit received the reference on the 9th December 1950 and he directed the issue notices in form "F" to the parties fixing 20th December 1950 for appearance and filing of written statement. One such notice was issued to and served on the India Paint Colour & Varnish Co., Ltd. (hereafter called the Company), and the other was issued to and served on Shri G. S. Chatterjee. Shri Chatterjee filed his written statement on the 20th December 1950. In paragraph (1) he gave the history and nature of the dispute, and stated, inter alia, that he had submitted a petition to the Labour Commissioner setting out his grievances against the Company and that on account of the failure of the Company to appear before the Labour Commissioner on repeated notices conciliation proceedings failed. He prayed for the award of a sum of Rs. 2,100 as gratuity being equal to six months' pay on the ground that he had served the Company for six years and for such other compensation as the Tribunal may think proper to award. The Company also filed its written statement on the same date. It questioned the Tribunal's jurisdiction to adjudicate on the ground that the dispute was not an industrial one. It also pleaded on the merits of the case.

At the time of the hearing, the Company pressed its objection to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal as a preliminary objection. That objection only was considered by the Tribunal and was answered in favour of the Company. On taking that view, the Tribunal did not allow the parties to lead evidence on the merits of the dispute. The only point for consideration in the appeal is, therefore, whether the preliminary objection has been rightly decided.

In considering the question whether the dispute referred to him was an industrial dispute or not, as defined in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act (hereafter called the Act) Shri Palit observed that that question must be considered under the three distinct heads, namely, (1) parties to the dispute, (2) subject-matter of the dispute, and (3) the origin of the dispute. As the subject-matter of the dispute was the propriety of the dismissal he rightly observed that it came within the definition as it was a case of non-employment. With regards to the question of parties to the dispute, he made the following observations, namely:—

> "The dispute must be between employers and workmen and not between employers and dismissed workmen, though an exception is made in the definition of 'workmen' in the case of workmen discharged during a dispute. If a dispute had been commenced and during such dispute workmen are discharged a dispute between such workmen and their employers will be an industrial dispute. If the discharge causes the dispute, then obviously a dispute had not arisen until the moment or after the discharge. In the present case the dispute evidentally arose after the discharge. So it cannot be said to be an industrial dispute."

He further observed that a distinction must be made between an individual dispute and a collective dispute and the Act can be invoked only where there is a collective dispute, at the same time observing that an individual dispute may be the origin and cause of a collective dispute, by other workmen taking the side of that individual workman but till that happens, the dispute cannot be regarded as an industrial dispute. With regard to the third element, namely, the origin of the dispute, he expressed his opinion that it may be that the centre of the dispute is a workman or an officer and it will be an industrial dispute provided it is raised by workmen. He did not, however, take any evidence on the point as to whether Shri G. S. Chatterjee was an officer or a workman. This last mentioned observation is not correct in view of the Full Bench decision of this Tribunal in the case of the United Commercial Bank, Ltd., Delhi, versus Shri Kedar Nath Gupta [Labour Appeal Cases (1952)I-198]. In some reported decisions, however, a distinction had been made between an individual or personal dispute and a collective dispute, and it had been held that only collective disputes come within the purview of the Act [Kandan Textiles, Ltd., versus The Industrial Tribunal, Madras (1949)I-L.L.J., p 875; J. Chowdhury versus N. C. Banerjee, 55 C.W.N., p. 256; The Standard Vacuum Oil Company versus The Industrial Tribunal, Ernakulam (1952) 1-L.L.J., p. 612]. But the question in that general form has not been considered by this Tribunal, yet.

The Tribunal rightly observed that the competency of the reference depends upon the question as to whether the dispute referred to was an industrial dispute or not. The question so raised however involves, as this Tribunal had pointed out in Kanpur Chemical Works, Ltd., versus Ram Kishore (1951, 2 L.L.J. 606), two questions—one of facts and the other of law. The question of fact is whether the case of the dismissed workman had been taken up by other workmen or by the Labour Union and the question of law is that if it was not so taken up, whether the "personal" dispute of that workman would come within the definition of industrial dispute as given in section 2(k) of the Act. In the view we are taking in this case on the first question, namely, the question of fact it is not necessary for us to express our opinion on the abstract question as to whether an individual or personal dispute is covered by that definition. The reference in the case before us is almost in the same term as the reference in the Kanpur Chemical Work's case. That reference was in the following terms:—

> "Whereas an industrial dispute in respect of the matters hereinafter specified exists between the concern known as Messrs. Kanpur Chemical Works, Ltd., Kanpur, and its employee, Ram Kishore, and whereas....."

It states that the dispute which was being referred to the Tribunal was a dispute between the Company and Shri G. S. Chatterjee, but, at the same time, the dispute is described in the Government Order as an Industrial Dispute. That would suggest that the Government had materials before it from which it could conclude that the dismissal of Shri G. S. Chatterjee had been taken up by other workmen or the Union and so was to use the phraseology of the Tribunal "a collective dispute" between them and the Company. The record shows that the dispute concerning the dismissal of Shri Chatterjee had at some stage been taken up by the Labour Union, though it is not quite plain whether it was taken up before or after the reference. We have already stated that the Tribunal fixed the 20th December 1950, for appearance and for the filing of written statements by the parties. On that date, Shri G. S. Chatterjee filed his statement and made an application informing the Tribunal that his case would be represented by Shri B. K. Sarkar, Secretary, India Paint Colour & Varnish Co. Workers' Union. That application by itself would not be sufficient to lead to the inference that the Union would back up the dispute, for ex-facie, it is an application informing the Tribunal that he would not appear himself in person, but by one who, in law, could represent him in the proceedings before the Tribunal by virtue of the provisions of section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. But what is of greater importance is that on the same date Sri Bimal Kumar Sarkar, Secretary of the said Labour Union, wrote a letter to the Tribunal in the following terms:—

> "Sir,—I beg to state that the Union has decided to take up the above case for Sri G. S. Chatterjee. May I, therefore, pray that you will be kind enough to allow me to represent his case."

On that letter Shri G. Palit wrote the word "permitted" and in the Order Sheet of the same date he recorded the following order:—

> "The employee Shri G. S. Chatterjee authorises Shri B. K. Sirkar, Secretary, India Paint Colour & Varnish Company Workers' Union, to represent his case and the Union also taken up his case. This is allowed."

Moreover it is established that as soon as it was notified that the reference had reached the Tribunal and at the very earliest opportunity the Labour Union intimated the fact that it had taken up the case regarding the dismissal of Shri G. S. Chatterjee. This attitude of the Union would lend a strong support to the inference which the order of reference suggests, that at the time of the reference, the Government had materials before it, from which it could conclude that the dismissal of Shri G. S. Chatterjee had been taken up by the Union and was made the subject-matter of a "collective dispute". The record discloses that the Conciliation Officer had sent to the Government interim reports before his final report recommending a reference. It is thus not the type of case noticed by the Tribunal when dealing with the question of parties, where the dismissed workman is the only disputant and the subject of the dispute is his own dismissal.

We accordingly hold that the reference to the Tribunal was not a bad one and the Tribunal should not have rejected it on the preliminary ground. The merits of the case, however, was not gone into and no evidence was taken by the Tribunal. In these circumstances, we remand the case to Shri G. Palit in order to enable him to record such evidence that the parties may lead on the merits of the dismissal, as also on the question as to whether Shri G. S. Chatterjee was a workman or an officer. If he finds that he was an officer and not a workman the dispute about his dismissal, though taken up by the Union, would not be an industrial dispute. If on the other hand, he finds that he is not an officer, but a workman, he would proceed to decide the issues that have been referred to him for adjudication by the said Government order.

The appeal is, therefore, allowed and the case remanded. The respondent must pay the appellant costs of this hearing which we assess at Rs. 50.

Messrs. Mahalaxmi Cotton Mills Ltd., Calcutta ... Respondents.

In the matter of an appeal against the award of Shri C. Palit, Judge, Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta, made on 26th July 1951 in respect of an industrial dispute between the above parties.

Dated, the 17th June 1952.

PRESENT:

MR. J. N. MAJUMDAR, Chairman.

MR. GHULAM HASAN, Member.

For the Company: Sri S. Banerjee, Counsel, with Sri N. M. Das Gupta.

For the Union: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

State: West Bengal.

Industry: Textile.

The admitted facts which form the historical background of the dispute arising in these two appeals may be shortly stated. Messrs. Mahalaxmi Cotton Mills, Ltd., was incorporated in 1924 with an authorised share capital of twenty lakhs. The Company had in its current account with the Calcutta Commercial Bank, Limited, a sum of about seven lakhs and forty-two thousand. In September 1948, the Bank closed its doors and two of its Directors who were also the ex-officio Directors of the Company were arrested and prosecuted. The Company removed their names from the Board of Directors. In November 1948, the Company applied under section 153 of the Indian Companies Act for sanctioning of a scheme of arrangement as between the Company and its Members and unsecured creditors. A Special Officer was appointed and the Company was managed by the Board of Directors subject to the supervision and control of the Special Officer. In July 1949, a scheme of arrangement under section 155 of the Indian Companies Act was passed and in December 1949, a new Board of Directors under the scheme was elected and since then it began to manage the affairs of the Company.

2. The workers and the Company did not seem to get on smoothly and the former gave a strike notice on August 25, 1949, intimating that they would strike on September 15, if their demands were not met. These demands were set out in a schedule attached to the notice and numbered as many as 16. Item No. 16 is described as Puja Bonus which should be paid before the coming Pujas equal to 2½ months' basic wages to every workman. A day before the strike was due to begin, namely, on September 14, parties entered into an agreement (hereinafter referred to as the Agreement) and the strike was thus averted. We shall advert to this agreement later in detail in considering the contentions of the respective parties. It would be sufficient to say at this stage that under this agreement the Puja bonus equivalent to two months' basic wages was allowed in the following manner:—

(i) 1½ months' basic wages were to be paid before the Pujas;

(ii) basic wages for the remaining 15 days were to be paid by the 15th January, 1950; and

(iii) 15 days' basic wages were to be paid as special bonus at the latest by the 15th January 1950.

3. The Puja bonus for the year 1949 was paid as agreed but the special bonus payable by the 15th January 1950 was withheld. The Puja bonus for the year 1950 was also not paid. In addition to this, the Board of Directors passed a resolution in February 1950 closing down the Provident Fund for financial stringency. The ration benefit payable at the rate of Rs. 5 per head per month was also stopped since August 1950. This conduct of the Company is alleged to have provoked the Union and it commenced a strike without notice for non-payment of the special bonus of 1949. This was the first strike and lasted for four days from August 22, to August 25, 1950. The strike was called off upon payment of the special bonus. Thereafter the Union gave a strike notice on October 7, 1950, intimating that the strike will begin from November 11, 1950. On the 16th October 1950, the Company refused to grant 4 days' paid Puja holidays to the workmen because of the strike notice. The salary of the Secretary of the Union for the second fortnight of October was withheld and he filed a suit against the Directors in October. The notified strike was commenced on the 11th November and continued till the 15th November 1950. The Company decclared a lockout on November 16, 1950, but the Government prohibited the strike and the lockout from November 27, 1950 and appointed Sri G. Palit as Tribunal to adjudicate upon the dispute. The lockout was lifted on December 4, 1950, and the workmen resumed work between December 11, 1950 and December 26, 1950.

4. The Order of Reference made to the Tribunal contained the following three issues:—

(1) Whether the workers should get Puja bonus?

(2) Whether the present system of pay and ration at a concession rate should continue?

(3) Whether pay for the last strike period and pay from 11th November up to the date payable to the workers should be paid?

5. The Tribunal answered the first issue in the affirmative and allowed the claim for Puja bonus. Upon the second issue, it held that the Company must continue the ration benefit system of Rs. 5 per head to the workers as before. The third issue did not specifically state the period of the "last strike" but the finding on issue 3 shows that the Tribunal split up the issue in two portions:—(1) Strike pay for the period from August 22, 1950 to August 25, 1950, and (2) strike pay from November 11, 1950 to November 15, 1950 and lockout pay from November 16, 1950 to December 4, 1950. The Tribunal awarded the workers pay for the period of strike from August 22 to August 25, 1950, that is, 4 days as in its opinion the strike was not without justification but as it was commenced without a notice as required by section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, it awarded only ½rd of their basic wages for the said period. For the strike period between November 11 and November 15, 1950, the Tribunal awarded similar rate because in its opinion though the Company had provoked the strike, the workers precipitated it without waiting for the report of the Conciliation Officer. The Tribunal further held that the lockout was not illegal and, therefore, the workers were not entitled to any pay for that period. The Company has preferred an appeal upon the points decided against them while the Union has preferred an appeal for the full wages instead of ½rd and also against the award disallowing the pay for the lockout period. The former appeal is numbered as Cal. 290/51 and the latter Cal. 300/52. The two appeals have been heard together and will be governed by this decision.

6. The Company has not pressed its appeal in respect of issue No. 2. The award in respect thereof therefore, remains undisturbed. The contentions of the Company before us as to other issues are:—

(i) that the Tribunal having found that the claim for bonus was contractual, being based on the Agreement, should have held on its proper construction that the workers forfeited their claim to Puja bonus by resorting to strike;

(ii) that the Tribunal was wrong in allowing bonus for 1950 at the same rate as of 1949 although the Company suffered financial loss; and

(iii) that the strikes being illegal, the workers should not have been allowed any strike pay.

7. The Union in its appeal has contended that the Tribunal having found that strikes were provoked by the Company should have allowed full basic wages and allowances for the strike and lockout periods.

8. We shall now take up the first two contentions of the Company. Puja bonus is a bonus claimed by the workers as a matter of right, payable by the employer at a special season of the year, namely, at the time of the annual Durga Puja. This right is not based on the general principle that labour and capital should share the surplus left after meeting necessary and prior charges, but it rests on agreement between the employer and the workers. That agreement may be either express or implied, and where not express, past practice may lead to an inference of implied agreement. But for implying an agreement, the practice must be unbroken and for a sufficiently long period to exclude the hypothesis that payments had been made out of bounty. It is not possible to say, in general terms, what should be the length of the period. That would depend upon circumstances of each particular case, but the fact that the payments had been made even in a year of loss would be an important factor on the question as to whether the payments were mere acts of bounty or an obligation on the part of the employers. When the right is thus established, the next question would relate to the amount. Where the rule for determining the amount is expressly laid down or can be inferred, that rule is to be followed. Where there is no definite rule or none can be found, the agreement founding the right cannot be disregarded in an Industrial Tribunal, as in Courts of law on the ground of vagueness. The Industrial Tribunal must hold that the workers are entitled to a reasonable amount as a term of the employment and determine the amount, when a claim is made for a particular year and for that purpose the amount paid or rate at which payments were made in the past years, would be a guiding factor. In the written statement the Union claimed the bonus on past practice and at a rate of not less than two months' basic wages. To put it in legal phraseology, the claim was founded upon implied agreement. Before the Tribunal, however, the claim was not pointedly presented from that point of view. It was made to rest on the said agreement. Before us, however, the Advocate for the Union pressed this aspect of the case and in support of it he drew our attention to Exts. E, F, F1 and F2. They do show that it was paid for a number of years regularly and without break at varying rates prior to 1949 in spite of loss suffered by the Company, and this bonus was different from another type of bonus, which was paid when the Company earned profit. The same distinction is noticeable in the agreement when provisions were made for two different types of bonus, one being called "Due bonus" and the other "Puja bonus". The Counsel for the Company also conceded that the workers had the right to claim this bonus. We cannot, in these circumstances, ignore this aspect of the case and we hold that the workers have established the right to get yearly Puja bonus irrespective of any profit or loss in the business of the Company and this right was acquired and recognised by the Company before the date of the agreement.

9. That being the position, we are now required to consider whether the workers lost that right by resorting to strike in November. It is urged that the right of the workers to get Puja bonus under the agreement was dependant upon their not going on strike. This argument was founded upon certain terms which were contained in the general remarks in the agreement imposing restrictions on strike. The controversy, therefore, centres round the agreement and the answer to the questions will depend upon its construction.

10. The agreement enumerates 15 items with reference to certain facilities and concludes with general remarks. The demands relating to bonus which were agreed upon between the parties were contained in item No. 15, the relevant portion whereof is as follows:—

"(a) The Balance-Sheet for the financial year 1947-48 is expected to be finished by this month. Due bonus as per last Tribunal award will be paid if the Balance-Sheet shows such. With this end in view, the Balance-Sheet will be forwarded to the Union.

(b) Puja bonus equivalent to 2 months' basic wages may be allowed in the following manner:—

(1) 1½ months' basic wages will be paid before the Pujas;

(2) balance 15 days' basic wages will be paid by the 15th January 1950; and

(3) 15 days' basic wages will be paid as a special bonus latest by the 15th January 1950.

General Remarks.

It is to be mutually agreed that since Union's demands and the Company's offer exceed the award of the last Tribunal in almost all cases the question of following the Tribunal award does not arise. In future the Union and the Company will only follow special Tribunal award resulting out of the dispute of the Company and the Union. The Company does not bind itself with this offer in case of any strikes by the employees. This offer stands valid so long there is no strike. In case of strike the Company is free from any mutual agreement and will follow the last award of the last Tribunal, the directions of the Millowners' Association or any appropriate authorities as the case may be."

11. Item No. 15 leaves no room for doubt that as a result of the strike threat, the Company agreed to make certain payments as indicated therein. One of these is called "Due bonus" which was apparently allowed by the previous award of the Textile Tribunal upon the express condition that the Company made profits; in other words, that this bonus was linked to profits or dividends. The other bonus is described as Puja bonus which by common consent is meant to refer to bonus to be paid before the Pujas. This bonus is payable as a matter of right and is not made to depend upon the Company making the profits. That is where it differs from the Due bonus. Under the agreement, the amount of the Puja bonus was two months' basic wages which were to be paid in such a way that 1½ months' basic wages were to be paid before the Pujas and the remaining 15 days' basic wages by January 15, 1950. The question that arises for determination is whether Puja bonus contemplated by the parties was confined to the Puja bonus of 1949 only or whether it was intended to include future Puja bonus. Having regard to the antecedent circumstances which led to the agreement and the language employed in item 15, we are of opinion that the controversy related to 1949 only and did not embrace any periods subsequent to it. It must be remembered that the schedule of demand submitted by the Union to the Company referred to Puja bonus in paragraph 16 which the Union claimed should be paid before the coming Pujas equal to 2½ months' wages to every worker. The demand was made on August 25, 1949, and it was stated clearly that unless the demand of the workers, as given in the schedule, was satisfied, they would go on strike from September 15, 1949. The Company was admittedly in financial embarrassment and it appears that those who guided its affairs were anxious in putting an end to the controversy by immediately conceding the demand. From a note in the general remarks, it is clear that such was their intention and they achieved it by entering into the agreement. The note says:—

> "As per strike notice of 25th August 1949, by the Union and the strike was due on the 15th September 1949. We arrived at a decision agreeing the above terms and on the strength of this agreement the strike was called off."

12. The immediate motive behind the agreement was, therefore, the termination of the threatened strike by conceding the demands made by the Union, one of which related to Puja bonus. If the intention of the parties had been to provide for their future relations regarding the payment of Puja bonus, there was nothing to prevent them from saying so in the agreement. They need not have restricted themselves to the payment of 1½ months' basic wages before the Pujas, which obviously meant in terms of the demand "coming Pujas" and the balance of 15 days' basic wages by the 15th January 1950. Our conclusion that the parties intended to confine themselves to the year 1949 only appears to gain additional strength from the fact that in the next demand the Union asked for Puja bonus equivalent to three months' basic wages. From Ext. E it appears that prior to 1949, Puja bonus used to be paid at rates ranging from 1½ months to 2½ months, and that there was no uniform rate at which Puja bonus was paid. By the agreement the Puja bonus only of 1949 was fixed by reducing the claim from 2½ months to 2 months' basic wages and that accounts for the Union putting forward in their strike notice of October 7, 1950 a demand for Puja bonus equivalent to three months' basic wages. This conduct of the Union affords striking evidence of the fact that though the general right to get Puja bonus before the Pujas was unquestioned, the rate at which it would be payable by the Company to the Union, was left to be determined according to the understanding of the parties each year or in the case of dispute by the Tribunal and the rate of 2 months provided for in the agreement was not meant to enure for all time. Then contention raised on behalf of the Company is that the payment of Puja bonus was conditioned by the restriction that there should be no strike and as there was a strike in November, the workmen forfeited their right. The Tribunal took the view that the strike was provoked by the Company and was not unjustified and, therefore, did not adversely affect the right of the workmen to the payment of Puja bonus. It seems to us that the condition contained in the general remarks with regard to the strike exhausted itself when the strike which was to begin on September 15, 1949, was called off, a day earlier, by reason of the agreement. A reasonable interpretation of the language used in the general remarks is that the demands which the Union had made and were conceded by the agreement, were in excess of the Award of the Textile Tribunal and the parties stated that the said Textile Award will not be given effect to in view of the agreement. But at the same time, it was stated that in future if any dispute arises between the parties, it will be referred to a special Tribunal and the Award of that Tribunal will prevail. The Company took care to add that it was not bound by the agreement as a whole if the employees resorted to strike. We do not think that this condition referred to a strike at some future time or that the right of the workers to get such bonus depended upon such strike not taking place. On the other hand, we think that the object was to put an end to the strike which was threatened to start on September 15, 1949 and it was to obviate the undesirable consequences of this strike that the Company fortified themselves by the condition that the offer made by the Company to the workers, viz., payment of 2 months' stood only if they would not resort to the threatened strike. If they did so, then the Award of the Textile Tribunal which had been superseded by the agreement will operate; in other words, the workers will lose the benefits under the agreement which were undoubtedly in excess of the Award of the Textile Tribunal by taking recourse to strike. This strike did not materialise as the demands of the Union were met and this fact is specifically mentioned in the note to the agreement. This dispenses with the necessity of considering the argument for the Union that the condition of future strike was invalid in view of the provisions of section 57 of the Indian Contract Act or that it affected the fundamental right of the workers to go on strike or to their right of collective bargaining. We are of opinion that the workmen did not forfeit their right to get Puja bonus by reason of the strike in November.

12. There is no substance in the second contention. The claim for Puja bonus has been found to be a term of employment and payable irrespective of any question of any profit or loss. Therefore, the question of loss does not arise for consideration. Both the contentions failing the award of the Tribunal in respect of the Puja bonus for 1950 and the payment thereof, as directed by the Tribunal, is upheld.

13. We shall now take up the question whether the workers are entitled to pay for four days of August 1950 and five days of November 1950. The right of the workman to get pay for the period of strike depends on the question whether the strike was legal or illegal. If it was illegal, in our opinion, no liability attaches to the employer to pay for the period of illegal strike. A strike in a public utility service, if commenced in contravention of the provisions of section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (hereinafter called the Act), is an illegal strike under section 24 and is punishable under section 26 of the Act. Section 22 of the Act provides as follows:—

"(1) No person employed in a public utility service shall go on strike in breach of contract—

(a) without giving to the employer notice of strike, as hereinafter provided, within six weeks before striking, or

(b) within fourteen days of giving such notice, or

(c) before the expiry of the date of strike specified in any such notices as aforesaid, or

(d) during the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a conciliation Officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings."

14. Admittedly the strike for the period in August 1950 was commenced without giving any notice as required by section 22 of the Act and as such is an illegal strike. That being so, the position would be anomalous, if, in criminal law, a workman is punished for going on an illegal strike, he would in civil law be required to be compensated by the employer for his identical conduct. The Tribunal has held that the strike was not without justification. Be it so but we do not find any justification for commencing the strike without giving any notice in contravention of the provisions of law. In the case of Colliery Mazdoor Congress, Asansol, versus New Beerbhoom Coal Co., Ltd., reported in Labour Appeal Cases, May 1952, at p. 219, it was held that the legality of a strike depends upon the provisions of section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 in the case of a public utility service, and the question whether it was provoked or not is immaterial. Therefore, although the strike may have been provoked, the character of the strike is not altered and it continues to be an illegal strike and consequently, the demand of the workmen for strike pay for the period should not be acceded to. The Tribunal's award in this respect, therefore, is set aside.

15. Regarding the pay from November 11 to November 15, 1950, the Tribunal found that the strike was resorted to when the conciliation proceedings were pending before the Conciliation Officer. This finding is not challenged but it is argued by the Advocate for the Union that the report of the Conciliation Officer not having been submitted within 14 days of the conciliation proceedings, as required by section 12(6) of the Act, the report is nugatory and the workmen are not bound to await the result of the recommendation made by the Conciliation Officer. The Tribunal overruled this contention and we think rightly. By section 20 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the conciliation proceedings are deemed to commence on the day on which a notice of strike is received by the Conciliation Officer. There is nothing on the record to show when this notice was received by the Conciliation Officer and the Advocate attempted to introduce additional evidence on the point which we did not allow. Under section 20 of the Act, a conciliation proceeding shall be deemed to have concluded when the report of the Conciliation Officer is received by the Government. In this case the report was made by the Conciliation Officer on the 7th November 1950, and the strike having been commenced within 7 days after the conclusion of the proceedings which under section 22 of the Act is prohibited, the strike became illegal. The consideration of provisions of section 23(a) of the Act are out of place in the facts of this case. We have already said that provocation could not alter the character of the strike and it being illegal the workmen will also be disentitled to get the pay for this period. Even if it be assumed that the strike was not illegal, in our opinion the workmen were not justified in precipitating a strike without waiting the result of the Conciliation Officer's report which recommended a reference of the dispute to the Tribunal and that conduct also should disentitle them to get any pay for the strike period. We accordingly reverse the decision of the Tribunal and hold that the workmen are not entitled to any pay for the period from 11th November to 15th November 1950.

16. The Union in its appeal challenges the findings of the Tribunal in so far as the lockout pay from 16th November to 4th December 1950, was refused. The Tribunal has found that the lockout was not illegal and was brought about by the action of the workers themselves who had resorted to a hasty strike during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings. It appears that the strike commenced on 11th November 1950, while the lockout was declared on 16th November 1950. The Government prohibited the continuance of the strike and the lockout from 27th November. But the lockout was not lifted till 4th December 1950. The Tribunal has rightly held that the delay in lifting the lockout was not unreasonable as the workers had left the station and could not join even on 4th December 1950. These reasons appear to us to be sufficient to support the finding at which the Tribunal has arrived in refusing to allow pay for the lockout period. We accordingly uphold the award and dismiss the appeal.

17. The result of the appeals is that the workmen will be entitled to get their Puja bonus as of right, as directed by the Tribunal and will not be entitled to get any pay for the strike period from 22nd to 25th August 1950 or from 11th November to 16th November 1950 or the lockout pay from 16th November to 4th December 1950. We direct that the parties should bear their own costs for both the appeals.

DECISION.

On the 14th June 1951, the Indian Jute Mills Association on behalf of the Fort William Jute Mills, Ltd., made an application before the Tribunal under section 33 for permission to dismiss a workman of the name of Gomor Ali, an employee of Mill No. 2. This application was necessitated inasmuch as an adjudication proceeding between 86 Jute Mills and their workmen including the Fort William Jute Mills was then pending before the Tribunal. The application was heard on the 9th August 1951 and on the same day the Tribunal passed its order. The Tribunal refused permission to dismiss but granted permission to suspend the said workman for a period of 4 days. The Company filed the appeal in this Tribunal against the said Order on the 27th of September 1951.

2. In view of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, the last date for filing the appeal would have been the 8th of September 1951, because the 30 days' limitation provided for in that section would have expired on that date. The appeal is, therefore, 21 days' out of time. An application under section 10 of the said Act was filed along with the Memorandum of Appeal for condoning the delay. It was supported by an affidavit affirmed on the 26th day of September 1951 by Sri Prasanta Kumar Ghose, the Labour Officer of the Company. Paragraph 5 of that application suggests that Sri M. C. Addy, the Law Officer of the Indian Jute Mill Association of which Fort William Jute Mills is a Member and who conducted the case, came to know of the order rejecting the application for permission to dismiss the workman for the first time on the 28th August 1951, the date on which he was supplied with a copy of the order. Paragraph 6 states that the Indian Jute Mills Association thereafter forwarded the copy of the order to the Fort William Jute Mills Co. and that copy was received by the latter on the 6th September 1951. Thereafter the appeal was filed after the Company's lawyers had been consulted.

3. This application for condonation of delay came up for hearing previously when we thought that sufficient materials had not been disclosed in the said application or the affidavit of Sri Ghose which would have satisfied us for extending the period of limitation. We accordingly allowed the appellants to file supplementary affidavits, if they so desired. Two further affidavits have now been filed, one by Sri Mohit Chandra Addy, the Law Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association, who conducted the proceedings before the Tribunal and the other by Sri Prasanta Kumar Ghose, the Labour Officer of the Fort William Jute Mills, the gentlemen who had affirmed the earlier affidavit in support of the application for condonation of delay.

4. Paragraphs 5 and 6 of Sri Addy's affidavit and paragraph 5 of the further affidavit of Sri Prasanta Kumar Ghose are material. Sri Addy says that subsequently to the hearing of the application he was appearing before the Tribunal on all working days in connection with other pending cases and after usual enquiries collected orders passed on section 33 applications when they were ready and with regard to this case he made periodic enquiries from the Bench Clerk from the 10th August to the 27th August 1951, as to whether orders had been passed and was told every time that "orders were not ready for delivery". It was only on the 28th August, the Bench Clerk told him that "orders were ready for delivery" and the copy of order was delivered to him that very day and he immediately handed over the copy with copies of orders on other 63 applications which he had received on the same day to the Indian Jute Mills Association who thereafter made copies and distributed them to the Member Companies and the order in question was sent on the 6th September to this particular Company. The Company then on the 22nd September 1951 advised the Association to file the appeal.

5. The second affidavit of Sri Prasanta Kumar Ghose states that the Company received the copy of the order on the 6th September. It was first departmentally considered and thereafter lawyers were consulted and the appeal was filed after the opinion of the lawyers was considered. It is vague in many particulars. He does not state how long it took the Company to consider the matter departmentally, when the matter was placed before the lawyers for their opinion, when was their opinion received and how much time was taken by the Company thereafter to consider their opinion. Even apart from the question as to whether the statements made in affidavit of Sri Mohit Chandra Addy is to be accepted or not, we are not satisfied on the materials placed before us that the Company was diligent in moving in the matter. No credible explanation has been given which would explain the delay from the 6th of September, when admittedly the copy of the order sent by the Indian Jute Mills Association was received by the Company and the date when the appeal was actually presented, viz., the 27th September 1951.

We accordingly dismiss this application for condonation of delay.

The facts of appeal No. 337/51 which is an appeal by the same Company and directed against another order, dated 9th August 1951, refusing its application for permission to dismiss another employee, Sri Raghunandan are exactly similar to the facts of the other case which we have just now disposed of so far as the application for condonation of delay is concerned. For the reasons given in that case, we are of opinion that no case for condonation of delay has been made out. The application is, therefore, rejected.

We order each party to bear the respective costs.

In the circumstances, both appeals—Appeals No. Cal. 336/51 and No. Cal. 337/51—are struck off.

suggestion though he had agreed to consider it. In any view of the matter the claim for benefit of involuntary unemployment of the workers named in Issue No. 7 cannot be upheld.

Issues Nos. 1 to 5.

The learned Advocate for the Union was not at first serious about these issues, but ultimately he pressed these issues for the sake of expediency of not abandoning them. As I have already pointed out, the workmen concerned in the dispute can have no claim which is legally sustainable against the Bose Manna & Co., which is already extinct. Out of the total number of workmen of the old partnership firm 22 men have been in the employment of the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., since the latter started business, and they have no dispute to press before the Tribunal. If these remaining 10 men are not entitled to reinstatement, as I have found they are not, there is none for whose interest these issues may be decided or an award may be made thereon. As neither of the two Companies can be held answerable to the workers concerned in the dispute for their claim on these issues, the

AWARD.

By the abovementioned order, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department, referred the dispute to me for adjudication regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto as mentioned below:—

SCHEDULE.

(1) Increment in pay.

(2) Dearness allowance.

(3) Festival holidays with pay.

(4) Sick-leave with pay.

(5) Bonus.

(6) If the closure of the business is justified and to what relief the workers are entitled as a result thereof?

(7) If the following workers should be granted benefit of involuntary unemployment for the period of unemployment:—

1. Haradhan Mondal, 2. Sreekanta Das, 3. Rambara Ahir, 4. Ramdulal Keot, 5. Lalit Mohan Hait, 6. Panchanon Khan, 7. Rameswar Keot, 8. Nilu Lahiri, 9, Profulla Kumar Shaw, 10. Kanai Lal Karar.

Briefly stated the immediate and relevant events which led up to the dispute as it has been referred for adjudication are as follows:

The Bose Manna & Co. was the proprietor of the workshop at 74/2, Ichapur Road, South Bantra, Howrah. It was a partnership firm constituted of two partners Amarendranath Bose and Nripendranath Manna. On 11th December 1950 the Howrah Zilla Loha Karkhana Mazdoor Congress, hereinafter referred to as the Union, sent a letter to the Bose Manna and Co., hereinafter called the Company, a letter setting out the workers' demands regarding increment of pay, dearness allowance, leave and holidays, bonus, etc. A copy of the letter was sent to the Regional Assistant Labour Commissioner and Conciliation Officer, Howrah, for intervention. A joint conference was fixed up on 29th December, 1950. On 16th December 1950 the cork of the barrel of lubricating oil was found kept open with the result that its contents had poured out into an adjacent pond. The worker named Ajit Kumar Das, who was absent on 20th December 1950, subsequently approached the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, on the allegation of having been discharged with effect from 21st December 1950 for his absence on the previous day. The Company's case was that he was not discharged but was asked to bring medical certificate to explain his absence on 20th December 1950. The matter was, however, amicably settled through the intervention of the Conciliation Officer, Howrah, and it was agreed that Ajit Kumar Das would be reinstated on and from 1st January 1951, the period from 21st December 1950 to 31st December 1950 being regarded as leave without pay. It may be mentioned here that the Company alleges that as Ajit Kumar Das was not allowed to join work on 21st December 1950 without proper medical certificate, the other workers started tool-down strike which continued from day to day. On 25th December 1950 the 20 H. P. Electric Motor of the bolt-forging shop was found damaged and the Company attributed the damage to an act of sabotage on the part of the workers. The result was that that portion of the workshop had to be closed. An enquiry was held in the factory by the Conciliation Officer, but the responsibility for the damage of the electric motor could not be fixed on any particular worker. During the pendency of the conciliation proceeding the Company reported that the workers of the other portion of the workshop, namely, the 10 H. P. Power Machine Shop, were on strike on and from 10th January 1951. The 20 H. P. Electric Motor of the Bolt-Head Machine Shop was put in working order after repairs on 18th January 1951. On 24th January 1951 the clutch and bush of the bolt-head machine was found damaged, throwing the machine out of order and the Company complained that this was another act of sabotage committed by the workers. On the same day, i.e., 24th January 1951, the partnership was dissolved by an agreement between the two partners in pursuance of their decision to close the business. The workers were given seven days' notice terminating their services on the expiry of the 31st January 1951, and asking them to receive payment of their due wages, etc. The assets, plants, machineries and goodwill of the dissolved partnership firm were then sold between the 16th and the 20th of February 1951 to Messrs. Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., which was a private limited Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act on the 7th of February 1951. In response to the notice of the 24th January 1951 the workers of the dissolved partnership firm Bose Manna & Co. received their dues from the said Company in full and final satisfaction of their claim against it on 25th January 1951. The new concern, namely, the Bose Manna & Co., Ltd., started business some time after the Company was floated. As the conciliation proceedings ultimately failed, the dispute has been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication, both the dissolved partnership firm Bose Manna and Co. and the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., being treated as parties to the dispute.

The Union contends that the proprietors of the workshop fraudulently converted their firm into a private limited Company and adopted thereby a fraudulent device to deprive the labourers employed by them of their just dues. The closure of the business, they say, was resorted to on a false pretext and was unjustified. They, therefore, claim increased monthly wages, dearness allowance, leave and holidays and bonus together with reinstatement of all the workers named in the Order of Reference and/or at least six months' wages as compensation in lieu of involuntary unemployment.

The Bose Manna and Company and the Bose Manna & Co., Ltd., have submitted separate written statements, but their allegation and contentions are the same. The Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., affirms that it has purchased the machineries, plants, assets and goodwill of the dissolved partnership firm and has started working with employees none of whom is said to have any dispute with the limited Company. It contends that it is in no way connected with the dispute under reference, and is as such not a necessary party to the reference. The Bose Manna and Co. has stated that finding it impossible in the circumstances mentioned above to carry on its business further it decided to close the factory giving seven days' notice to all its workers terminating their services from after 31st January 1951. It is alleged that all the workers took payment of their dues in full satisfaction of their claims and the Company has no further liability to the workers. It has denied that the said firm was converted into a limited Company or that it was so converted fraudulently or with any ulterior or fraudulent motive.

Let us now turn to the issues set out in the Order of Reference for adjudication.

Issue No. 6.

This is the most important issue from the point of view of either party and it was most seriously pressed from both sides. The decision of the other issues will depend to a large extent on the findings on this issue which is accordingly taken up first.

The partnership firm, the Bose Manna & Co., was created by a contract of partnership between the two partners Amarendranath Bose and Nripendra Nath Manna, and the contract of partnership was later embodied in a deed of partnership, dated the 2nd December 1949, Exhibit A. The partnership was dissolved by mutual agreement between the two partners as expressed in the deed of dissolution of partnership, dated the 24th January 1951, Exhibit E. Notwithstanding the dissolution of a firm the partners continue to be liable as such to third parties for the acts of any one of themselves which, if done before dissolution, would have been an act of the firm itself, till public notice of dissolution is given. In other words, the dissolution of a firm as regards third parties is not complete till public notice is given thereof as mentioned above; till then all the partners remain liable, as partners, to outsiders for the acts of any one partner if done by him in the usual course of his authority as a partner. The authority of a partner, and the mutual rights and obligations of partners, continue after the dissolution only for winding up the affairs of the firm and for completing transactions pending at the date of dissolution, and no more. In this case the partnership was dissolved on 24th January 1951. The only third parties of whom we are aware and who might have some claims against the partnership were its workmen. Exhibit G is a document to show that as many as 25 workers, out of 31 which included 5 coolies, were paid their dues in full and final settlement of all their claims against the firm Messrs. Bose Manna & Co., Howrah. It is admitted that these workers also signed the Company's acquittance roll on receipt of full payment in final settlement of their claims against the Company. Some of the workers who were thrown out of employment as a result of the winding up of the business of the partnership firm were later employed in the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., which was incorporated on the 7th of February 1951. All the workers of the limited Company numbering 22 have submitted petitions individually stating that they have no dispute with their employer, namely, the Bose Manna & Co., Ltd. The signatures of those workers in the petitions mentioned above being verified by the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, it is established that all the 22 workers who filed those petitions have had no dispute with Messrs. Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., their present employer. Similarly, 18 workmen of the old partnership firm have submitted statements affirming that they have no dispute with the Bose Manna & Co., now dissolved, and that has been verified in the same way. The dissolved partnership firm, namely, the Bose Manna and Co., would thus appear to have liquidated its business on full and final settlement of claims of its workers, and has ceased to exist legally and in fact. The demand made by the Union on the Company through its letter, dated 11th December 1950, created by itself no right in favour of the workmen on whose behalf the demand was made, so long as the matter was not adjudicated upon and an award was not made granting the demands. So, by virtue of the demand, merely, the workers could have no entertainable claim against the partnership. It has been contended that the closure of the business of the partnership firm was in violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The learned Advocate appearing for the Union has argued that the closure was resorted to in violation of clause (a) of section 33 of the Act inasmuch as the partnership firm did not obtain permission of the Conciliation Officer for alteration of the conditions of service of the workmen during the conciliation proceedings which were then pending in respect of the demands of the workers. I fail to see how the contention can prevail. Clause (a) of section 33 prohibits alteration of the conditions of service applicable to the workmen concerned in the dispute immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, i.e., conciliation proceedings in this case. But the closure terminated the relationship of employer and employee between the parties to the dispute. It was not a case of alteration of the conditions of service applicable to the workers immediately before the commencement of the proceedings. In the written statement the Union contended that it was a lock-out which was resorted to by the Company on 24th January 1951. In the case of a "lock-out" the industry as such is not closed down even temporarily. But only particular workers are refused work. Closure of a business, temporarily, or permanently, is not the same as a "lock-out". In the present case the partnership has been dissolved and its business has been wound up permanently. The plants, machineries, assets and goodwill have been sold to a Company incorporated under the Companies Act which is altogether a different legal entity. By no stretch of imagination this closure can be called a lock-out as contended by the Union. As regards closure it has been decided by the Madras High Court in the Indian Metal and Meteorological Corporation vs. Industrial Tribunal, Madras (reported in the Indian Factories' Journal, January 1952, page 420), that the question whether an employer could or could not close down a business permanently or temporarily falls outside the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act. Having received their dues in full and final settlement of their claims against the Company, the workers should be deemed to have waived any further claim against the Company, and the dispute which was the subject-matter of conciliation had ceased to exist. It cannot, therefore, be said that the closure was an infringement of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Assuming that the closure was in violation of the provisions of section 33 it was not void or illegal merely by reason of that violation. The contention urged on behalf of the workmen seems, therefore to be misconceived and must fail.

The dismissal or discharge of the workers is not alleged to be the result of victimisation or exercise of unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. It has been admitted by P. W. 1 Kanai Lal Karar, examined on behalf of the Union, that Ajit Das had absented himself for one day and appeared on the following day and pleaded illness. He was asked to produce a medical certificate but he did not. The matter was represented to the Assistant Labour Commissioner as if he had been discharged. (Vide Exhibit D.) The Company, however, agreed at the suggestion of the Assistant Labour Commissioner to reinstate him with effect from 1st January 1951, the period from 21st December 1950 to 31st December 1950 being treated as leave without pay. It will be seen from the Conciliation Officer's report which is annexed to the Order of Reference that the Company had given an offer of agreement to allow to the workers eight days' festival holidays with pay and statutory leave according to the Factories Act. But ultimately the talks did not finalise. It is further mentioned in the report that the Company agreed to allow those workers who had been on strike from 10th January 1951, to resume their duties on and from 31st January 1951, and those workers who had been idle in consequence of the breakage of the machine to join their duties on and from 17th January 1951. It appears from the evidence of the said witness Kanai Lal that all the persons who were laid off in consonance of the breakage of the 20 H. P. machine worked after the machine was received back after repairs till the clutch and bush of the bolt-head machine were damaged, which event took place on 24th January 1951 according to the Company. Then, after the closure, all the workers were paid their wages and other dues up to the end of the notice period. It cannot be inferred from these circumstances that there was want of goodwill between the Comppany and its employees who were ultimately discharged in consequence of the closure of the business. So, no possible [illegible] of victimisation or exercise of unfair labour practice on the part of [illegible]pany in the matter of discharge of its employees can stand.

Actual loss or apprehended loss, or even disinclination to run the risk of carrying on the business when it is faced with uncertain economic condition in future, may be a sufficient ground for discontinuance or closure of his business by the owner. The Union alleges that the firm converted itself into a private limited Company with a fraudulent and ulterior motive. At the hearing it has been argued that the new concern Messrs. Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., which is a private limited Company bound by its Articles of Association, is but a partnership firm in the guise of a Company and it is the old partnership firm in another guise. But it has been frankly conceded that a private limited concern ought not to be treated on the footing of a partnership firm merely because it has purchased the property and assets of a dissolved partnership. At the same time it is contended that the limited Company cannot be absolved from the liability of its predecessor to its workmen whose service conditions were unjustifiably altered to their prejudice on the eve of the transfer of business. As I have already pointed out the theory on which the assumptions for the contention are based is not tenable. The partnership firm after its dissolution paid off its workers and sold its property, assets and goodwill to Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., with the full discharge certificate granted by its workers. It will not be correct to say that the limited Company purchased with the dispute still existing. Some 22 members of the work staff of the partnership firm were later employed in the limited Company and only about 10 men remained unemployed. The object of denying employment to these remaining 10 men is certainly very disproportionate to the alleged fraud. As a matter of fact, there is hardly any motive for perpetrating fraud as alleged by the Union. It may be mentioned here that six out of the 10 employees of the list appended to Issue No. 7 have since received employment in the limited Company. The 22 workmen of the limited Company have made it clear by their own statements that they have had no dispute with their present employer. It is similarly established that 18 employees of the old partnership firm have no dispute with their employer, i.e., the Bose Manna & Co. Evidently, the partnership firm had no liability after its dissolution and winding up of business which could be transferred to the limited Company, and no such liability was actually transferred to the limited Company under Exhibit N series by which the assets, property and goodwill of the Company were purchased by the limited concern. These documents (Exhibit N series) show that the property, assets and goodwill were purchased by the limited concern for more than Rs. 47,000. The authorised capital of the limited Company is rupees one lac, and the subscribed capital is Rs. 80,000. If with these materials we consider the relevant circumstances which immediately preceded the closure of the business of the Bose Manna & Co., there can be hardly any room for the contention that there was anything like fraud or ulterior motive behind the closure of the factory and the sale of the business and the assets of the old firm to the limited Company.

The facts that 20 H.P. machine of the bolt-forging shop was damaged and the contents of the barrel of lubricating oil were wasted are admitted. These things happened after the submission of the charter of demands dated 11th December 1950 by the Union. It is not proved when the workmen of the Bose Manna & Co. joined the Howrah Zilla Loha Karkhana Mazdoor Congress which is not the Union functioning in the factory of the Company. It has been alleged that the workers themselves submitted a charter of demands in writing to the Company before they joined the Howrah Zilla Loha Karkhana Mazdoor Congress. It might be that now and then the workers placed their grievances before the Management which was sympathetic to them until the submission of the written demands by the aforesaid Union. This is made clear by the evidence of P.W. 1 Kanai

Lal read with that of one of the partners, namely, Nripendra Nath Manna. But there is no tangible evidence relating to the written demand alleged to have been submitted by the workers themselves before they joined the Howrah Zilla Loha Karkhana Mazdoor Congress. So, the plea of the workers themselves having raised a dispute before the submission of demands by the Union stands to be rejected. It is contended on behalf of the Company that the dispute which the Howrah Zilla Loha Karkhana Mazdoor Congress raised by submission of the charter of demands was not a bona fide one, because, in the opinion of the Company, the workers joined the said Union after the issue of the letter of the 11th December 1950. This contention is not displaced by the Union evidence. The fact that the workers received their wages and other dues in full and final settlement of their claim against the Company after the closure without the least objection and that a majority of them have expressed themselves as having no dispute with the Company, go a great way to lend colour to the Company's suggestion. I am unable to suppose that the proprietors of the firm themselves kept the cork of the barrel of lubricating oil open so that its contents might be wasted with loss to themselves. Nor is it possible to think that the proprietors themselves damaged the 20 H.P. machine of the old forging shop and then had it repaired and put in order only to deprive of its workmen of their work for some time. The machine was restarted on 18th January 1951, but again the clutch and bush of the bolt-head machine were damaged on 24th January 1951. It is no doubt admitted by both sides that an enquiry was held on the spot but the liability for the breakage of the machine, or the wastage of the contents of the barrel of lubricating oil, could not be fixed on any particular individual. But that does not exclude the possibility of the damage and the wastage having been committed by the workers. None of them would disclose the real culprit. The circumstance would, on the other hand, strongly suggest that it was the workers who were responsible for the damage of the machinery and the wastage of the contents of the barrel of oil, and these were acts of sabotage committed by them. The reason possibly is that Ajit Das who was absent without leave or notice was not allowed to work on the 21st December without a medical certificate. This fact was given the colour of a wrongful discharge resorted to by the employer. That was the representation made to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, though as a matter of fact, there was no discharge. The result was that there was a commotion and a flare-up amongst the workers. Following that incident the workers immediately went on tool-down strike. The Company lost no time to report the fact to the Conciliation Officer. He had been to the factory several times in connection with the troubles between the Company and its workers. The truth of the Company's report appears to have been accepted by the Conciliation Officer. The dispute regarding Ajit Das was settled on 5th January (See Exhibit D). There was again a strike of the workers of the 10 H.P. machine section on and from 10th January 1951, which was also timely reported to the Assistant Labour Commissioner seeking his intervention. There was a joint conference on 12th January 1951, and the workers on strike joined on 13th January 1951. Then, the clutch and bush of the bolt-head machine were destroyed on 24th January 1951. Besides one of the partners Nripendra Nath Manna was insulted by some of the workers. It seems evident that the workers had gone out of control. In the circumstances, the partners might reasonably have felt that there was hardly any chance of carrying on the business successfully with any prospect of making profit in future. It was not unnatural for them to think that to carry on the business any further might mean immediate loss to themselves both in respect of their property and their future earnings. Not only there was no fraud in that they decided to close down the factory but the decision appears clearly to have been taken bona fide. In the case of a limited Company the liabilities are apportioned among the shareholders, but in the case of a partnership the whole loss, when loss occurs, falls on the partners themselves. While the partnership was constituted of two partners only, 8 members of the family of the two partners floated the limited Company under the Indian Companies Act. The business, it is said, was virtually a means of their livelihood. There is nothing unreasonable in that they decided to float the limited Company with a view to minimising the measure of risk involved in the undertaking as in that case no individual member was to bear the whole liability in the event of loss. The limited Company was formed for bona fide reasons and not for any other ulterior motive. Even Ajit Das and his brother Sreekanta were employed in the limited Company though there was trouble regarding them while the partnership subsisted. There were others who had been in the trouble but they were also given employment in the limited Company. This would show that the employers bore no illwill against the employees even when the partnership ceased. I find that there was no unfair dealing or fraud in the matter of formation of the limited Company by the members of the families of Boses and Mannas. For all these reasons I am led to hold that the closure of the business was justified.

The dispute had been raised prior to the formation of the Bose Manna & Co., Ltd. So there is no dispute which calls for adjudication between the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., and these employees. Moreover, all the 22 workmen of the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., have expressly stated that they have no dispute with their employer, i.e., the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd. No question can, therefore, arise as to the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd., being bound by the award which might be made in this case.

All the workers of the old partnership firm, namely, the Bose Manna and Co., were daily-rated but weekly paid workers. Their services were legally terminated by seven days' notice given to them on 24th January 1951. Those workers admittedly got their notice period pay and other emoluments in full and final settlement of their claims against the said Company. Moreover, the said Company has ceased to exist both in point of law as well as in fact. So neither the question of reinstatement can arise, nor any claim of compensation is tenable.

Issue No. 7.

I may mention at the outset that six of the seven men have already been provided with employment in the Bose Manna and Co., Ltd. I have already pointed out that the workers themselves were responsible for the breakage of the machinery for which the work of the bolt-head forging shop had to be suspended with the result that these men were out of employment till the machinery was repaired and restarted. It is in evidence that after the repairs these men were allowed to resume work and they worked till the clutch and bush of the bolt-head machine were damaged and the factory was closed. I am satisfied from the circumstances disclosed in evidence that the workmen had resorted to tool-down strike over the matter of supposed discharge of Ajit Das and the strike was illegal. Their employer, the Bose Manna and Co., has closed down its business for ever and has ceased to exist. For all these reasons they cannot be granted benefit of involuntary unemployment for the period of unemployment. It has been urged by the Union that there was an agreement for payment of half wages to these workers for the period of their forced unemployment through the intervention of the Conciliation Officer. But that is not a fact, as it will appear from the Conciliation Officer's report itself that this was only his suggestion. Sri Nripendra Nath Manna actually did not set up to the

The issues are disposed of accordingly.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2 of the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal deal with the minimum basic wages and scales of pay of the workers of different categories and dearness allowance of such workers. Working hours have been dealt with under issues Nos. 2(a) and 12. In deciding these two points, the learned adjudicators appear to have entered into the monthly budget of the working class based on balanced standard diet for a family of 3-consumption units in the pre-war days, the rise in the cost of living index since then, current ruling rates of wages and financial resources of the marginal units of the Engineering industry. A question appears to have been raised before the Tribunal as to whether the minimum wages and dearness allowance fixed by the award could be reduced where the worker works less than 48 hours as fixed by the Indian Factories Act. Intention of the learned adjudicators was to standardize the service conditions of the Engineering industry as far as possible. Industry is a national asset and the interest of an industry must have priority over all other questions, and with a view that even the marginal units might not be affected adversely by the scheme of basic wages and dearness allowance and with a view that the workers got the minimum wages and dearness allowance as fixed by the award, the learned adjudicators directed that the wages and dearnes allowance could by no means be reduced by reduction of working hours and that those units whose working hours were less than 48 hours as prescribed by the statute could raise the working hours to 48 without increasing the basic wages and dearness allowance as fixed by the award. It appears that the Engineering Associations apprehended that the increased burden on the finance of some of the firms caused by the scheme of basic wages and dearness allowance to be laid down in the award might act adversely against them. The Engineering Associations demanded that the increased amenities which the Tribunal might grant should be closely linked with higher standard of production from labour and that the employers should be given the right to introduce any measure which they consider desirable to secure a fair day's work for fair wages. This demand by the Engineering Associations was turned down. They then prayed to the Tribunal to authorise those firms which were working at that time less than 48 hours per week to increase the working hours to the level permitted by the Factories Act, without increasing the wages payable to labour as laid down by the Tribunal. This demand was allowed in the following terms. As to the second point, the minimum wages as fixed for the unskilled worker by the Tribunal is expected to be for the standard working week of 48 hours as permitted under the Factories Act. If firms work for less than this, they must still pay the minimum wages fixed but there would be no objection to their increasing the working hours to the level permitted by the Factories Act. It appears that the Tribunal had always before it the interest of the Engineering Industry. Maximum working hours in a week fixed by the Factories Act are 48 and in the absence of any definite evidence to the contrary the presumption would be that majority of the firms worked 48 hours a week. Although the working hours were not referred to under issues Nos. 1 and 2 relating to minimum basic wages and dearness allowance, the learned adjudicators proceeded on the presumption that all workers were employed for full time without any opportunity to supplement their earnings by working outside the factories to which they were attached, in other words the learned adjudicators proceeded on the assumption that the wages to be fixed would be the exclusive earnings of the workers. The learned adjudicators observe under issue No. 11: "The rules as to working hours ought to be uniform all over India, for industries in Bengal are subject to competition with industries in other Provinces. In the circumstances, we see no reason for any change in the working hours and spread over as fixed by the Factories Act, 1934, as amended in 1946". Thus it is clear that the learned adjudicators had always in their minds that the workers in the Engineering firms were generally employed for 48 hours a week, when they laid down the scheme of basic wages and dearness allowance. This fact has been emphasised by the learned adjudicators in the summary of the award given at the end of the award.

"The wages are fixed for the standard working week of 48 hours. Increase of working hours to the standard may be made without increasing the pay scales fixed, but no reduction of the pay scales will be permitted for a reduction in working hours". Under the head "Application of the Award" the learned adjudicators directed that the award would not affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by the award, unless an express provision had been made in the award concerning such advantage. The workers of the present firm rely on this direction in the award. Their contention is that the workmen of Messrs. Guest Keen Williams, Ltd., were paid at hourly rates and that what was paid to them for 45 hours before the award were being paid for 48 hours after the award. Their contention is that prior to the award for working more than 45 hours, they used to get their guaranteed total emoluments for 45 hours plus additional emoluments for the work in excess of 48 hours. They were thus made to lose a portion of their emoluments which they would have got for 3 hours a week in excess of 45 hours. In the letter addressed by the Works Manager to the Joint Secretary of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, dated 15th May 1950 (Annexure 2), to the Company's written statement, it was admitted that the workers in this firm were paid on hourly basis, and the working hours were increased from 45 to 48 hours on 3rd October 1948. In spite of this admission, it was contended on behalf of the Company before me that all wages were fixed on a monthly basis and the hourly rates were calculated and shown in the wage chart for convenience of deductions. Previous to 29th September 1946 the workers appear to have been appointed on daily rates. But subsequently when the grades were introduced for the workers, the appointments referred only to the grades in which the particular workmen had been placed. The grades were detailed in a separate chart in which the monthly rates and hourly rates of basic wages and dearness allowance were noted. I examined at random the duty cards of Dulal Chandra Das, Ticket No. H/210, Tinkori Das, Ticket No. H/602 and Durga Charan Nag, Ticket No. H/769. Exhibit C represents the grades as revised on 29th September 1947. It is clear from this chart that the column of hourly basic rates and the hourly gross rates of each grade are followed by gross amount of monthly emoluments. In fact, in the Attendance Register I noticed that those who worked for more than 45 hours a week were paid extra emoluments for the works in excess of 45 hours. Thus in the case of one Arjun who worked for 46 hours in the week ending on 4th May 1948 was paid $\frac{\text{monthly rate}}{195} \times 46$. Exhibit B represents the wages of the workers of different grades after the award of the first Major Engineering Tribunal. In the wage chart the monthly basic rates for the workers of the different grades are followed by hourly basis rates. I may be permitted to emphasise here that in the wage chart prior to the award, the hourly rates for the workers of different grades were followed by the monthly rates. The workmen have filed the chart (Exhibit A) to show how the workmen were affected by the change. Admittedly the workers were not monthly-rated workers. Unlike the monthly-rated workers they were paid their wages at the end of each week. On the evidence that has been placed before me, I am inclined to hold that before the award of the First Major Tribunal, the workmen were paid at hourly rates as admitted by the Works Manager in his letter to the Secretary of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, dated 15th May 1950, already referred to. It is clear from the award that the learned adjudicators fixed the minimum basic wages and dearness allowance for the month of 26 working days and a day of 8 working hours. Those who were paying basic wages and dearness allowance at higher rates were not allowed to reduce these rates, to bring them to the level of the minimum rates fixed by the award. Those who were paying at lower rates were directed to pull up the wages and dearness allowance to the minimum monthly and daily rates fixed by the award as to ensure each and every worker, the minimum rates fixed by the award. Hourly rates do not appear to have been considered by the learned adjudicators. Under this award the hourly rates which did not ensure the workers the minima fixed by the award were to be pulled up so that the workers might get the minima fixed by the award. Hourly rates were not to be affected by the award except in such cases. In the present firm what was being paid for 195 hours was distributed for 208 hours by raising the weekly hours from 45 to 48. This undoubtedly reduced the rates existing prior to the award. This was not warranted by the award. What was permitted by the award was that those firms who worked less than 48 hours a week might increase the working hours to 48 instead of reducing the rates of wages and dearness allowance fixed by the award. Even those firms who were not paying less than what was prescribed in this award but were working less than 48 hours were entitled to raise the working hours to 48 without increasing the wages and dearness allowance provided the workers of such firms were paid at daily rates or monthly rates, for in such cases those rates of wages and dearness allowance are not affected. The learned adjudicators did not appear to have considered the hourly rates of these firms who worked less than 48 hours but paid the worker at such hourly rates as ensured the workers' total emoluments not below what were prescribed by the award. The learned adjudicators had undoubtedly no intention to reduce the hourly rates of the workers in such firms. In any case, there was no express provision in the award about such workers. Hence the observation of the learned adjudicators under the head "Application of the Award" already referred to does not affect the hourly rates of basic wages and dearness allowances prevailing in the firm of Messrs. Guest Keen Williams, Ltd., prior to the award.

Immediately after the working hours had been raised to 48, the workers grumbled that their total emoluments were reduced thereby. The matter went up to the Labour Commissioner and the opinion of the Tribunal Judges was sought. The services of the Chairman, Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., could not be available then. The matter was referred to the other two Judges, Sri P. R. Mukherjee and Sri P. K. Sirkar, and they gave their opinion on 17th June 1949. They were definitely of opinion that under the award where the wages were paid on hourly basis, the labourers should be paid on that basis subject only to the provision that the total earnings might not fall below the minima laid down in the award. This point was again referred to Sri P. K. Sirkar, and he gave a separate opinion on 28th March 1950. "Point 1 of the dispute had been referred to me and my colleague Sri P. R. Mukherjee for opinion on 14th June 1949 and we gave our opinion on 17th June 1949. It will be found at page 29 of the record. We then gave our opinion that if the Company had been paying the workers wages on hourly basis they shall not cut down the hourly rates of wages but must pay at the same rates. To do otherwise would be to take away the existing privilege of the workers". Although I feel that the opinion of Sri P. R. Mukherjee and Sri P. K. Sirkar does not amount to Tribunal's interpretation of the award inasmuch as that without the Chairman, the two members could not by themselves be the Tribunal which gave the award, their opinion clearly indicates what was considered by the Tribunal and what was not. Their opinion clearly supports my view that the Tribunal in their anxiety to ensure the minima fixed by the award to the workers directed that instead of basic wages and dearness allowance being reduced in any firm, the working hours might be increased to the standard of 48 hours a week, and that those firms which were paying the workers at monthly or daily rates might raise the working hours without raising the wages and dearness allowance provided such wages and dearness allowance were not below the minima fixed by the award. The Tribunal had no intention to reduce the rates of wages and dearness allowance in any way, no matter whether the rates were hourly or daily or monthly. The workers of this firm were being paid at hourly rates. Although they work 45 hours a week, their wages and dearness allowance worked out not below what were fixed by the award. The firm can raise the hours without altering the rates but instead of keeping the rates of wages and dearness allowance undisturbed, the employers of this firm reduced the rates of wages and dearness allowance existing prior to the award. This cannot be permitted. The workers shall be paid at the hourly rates as they were being paid prior to the award. The workers shall get wages and dearness allowance as directed above with retrospective effect from the date when the working hours were increased less what has been received by them.

Involuntary unemployment during March to June 1948.—The direction about involuntary unemployment in the award of the First Major Engineering Tribunal was as follows :—

Accordingly we direct that compensation for a period of involuntary unemployment should be payable at the rate of half the basic pay and half the dearness allowance for 30 days in each half year from January to June and July to December. To qualify for the unemployment benefit, the worker must answer to a muster-roll once a day at his usual place of employment, and a worker must be prepared to do work even of a different sort in his factory or in any other establishment under the same employers and if he refuses to do so, he will be ineligible for the benefit. This award came into force on the 1st of April 1948. The employers of the present firm want to split up the period of involuntary employment from January to June into two quarters—January to March and April to June. They accordingly allowed 15 days' involuntary unemployment compensation on the ground that the first quarter of the year was outside the award. For calculation of the involuntary unemployment compensation, the half years mentioned in the order providing for involuntary unemployment compensation cannot be altered. The workers are to get 30 days' compensation for each half year at half of the basic pay and half of the dearness allowance. The months of January and June and the months of July and December are the nodal of the two half years. These nodal point cannot be altered, nor can these periods between nodal points be split up. The involuntary unemployment compensation is to be calculated on the total period of unemployment during each of these half years, and the compensation is due at the end of the half years. From this view of the case, the employers were not justified in splitting up the period from January to June. The contention of the Company is that the award was in force from the 1st of April 1948 to the 31st of March 1949, and that if they were required to pay involuntary unemployment at the full rates for the periods ending on the 30th June and 31st December, they would be required to pay further compensation for the period ending on the 31st of March 1949, and that they would be thus forced to pay involuntary compensation for more than a year under the award which was to be in force for one year only. This argument does not appeal to me. Under the award the employers were required to pay involuntary unemployment compensation for the half years ending on 30th June 1948 and 31st December 1948. If there were further involuntary unemployments during the period from January to June 1949, the employer would be liable to pay involuntary unemployment compensation for these periods not under award, but under the standing orders which were directed to be altered in the light of the directions and recommendations in the award. I am accordingly of opinion that for the involuntary unemployment during the period ending on the 30th June 1948, the workers shall be paid involuntary unemployment compensation at the rate of half the basic pay and half the dearness allowance subject to the maximum limit of 30 days, as laid down in the award.

I could understand that on the complaint of the workmen that the award had not been implemented on the two points under reference, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, prosecuted the employers. The ase was decided by Sri M. A. T. Iyenger, Additional District Magistrate, Howrah. The learned Magistrate acquitted the employers, Messrs. Guest Keen Williams, Ltd. The interpretations, the learned Magistrate appears to have put on the directions of the award, touching on these two points are not quite in keeping with the principles accepted in the Labour Courts and Tribunals. I cannot persuade myself to accept the interpretations.

The workmen shall be paid the wages and dearness allowance for the increment in the working hours at the hourly rates as were being paid before the award since when the working hours were increased and involuntary unemployment compensation for the half year, January to June 1948 at half the basic wages and half dearness allowance, subject to a maximum limit of 30 days. The amounts received by the workmen on these accounts shall be debited. These payments shall be made within a month from the date when this award comes into force.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Marwari Relief Society (Rasayanshala), Lillooah, with Head Office at 391, Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta, and its workers represented by the Rasayanshala Workers' Union, Lillooah, Howrah.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate assisted by Sri D. P. Jhunjhunwala, General Manager, appears for the Company.

For the Union: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, assisted by Sri L. P. Singh, Secretary of the Union, appears for the Union.

AWARD.

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 151Dis./D/11L-22/52, dated the 24th January 1952, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the aforesaid industrial dispute, to me for adjudication.

The case of the Union is that the Marwari Relief Society has not its activities confined to charitable works only but has under it several profit-earning manufacturing departments, known as (a) Rasayanshala, (b) Mug Bread (Panparh) Manufacturing Department, (c) Puri and Sweetmeat Department, (d) Sales Department for selling the Allopathic medicines (purchased at a commission), Ayurvedic medicines, Mug Bread, etc. and (e) Income from rent of houses, etc. There are some uncalled for insinuations made by the Union that the Society aforesaid concerns are more often than not utilised for feeding the other allied private business in which the Secretaries or other responsible executives are interested at the cost of the Company and public at large. It is not necessary to narrate all these insinuations which have been made to undermine the interests of the Relief Society.

The fact shortly speaking is that the Company had discharged two of the workers one Sita Ram Singh and Baccha Missir and it is alleged that both of them were leaders of the Union having put in more than ten years' service in this Company.

Sitaram Singh's case is that he had been dismissed from service by a letter, dated 10th April 1951, on a false and malicious pretext and that he had been kept in the dark regarding the charges and was not given any opportunity to defend himself. Regarding Baccha Missir, it is said that he was an active member of the Union and the Society on a false plea discharged him from service. The details of the allegations made by the Society will be narrated in the body of the Award.

The Society appears and files a written statement alleging that it is an institution solely devoted to constructive social work and relief operations all over India, irrespective of caste and community. It is alleged that Sitaram Singh was appointed in the Rasayanshala Department to look into the purchase but his actions were highly irregular and involved criminal practices and as such action was taken against him by the Society. Regarding Baccha Missir the allegations are that he was asked to prepare Mamira Surma but he stole a considerable quantity of the preparation and as such proceedings were drawn up against him and he had been dismissed from service.

ISSUES.

(1) If the discharge of (i) Sitaram Singh and (ii) Baccha Missir was justified and if any of them is entitled to reinstatement and any other relief.

Sitaram alleges that he held a responsible office of the Chief Purchasing Clerk ever since 1929, but fell into disfavour of Sri Gouri Sankar Goenka, who became the Secretary in the year 1938 when he had to resign, and one Sitaram Karina, brother-in-law of Gourisankar Goenka was appointed the Purchasing Clerk. It is alleged that when Sri Dharamchand Sarogi became the Secretary in 1945, he called Sitaram Singh back in his original post. But in 1951 Sri Gourisankar Goenka became the Law Secretary of the Marwari Society. It is alleged that the present charge against him is false and principally manipulated by Gourisankar Goenka who with the help of Purusottamdas Kejriwala, the present Secretary and his friend has been able to discharge him. There is no independent evidence to substantiate this allegation and it is hard to believe that a responsible would stoop so low as to manipulate false charges to drive an e holds no better position than a clerk.

Let us examine the charges against Sitaram. The charge against him is that made some purchases in which the prices charged on the Society were much her than the current bazar rate, and a thorough and impartial enquiry had been made by Gourisankar Goenka and Ramchandra Sharma. It is seen that Dhaiful was purchased at the rate of Rs. 19 per maund by Sitaram Singh from Kamala Bhandar, whereas the same quantity of the same quality was purchased by Messrs. Biswanath Samsundar (Rasayanshala Secretary's firm) from the same selling concern at Rs. 13 per maund, i.e., about 40 per cent. less. Kali Marich was purchased by Sri Sitaram Singh from Kamala Bhandar at the rate of Rs. 420 per maund whereas the same quantity of the same quality was purchased in cash by Messrs. Biswanath Shyam Sundar from the same selling concern at Rs. 400 per maund one day after. There was another charge that sugar weighing 3 maunds 20 seers was transferred to the Rasayanshala from the Society's Seva Bibhag through Sri Sitaram Singh. While the sugar was actually made over to the Rasayanshala, it weighed 12 seers less. Two of the responsible office-bearers made this enquiry and from the nature of the charges it was not very necessary that Sitaram Singh should be present there, when the prices were ascertained on verification by cash memo. Whatever that may be, there was grave irregularity in conducting this enquiry which ought in fairness have been made in presence of Sitaram. The thing is this that the Society lost all confidence in Sitaram after receiving this report of the two prominent office-bearers and highly respectable citizen of this metropolis. It is hard to believe that Gouri Sankar Goenka would still bear grudge against Sitaram and would stoop so low as to dismiss him from service by this underhand means. That Sitaram was not very honest is evident from the fact that the criminal case had been started against him for cheating under section 420, I.P.C. After he had been dismissed from service of the Society on 5th May 1951, when he had no authority to purchase anything on behalf of the Society after his dismissal, he purchased two bags of black pepper for the Rasayanshala under the Marwari Relief Society on credit on 8th May 1951 and signed the books of account as Jinnath. The offence was proved and he had been criminally convicted. It shows that Sitaram was a dishonest cheat so the allegation by Society that he purchased at prices higher than the real price was substantially true. There was some irregularity in conducting the enquiry as also there was some irregularity in issuing an order of dismissal on 10th April 1951 before making the enquiry but the Company, however, later on issued the letter of dismissal, dated 5th May 1951, to confirm the illegal discharge on 10th April 1951. Whatever that may be on reading the evidence of the Manager as also the judgment of the Criminal Case I cannot order reinstatement of this worker, especially after his conviction in the criminal case.

Bachha Misir. He says that he was an active member of the Union and that he had resorted to hunger-strike in the year 1949 when the Society illegally discharged one Baijnath Tewari and the Company had to reinstate Baijnath as a result of the agitation which was intensified by the hunger-strike of Bachha Misir. The charge against Bachha Misir is that he was asked to fill up 179 phials returned by Sukhia Sahu. Mamira Surma which had been prepared by Sukhia Sahu was not up to the mark, so Bachha Misir was asked to pestle it more finely. But he filled up only 88 bottles with the contents. His case is that the preparation contained camphor which being volatile, evaporated during the period of preparation and as such the mixture became heavier and this accounts for the lesser number of bottles which were filled up by him. Bachha Misir submitted his explanation before the Society and he says that this Surma had been lying in the Mortar for about six months. Since then it is being pestled and kept in the sun. There has been delay in this process due to rain. He also says that he did not count the number of bottles which were to be filled up. There is no evidence by the Vaid or anybody to prove the allegations. The Opposite Party Society examines only the Manager who has no direct knowledge on the point. The man Bachha is lame, and reading between the lines of evidence, I am inclined to think that he ought to have been given benefit of doubt in this case. The Vaid would have been the most fit person to depose if during process of being pestled and kept in the sun for about six months the contents become heavy or not. As for myself I cannot say anything definitely on the point. No expert has been examined. In my opinion, the case of this employee ought to have been considered more carefully. It was at best a case of carelessness or negligence but I am not inclined to think that he misappropriated Surma as complained of by the Society. In my opinion, order of dismissal so far as Br—— Missir is concerned, was unjustified, and as such, I direct that he be reins with effect from the date of his discharge with all arrear wages up-to-date. He will not be entitled to any further compensation.

So far as the discharge of Sitaram is concerned, I confirm the order of dismissal passed by the Society. He will not be entitled to any wages or compensation consequent of discharge, as it was on ground of misconduct. I make my award accordingly.

AWARD.

These 26 complaints filed by 26 workmen of the Shama Biscuit Co., have been taken up together. They involve the same questions of facts and law. The 26 workmen mentioned above have filed separate application complaining that during pendency of the adjudication proceedings started under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 362Dis., dated the 16th February 1952, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., and their workmen, the Company have altered, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned, the condition of service applicable to them immediately before commencement of the aforesaid adjudication proceedings, without express permission in writing of the Tribunal as required by section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by Industrial Dispute (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950. The separate complaints of the 26 workmen dealing with the same matter and couched in the same language were filed on 4th June 1952. One of these complaints is reproduced below—

Dated the 4th June 1952.

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

SIR,

Re: Dispute between the Shama Biscuit Company and its employees.

I am employee of the Shama Biscuit Company, have been refused one month's annual leave with pay, which in accordance with the conditions of service, as recorded by the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, I should get every year. I, therefore, pray for your intervention under section 33A of the I. D. Act.

Yours faithfully,
(Sd.)

Pursuant to the order of reference No. 362Dis./D/11L-38/52, dated the 16th February 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, adjudication proceedings were started before this Tribunal immediately on receipt of the order of reference. The award which followed was published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1457-Dis./D/11L-38/52, dated the 26th May 1952, in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 12th June 1952. Under section 20(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, the adjudication proceedings in respect of the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., and their workmen must be deemed to have been pending from the date of reference of the dispute for adjudication up to the date of publication of the award by the appropriate Government under section 17 of the Act. Thus the adjudication proceedings were pending from the 16th February 1952 up to the 26th May 1952. Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Dispute (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceeding before a Conciliation Officer, or a Tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such a dispute, of the condition of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, or discharge, or punishment by dismissal or otherwise of any workmen concerned in such dispute except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of the provision of section 33 during pendency of proceedings before the Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorised the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended, without formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act, and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute. Section 33A is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute without any order of reference from the appropriate Government, as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are—

(1) That there has been a contravention of the provision of section 33 of the Act by the employer to the prejudice of the workmen during pendency of adjudication proceedings over an industrial dispute in which the complainants as workmen are interested.

(2) That such contravention is in respect of workmen concerned in the dispute pending for adjudication.

That the present complainants are workmen concerned in the industrial dispute which was the subject-matter of reference No. 362Dis., dated the 16th February 1952, cannot be disputed. The only question is whether section 33 of the amended Act has been contravened by the employer to the prejudice of the workmen who are complainants before me.

The present complaints are about the alteration of the condition of service of the workmen of Messrs. Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd. On an analysis of section 33 of the Amended Industrial Disputes Act, I find that discharge or punishment by dismissal or otherwise of the workmen individually during pendency of any adjudication proceedings over an industrial dispute in which workmen are concerned may amount to contravention of section 33, clause (b), provided such discharge or punishment is effected without permission of the Industrial Tribunal before whom the adjudication proceedings are pending, but about the alteration of the condition of service, in order to attract the provision of section 33 of the amended Act, the act of the employer must be to the prejudice of the workmen taken collectively. The mere fact that one or more of the workmen individually have been denied the privileges or benefits available to the workmen in general under the existing terms and conditions of service in an industry, cannot be constituted a change in the condition of service. It is only when such privileges and benefits are denied to the workmen taken collectively, the inference is that the conditions of service have been changed. The complaints of the 26 workmen before me are that the Company have refused the statutory leave with pay which is available to them. These 26 workmen had instead of filing one joint complaint filed separate applications complaining in common that they had been refused statutory leave with pay for one month during pendency of the proceedings before this Tribunal for adjudication of industrial dispute as already referred to. I may accordingly presume that the complaint is of the workmen taken collectively. The entire body of the workmen of the Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., have not joined in the complaint. Only those workmen who were aggrieved by the refusal of leave have applied for some redress. There is no evidence that the other workmen applied for leave and were similarly refused. In the absence of any suggestion to the contrary I may presume that the only 26 workmen before us applied for leave due to them and were refused. Thus this was the grievence of the workmen in general taken collectively. Our present duty will be to enquire whether the workmen of the Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., were entitled to one month's annual leave with pay as a condition of their service immediately before commencement of the adjudication proceedings in respect of the industrial dispute under the reference, dated the 16th February 1952, whether the workmen before us applied for such leave in time and whether such leave was unlawfully or improperly refused to them entirely or partially during pendency of the adjudication proceedings. It may be noted that no definite evidence has been placed before me during the present proceedings as to how much of such leave is due to the workmen of the Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., in a year or how much was actually due to the complainants before us or when these complainants claim to have applied for leave.

It may be noted that the applications of complaint do not disclose when the workmen actually applied for leave or for how much leave they had applied for, or when the leave was to commence and when the leave prayed for was refused. All the applications before me are vague. Mere refusal of leave does not amount to a change in the condition of service. In making out a case that leave with pay has been wrongfully refused to individual workmen, it must be established that the workmen concerned applied for leave in time as provided by the Indian Factories Act or by the rules framed thereunder or by Standing Orders of the Company framed in strict conformity with the statutory provisions, with sufficient notice to the management to make necessary arrangements during the absence of the workmen applying for leave. The present complainants are the workers of the factory of the Shama Biscuit Company, Limited. It is not disputed that the factory comes under the Indian Factories Act. Section 79 of the Indian Factories Act provides a minimum annual leave with wages for the workers in a factory. This annual leave is cumulative as provided in sub-section (2) of the said section. Sub-section (3) of the section 79 of the Indian Factories Act provides that at least 15 full working days' notice should be given to the Manager of the factory in writing about the intention of the workers to go on leave. I reproduce below this sub-section.

"A worker may in any such period of twelve months apply in writing to the Manager of the factory, not less than 15 full working days before the date on which he wished his leave to begin, to take all the leave or any portion thereof, allowable to him during that period under sub-sections (1) and (2)." This sub-section has been enacted with a view to ensure the continuity of work in a factory. For this purpose the Manager of the factory is required to prepare a scheme in writing for leave allowable by the section which may be regulated in consultation with the workers' representative and to lodge with the Chief Inspector a copy of this scheme. The copy of this scheme has got also to be posted in a convenient place of the factory and the scheme is to be enforced for a period of 12 months from the date of lodging it with the Chief Inspector of Factories. This scheme may be renewed with or without modifications at intervals of 12 months. Leave may be refused only when the application for leave is not in accordance with section 79(3) of the Indian Factories Act or when the leave applied for is not in accordance with the scheme lodged with the Chief Inspector of Factories which is for the time being in operation. Right of a worker to annual leave with pay is subject to some limitations and conditions imposed by the statute. Annual leave with pay to be a term and condition of service of a worker must be subject to those limitations and conditions. It is clear that mere refusal of leave does not amount to an alteration of the conditions of service as contemplated by section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, as amended. To make out a case that in refusing leave the service conditions have been altered as contemplated by section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act,—it must be established—

(1) That the workmen making the grievance about the refusal of leave to them did apply for such leave not less than 15 full working days before the date on which they intended for taking their leave and that such leave was due to them.

(2) That the scheme framed under sub-sections (4) and (5) of section 79 of the Indian Factories Act did not justify refusal of the leave applied for by the complainants. It will be seen that in most cases the refusal of leave to the workmen complained of did not take place during pendency of the adjudication proceedings started under the order of reference of the 16th February 1952, and that in the few cases where the refusal is alleged to have been taken place during pendency of the adjudication proceedings, the complainants did not appear to have applied for leave in strict comformity with section 79(3) of the Indian Factories Act. The statute gives the right to the Manager of a factory to refuse leave if application for such leave is not in conformity with the statutory provisions of section 79(3) of the Indian Factories Act.

Complainants Baddinath Jana (Case No. 37/52), Parananda (Case No. 39/52), A. Sajed (Case No. 40/52), Safatuallah (Case No. 41/52), Kartik Das (Case No. 42/52), Sk. Rajan (Case No. 50/52), Hari Dhar (Case No. 44/52), Abdus Samad Khan (Case No. 46/52), Md. Khan (Case No. 53/52), Lal Mohammad (Case No. 55/52), Shahar Ali (Case No. 58/52), Abdus Samad Khan (Case No. 59/52), and Motki Routh (Case No. 61/52), were absent at the hearing. I have already mentioned that their applications are vague. Applications are silent whether the workers applied for leave during pendency of the adjudication proceedings started under the order of reference of 16th February 1952, whether such leave was due to them and whether they applied for such leave in strict conformity of section 79(3) of the Indian Factories Act. Mere refusal by the Management of an annual leave or any portion thereof to the workman does not amount to an unlawful alteration of the service condition of the workmen. The onus is on the complainants to establish their case against the Management, and unless and until the case is established, they are not entitled to any relief against the Management under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Dispute (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950.

From the other complainants who are present before this Tribunal, I have ascertained their specific grievances. I have prepared an abstract of their grievances. I could understand that in most cases the refusal took place long before commencement of the adjudication proceedings under the order of reference of 16th February 1952. In a very few cases, the refusal is alleged to have taken during pendency of the adjudication proceedings but even in these few cases, the applications were not submitted in strict conformity with the provisions of section 79(3) of the Indian Factories Act. The grievances of the workmen are detailed below:—

Cases where leave are said to have been refused before the order of reference of 16th February 1952.

Case No.	Name of complainant.	Application for leave.	When leave to commence (date, month and year).
38/52 ..	Radhu Routh ..	1950-51 ..	1950-51.
43/52 ..	Abdul Gaffor ..	Month of Ramjan 1951.	Month of 1951. Leave for 15 days granted with pay.
45/52 ..	Lal Mohan Katua	April 1951 ..	Leave granted without pay.
47/52 ..	Sk. Anaruallah ..	1950 and May 1951	Leave granted in May 1951 without pay.
48/52 ..	Noor Mohammad ..	1950 ..	Leave granted without pay.
52/52 ..	Abdul Gaffar ..	Ramjan 1951 ..	Leave granted for 15 days without pay.
54/52 ..	Sahadat Ali ..	In April 1951 ..	....
56/52 ..	Mamtajali ..	1950-51 (8 to 10 months).	Leave with pay refused.
60/52 ..	Sk. Anarwallah ..	14th May 1951 ..	Leave for 14 days granted without pay.

It is clear that the refusal of leave, if there had been any in such cases, were prior to commencement of the adjudication proceedings started under the order of reference of the 16th February 1952. I cannot assume jurisdiction under section 33A of the Industrial Dispute Act, as amended, over this grievance of the workmen. These complaints are accordingly dismissed.

It will be seen that in the following four cases, according to the complainants concerned, their applications for leave were not in strict conformity with the requirements of section 79(3) of the Indian Factories Act:—

Cases where leave are said to have been refused during pendency of adjudication proceedings under the order of reference of the 16th February 1952.

Case No.	Name of complainant.	Application for leave.	When leave to commence (date, month and year).
49/52	.. Md. Ishahaque	.. Applied for leave by an application, dated 1st Jaistha last, 4 days before the date that the leave was to commence. Leave refused.
51/52	.. Sk. Rahim	.. Applied for leave last year and this year by an application, dated 10th Ramjan, leave to commence on 11th Ramjan.
57/52	.. Sukdeo Routh	.. 5th April 1952	.. 7th April 1952.
62/52	.. Swakat Ali	.. 18th March 1952	.. 25th March 1952.

It is clear from the Indian Factories Act that the Manager of a factory cannot refuse any leave due to workmen if the leave is applied for in writing at least 15 full working days before the date on which leave intended to begin and if the leave applied for is in conformity with the scheme prepared by the Management under sub-sections 4 and 5 of section 79 of the Indian Factories Act. The limitation which the legislature has imposed upon the right of the workers in a factory to the annual leave and the little discretion which has been given to the Manager of the factory are meant to ensure continuance of work in a factory. A Manager of a factory is not under any obligation to grant annual leave to the workmen, if such leave has not been applied for at least 15 full working days before the date on which the leave is intended to begin. The continuity of work in factory cannot be stopped. According to complaint of the workmen, the Manager of the Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., does not appear to have abused the little discretion given to him by the Indian Factories Act. Even assuming that the Manager of the Company had refused the annual leave to those four workmen, he appears to have acted, in the interest of the industry, on the rights given to him by the statute. According to the case of these complanants I am clearly of opinion that there was no alteration of the conditions of service applicable to the workmen immediately before the commencement of the adjudication proceedings started under the order of reference, dated 16th February 1952. These four complaints shall also be dismissed.

I have decided these 26 complaints on the case as pressed by the complainants before me at the hearing. I have not taken into account the case of the Management as placed before this Tribunal in answer to these complaints. In the present case where the complaints cannot stand on the allegations of the complainants I do not propose to ascertain the truth of their allegations.

The questions whether the workmen of the Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., are entitled as a condition of their service, to one month's leave with pay for each complete year of service, or how much of such leave was due to the complainants are left open. In the result, the 26 complaints under section 33A of the Industrial Dispute Act as amended by the Industrial Dispute (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, be dismissed.

For the Union: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, with Sri K. D. Banerjee, Secretary.

AWARD.

By order No. 598Dis./D/11L-86/52, dated the 15th March 1952, the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, referred the abovementioned dispute to me for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, regarding the matter specified as under:

"Payment of Bonus to 20 Assistants mentioned below:—

(1) Mr. C. W. Prince, (2) Mr. R. V. Carter, (3) R. Greer, (4) J. Mann, (5) H. J. Mann, (6) R. Farnworth, (7) I. Farnworth, (8) W. Thaddeus, (9) R. C. Cooper, (10) H. Kemp, (11) M. O'Halloran, (12) H. Manual, (13) P. J. Kirnan, (14) H. Todd, (15) A. Bell, (16) D. Robertson, (17) J. W. Bell, (18) Mrs. L. Mori, (19) Mrs. M. Merces, (20) G. McGrath."

The dispute relates to bonus for the year 1951, as demanded by the abovementioned 20 assistants of Messrs A. Firpo, Ltd., hereinafter called the Company. The Company has been paying an annual bonus equivalent to one month's basic pay to all workmen other than the abovenamed assistants. In a previous dispute which came up for adjudication the learned Tribunal Sri P. K. Sirkar awarded payment of bonus to all workmen acting on the assurance given by the Company that it would continue the payment of the same for the year then under claim. The case of the Union representing these assistants is that the latter are all workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. But, as the Company was making an invidious distinction between other workmen and these 20 assistants and an unfair discrimination against the latter, the Company was requested by a letter of the 10th December 1951, to pay to these 20 assistants the usual bonus for the year 1951. The Company, however, failed to settle the dispute, although it made a substantial profit in the year 1951. The Union maintains that it is against natural justice that the Company deprived the said 20 assistants of the benefit of bonus which was derived by all other workmen. It is prayed that an award be made for payment to the said assistants of one month's pay as bonus for the year 1951.

The Company's reply, which is a short one, is that the demand entails a good deal of money, and the slack business which the Company is doing now does not warrant a further and additional expenditure of this sort, specially in view of the fact that bonus was never allowed to these assistants before. It is, however, mentioned that the Company has considered the matter and decided to allow half month's wages to each of the assistants as bonus from 1952.

There is no dispute that these 20 assistants named in the order of reference are workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. Payment of bonus to employees can no longer be regarded as a gratuitous payment. It has acquired the connotation of a payment which the employees can justly claim at the end of a year's service mainly on the consideration that there is a gap between their current wages and a living wage which bonus is intended partly to cover and that there is an available surplus of profit during the year out of which it may be paid. It is not understood how the Company, having decided to pay bonus to its other workmen, could exclude these 20 workmen from the benefit of this payment. All the workmen of an industry have to put in a concerted effort to secure production. If the effort be only of a particular section of employees, and other employees stand aloof refusing co-operation with the rest, the result would be that production would be hampered. If one section of employees be allowed a share of bonus and others who are deprived of it feel discontented, the harmonious relationship between employees and employees will be disrupted resulting in unrest among the employees and disturbance of industrial peace. I find no justification for discriminating against these assistants in the matter of bonus. The only plea that could be urged on behalf of the Company for not paying bonus to these assistants out of the profits of the year 1951, is that these employees not having been granted bonus before there was no allocation of fund for the payment of the same to them for that year. I am not at all impressed about the reasonableness of the plea. The occasion for making the claim could arise only after non-payment of bonus to these employees at the end of the year, and and not before that. The claim for bonus at the end of the year was legitimate and could not be resisted on the plea that no provision had been made for its payment beforehand.

It is a basic principle that bonus is payable from the profits of the year under claim. In the year 1951 to which the demand for bonus in this case relates, the Company made a net profit of Rs. 98,549. The dividend of 5 per cent. (free of tax) has been paid to the share-holders absorbing Rs. 40,000. Rs. 50,000 has been transferred to the Reserve Account and a balance of Rs. 8,549 has been carried forward to the next year's account. As I have already mentioned, the Company has paid bonus at the rate equivalent to one month's wages to the other workmen for the same year. It admits of no doubt that there was an available surplus of profits out of which bonus could be paid to these assistants as well. In the absence of necessary materials it is not possible to assess the value of financial implications which payment of bonus at the rate of one month's wages to these 20 assistants would involve. The Company has offered to pay 15 days' wages but with effect from 1952. It is possible that the Company wants to defer the payment of this bonus till 1952 in view of the supposed difficulties of paying it from the account of 1951. But, as we have seen, that is not a substantial ground for refusing payment of bonus which can be justly claimed out of the profits of 1951. I consider that it would be fair to both parties if these 20 assistants are granted bonus equivalent to 15 days' basic pay for the year in question in the circumstances of the case. I direct accordingly that the 20 assistants named in the schedule to the order of reference are to be paid bonus each at the rate of 15 days' basic pay for the year 1951. This payment will be made within a month from the date of the award coming into operation. This is my award.

DECISION.

1. By Governmment order No. 4025Lab., dated the 27th June 1951, the following disputes between Shri Vishudhananda Marwari Hospital (hereinafter called the employer) and its workmen were referred for adjudication by Mr. G. Palit, Judge of 5th Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal (hereinafter called the Tribunal), namely :—

(1) Provision for quarters, or house rent allowance in lieu thereof, for those workmen who have not been provided with quarters now;

(2) Dearness allowance; and

(3) Supply of annual account of the Provident Fund to each workman contributing to the same.

By its award which was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 17th January 1952, the Tribunal overruled the claim of the workmen for having quarters or in lieu thereof house rent allowance, directed the employer to supply to each workman contributing to the Provident Fund a statement of the accumulation standing to his credit at the end of the year and granted dearness allowance on the following scales :—

(a) To menials—75 per cent. of their basic pay;

(b) To Compounders and Vaids—50 per cent. of their basic pay; and (c) To Nurses—30 per cent. of their basic pay.

Before the Tribunal the employer questioned the validity of the reference and the jurisdictions of the Tribunal on the ground that the disputes and differences between it and its workmen could not, in law, be regarded as an industrial dispute as the hospital was not a profit-making but a charitable institution and so could not be regarded as an "industry" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947. This contention was overruled and the Tribunal made its award in the manner aforesaid.

2. Two appeals have been filed before us, one by the employer being No. Cal. 19 of 1952 and the other No. Cal. 38 of 1952 by the workmen. In the first-mentioned appeal the following points have been urged :—

(i) that the West Bengal State was not competent to refer the matter for adjudication and so the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to adjudicate, and

(ii) if the reference be held to be good, the award on dearness is unjustified.

In the appeal filed by the workmen the claim is :—

(i) for more dearness allowance, and

(ii) for quarters, or in lieu thereof house rent allowance.

There is no appeal against the award on the third item.

3. The hospital was started with donations collected by Baldeodas Dudewalla and four other Marwari gentlemen. On the 28th March 1922 the son of Baldeodas Dudewalla, who had since died, and the other four executed a deed of trust as founders vesting in a Board of Trustees the buildings, equipments of the hospital, and the funds invested by them and monies lying in their hands from out of what they had collected for establishing the hospital. The trust deed provided that "all contributions, donations, subscriptions, if any, that have been or are being made may hereafter be paid to the Trustees for the purpose of the said hospital and all surplus income to savings out of the incomes of the trust fund which shall not be required for the purposes of the hospital or for the payment of any cost or expenses in or about the execution of any of the trusts shall be held and applied by the Trustees towards the object of the trust estate and shall for all intents and purposes be considered as capital of the trust estate." There were provisions for a Board of Governors for controlling the management of the hospital. The Trustees were to apply and dispose of the interest, dividend and income of the trust estate or the investments thereof for the time being and of other investment of trust money from time to time coming to their hands under the trust thereof through and under the directions of the Governors of the hospital for the maintenance of the hospital building and for meeting the expenses for running the hospital. The aim and object was to maintain an indoor ward for the reception and treatment of only Brahmins and Vaisyas of the Marwari Community and an outdoor department for affording medical relief to all irrespective of caste, creed or community. The institution is, therefore, a purely public charitable one, started without the least intention or object of making any gain or profit.

4. The hospital provides for Allopathic, Homeopathic and Ayurvedic systems of treatment. It has a department where Ayurvedic medicines and hair oils are manufactured. They are partly utilised in the hospital and partly sold to outsiders and the sale-proceeds applied to meet the expenses of the hospital. There are also paying cabins but they are not run on a profit-making basis.

5. Section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (hereinafter called the Act), defines "industrial dispute" as any dispute or difference between "employers....and workmen....which is connected with... the terms of employment or with the conditions of labour of any person". (We are quoting the relevant portion only.) The word "workman" has been defined in section 2(s) of the Act to be a person employed in an industry to do skilled or unskilled, manual or clerical work.....". Hence to be an industrial dispute, it must be between an employer and his workmen (1) who are employed by him in an industry and (2) who are engaged to perform manual or clerical work.

6. In the case before us there is no controversy that the dispute is between persons who have been engaged to do skilled or unskilled manual work and the dispute relates to the terms of employment or conditions of labour. Thus, some of the elements of the definition of "industrial dispute" are present. But the dispute which has been referred for adjudication would be an industrial dispute only if the persons with whom there is the difference or dispute are employed in an industry. The dispute would only be an industrial dispute if the hospital can be regarded as an "industry" as defined in the Act. That question has to be determined on the basis of the facts which we have set out above.

7. Section 2(j) of the Act has defined the term "industry" in the following terms :—

> "Industry means any business, trade, undertaking, manufacture or calling of employers, and includes any calling service, employment, handicraft or industrial occupation or avocation of workmen."

The first part of the definition is the one which is relevant for this case, and the question to be considered is whether the activities of this hospital comes within any of the categories mentioned therein, namely, business, trade, undertaking or manufacture.

8. This definition of the word "industry" came to be considered by the High Court at Calcutta in three cases :—

(1) In the matter of the New Club, Ltd. (unreported).
(2) In the matter of Ranglal Bajoria (unreported).
(3) Commissioners of Budge Budge Municipality vs. P. R. Mukherjee (54 C.W.N. 784).

In all these cases, it was held that the concerns were "undertaking" within the meaning of the definition though they were not profit-making ones. The second case was in respect of this very hospital and it was also said there that it came within the term "business", as it sold medicines and hair oil prepared by it to customers. As at present advised, we are not prepared to accept the last-mentioned conclusion. To determine the question as to whether the employer's concern is to be regarded as "business", the primary and main function is to be considered and not what is only subordinate and auxiliary. Otherwise it would be giving a greater importance to the tub than to the baby put into it for bath. At most only persons engaged in the manufacture and sale of the medicines and hair oils can be regarded as employed in "an industry" and not those who have been engaged to perform duties in the hospital. Thus the whole staff of the hospital cannot be considered to be employed in business.

9. According to its ordinary acceptance, business means a pursuit or occupation demanding time and followed with a view to earn livelihood. It involves commercial transactions and engagements, and trade means the act of buying, selling, barter or exchange of commodities, the purpose being the same as in business. The idea of earning profits or making gains is the essence of both. This hospital cannot, therefore, be included in the words "business or trade" occurring in section 2(k) of the Act. We have to consider whether it can be considered to be an "undertaking" when its object is not to run it for profit, like a nursing home, but to afford cheap medical relief more or less in the lines of a charitable society.

10. The word "undertaking" as commonly used means an enterprise or work or project which a person engages in or attempts to perform. It may involve some danger or risks. The idea of gain or profit may be present as in commercial undertakings, but it is not its essence. Hence, a charitable institution like this hospital, the university, a free school or college, a public body like a municipal corporation would come within the concept of undertaking and so within the definition of "industrial disputes" as given in the Act, unless the plain meaning of the word be restricted. The only question, on this part of this case, therefore, is whether its meaning is to be restricted.

11. In support of his argument that the ordinary meaning of the word "undertaking" should be cut down and should be taken to mean an enterprise or project started and carried on with a view to make gain or earn profits, the learned counsel, Mr. B. Roy Choudhury, appearing for the hospital, relies upon the rule of construction known as noscuntur a socii. That rule is that when two or more words which are susceptable of analogous meaning are coupled together, they are to be understood in their cognate sense because they become acquainted (noscuntur) from companionship (a socii). They take their colour from each other, that is, the more general is restricted to a sense analogous to the less general (Maxwell on Interpretation of Statutes, page 332, 9th Edition). This rule of construction, in substance is the same as the rule of construction known by the name of ejusdun generis. For the application of the second rule, the rule of ejusdun generis—the particular words preceding the general words must fall within a particular genus—within a category. In Tillmans & Co. vs. S. S. Knutsford (1908, 2 K.B. 385)—Farewell L. J. observed "unless you can find a category there is no room for the application of the ejusdun generis doctrine". So for the application of the rule of noscuntur a socii, all the words used must belong to the "same family" as it were—they must be analogous to each other in sense. The two words "business" and "trade" used in the section 2(k) of the Act no doubt belong to the "same family". That "family" may also include the word "calling", but it is difficult to conceive that the word "manufacture", which means "to fabricate from raw materials by hand, art or machinery, to work into forms convenient for use," belongs to the same "family of words" as business", "trade" or "calling". There need not be the intention to sell or to make profits, as for instance, when an agriculturist forges his own plough from timber and steel. But be that as it may, those rules of construction are often convenient or useful but "they are merely rules of construction and not rules of law" [per Lord Wright in Bolton Corporation's case (1943, A.C. 166 at 183)]. Other well-established rules of construction, therefore, cannot be entirely ignored. They may have to be given in some cases preference over those rules. This is illustrated by the actual decision in Bolton Corporation's case where the House of Lords refused to apply the rule of ejusdum generis to limit the word "otherwise" occurring in the definition of workman given in the Industrial Courts Act, 1919 (9 and 10, Geo. V, C.69) in the sentence "any person who has entered into or works under a contract with the employer whether the contract be by way of manual labour, clerical work, or otherwise", in view inter alia of the scope of the Act under consideration. Where the words are wide in their import they ought not to be qualified on the sole ground of their association with other words (Crases Statute Law, p. 165, 3rd Edn.) and in Corporation of Glasgo vs. Glasgow Tramway Co. (1898 A.C. 631 at 634), Lord Halsbury observed thus :—(The words) "appear to me to be so wide in their application that I should have thought it impossible to qualify or cut them by their being associated with other words....".

12. Two important rules relating to construction of statutes must not be lost sight of in considering the question whether the ordinary meaning of words and phrases are to be enlarged or restricted. They are (1) that the object and scope of the statute in question must be taken into consideration, and (2) other parts of the statute which throw a light on the question have also to be considered. Judged in the light of these two rules, the plain meaning of the word "undertaking" used in section 2(k) of the Act, cannot in our opinion, be cut down. The object of the Act is to bring about harmonious relation between employers and workmen through settlement or arbitration, and with that purpose in view, provisions have been made in the Act prohibiting acts on the part of the employer and the workmen which would be disturbing forces while attempts are being made to restore by conciliation or adjudication the much desired peace and harmony in the industrial relation. The Act also has brought within its scope public utility services. Such services include inter alia any system of public conservancy or sanitation. [Section 2(n)(v).] A strike or lockout in such a service, e.g., a public conservancy service, cannot be commenced in violation of section 22 of the Act and when a notice of strike had been given in accordance with the section, the appropriate Government is bound (except under certain circumstances which it is not necessary to consider in this case), to refer the dispute either to a Board for promoting settlement, or any matter connected or relevant thereto to a Court of Enquiry or refer the dispute to a Tribunal for adjudication, and this is on the footing that the dispute is an industrial dispute. As a "system of public conservancy or sanitation is not generally undertaken for profit or with a view to gain, the dispute between the employer and the workmen engaged in the public conservancy service or service for promoting public health and sanitaiton would only be an industrial dispute if the word 'undertaking' used in the definition given in section 2(k) is given its wide and natural meaning, and the object of the Act would be frustrated in regard to many public enterprices, those which are not of the nature of commercial ventures if the word 'undertaking' be limited, as is contended for, to profit-making enterprises". Even if the rule of "nosciuntur a socii" had been otherwise applicable it would have, in our opinion, to give way to these considerations. The word "undertaking" is of wide amplitude and we do not see any good reason for cutting down its natural meaning.

13. The English or Canadian Statutes do not afford any assistance on the meaning of the word "undertaking". That word does not occur either in the definition of "trades disputes" or of "workmen" or of "employee". But the Australian Federal Statute (The Commonwealth Conciliation & Arbitration Act, 1904) is pari materia and so the cases decided by the High Court of Australia are helpful. That Act has the same object as our Act, namely, settlement by conciliation or arbitration of industrial disputes. After defining "employer" to mean any employer in an industry, and the word "employee" to mean any employee in any industry (we are only quoting the relevant portions), the Federal Australian Act defines industrial dispute thus :—"It means (a) a dispute (including threatened, impending or probable dispute) as to industrial matters which extends beyond the limits of any one State, and (b) a situation which is likely to give rise to a dispute as to industrial matters which so extends" ..... "Industrial matters" according to its definition given in that Act means "all matters pertaining to relations of employers and employees, etc.," and the definition of "industry" is as under :—

"Industry includes—

(a) any business, trade, manufacture, undertaking or calling of employers;

(b) any calling, service, employment, handicraft or industrial occupation or avocation of employees; and

(c) a branch of an industry and a group of industries."

Clauses (a) and (b) are almost on the same terms as the definition given in our Act, the only difference is that instead of the word "means" the word is "includes" and there is the additional clause, clause (c) which is not relevant to the case before us. The meaning to be attached to the term "undertaking" occurring in association with the words "business", "trade", "calling", and "manufacture" in this definition of industry came up for consideration before the High Court of Australia. In those cases it was generally observed that an industry contemplated by the Act is apparently one in which both employers and employees are engaged, and not merely industry in the abstract sense, in other words, the labour of the employee given in return for the remuneration received from his employer engaged in trade, business, manufacture, or undertaking or following a calling. In the decision in Jambunna Coal Mine vs. Victorian Coal Miners Association (6 Com. L.R.309) no attempt was made to construe the work "undertaking" used in the definition. That decision only illustrated the words business, trade, undertaking in the following terms:—

> "Turning to the specific definition of 'industry' it rather appears to mean a business (as merchant), a trade (as cutler), a manufacturer (as flour miller), undertaking (as a gas company), calling (as an engineer) or service (as a carrier) or an employment (a general term like calling—embracing some of the others, and intended to extend the vocations which might not be comprised in any of the rest)."

In the decision in Federated Municipal and State Council Employees Union of Australia vs. Melbourne Corporation (26 Com. L.R. 509), in which seven judges took part, the following important observations were made by Higgins J. (with whom the majority sided) at 554-555 of the report:—

> "The concept may be thus formulated:—Industrial disputes occur when in relation to operations in which capital and labour are contributed in co-operation for the satisfaction of human wants or desires, those engaged in co-operation dispute as to the basis to be observed, by the parties engaged, respecting either a share of the product or any other terms and conditions of their co-operation. This formula excludes two extreme contentions of the claimant and the respondent respectively. It excludes, for instance, the legal and medical professions, because they are not carried on in any intelligent sense by the co-operation of labour and capital and do not come within the sphere of industrialism. It includes, where the necessity of co-operation exists, disputes betwen employers and employees, employees and employees and employers and employers. It implies that 'industry' to lead to an industrial dispute is not, as claimant contends, merely industry in the abstract sense, and if it alone affected the result, but it must be acting and must be considered in association with its co-operator 'capital' in some form so that the result is, in a sense, the outcome of their combined efforts. It also implies that 'an industry', in the relevant sense, is not confined to a single enterprise, but means, a class of operations in which all persons, employers and employees, are engaged on the same field of industry—not necessarily of commerce—provided by the society in which they exist."

Then after reviewing in great detail the history of industrial development, its repercussions on labour and the steps taken to prevent exploitation of labour and for betterment of the conditions thereof, he concluded thus:—

"It is immaterial to the worker whether the capitalist employs him to make a profit or to carry out a scheme on the basis of not making a loss, whether it is a public or a private employer, whether, if public, the working capital is recouped by individual payments or by compulsory rates, the worker is still a co-operator, he is still a human being, with needs and desires of his own; and (as we took pains to express in Bodge's case) his disputes are for his personal welfare, be it health or leisure or a larger share of combined production. This is always the central idea....In the face of these considerations it is quite impossible to draw an imaginary line at profit undertaking" ....(The italicising is ours.)

14. No doubt the question there related to the power of the Commonwealth Legislature to make the challenged law, but those observations are important for construing the word "undertaking" used in the definition both of the Australia and of our Act. The historical background and the "central idea" are important and cannot be overlooked in the construction of statutes and so the word "undertaking" used in the definition of our Act cannot, in our opinion, be limited to profit-making enterprises only. We accordingly hold that the dispute which the West Bengal Government had referred to the Tribunal is an "Industrial Dispute" and consequently the Tribunal had jurisdiction to entertain it and to adjudicate upon it.

15. We will now deal with the merits of the appeal and first consider the question of dearness allowance as raised in both the appeals. The contention of the employer is that the existing rates should be maintained whereas the workmen contend as follows:—

(1) that dearness allowances to the unskilled staff—darwans, goalas, etc. —should be fixed at 100 per cent. of their basic wages;

(2) that Nurses should not be treated differently from Vaids and Compounders; and

(3) that if dearness allowance be fixed on the basis of wage groups, there should be two such groups, namely, (i) where the basic wages are up to Rs. 50 per month and (ii) where they are above that sum and in both cases the rates should be the same as have been given in the recent award of the Major Engineering Tribunal of West Bengal, namely, Rs. 31 for the first wage group and Rs. 42 for the second.

16. Before July 1948 the basic wages of the menial staff varied from Rs. 6 to Rs. 20. There were then 54 employees of that category at the time and their average basic wages were Rs. 15. They got dearness allowance at rates varying from Rs. 9 to Rs. 21 per month. In 1948, a dispute was raised on their behalf relating, inter alia, to basic wages and dearness allowance which was ultimately referred for adjudication by Mr. S. K. Halder, who made his award on the 19th January 1949. He fixed the following scales of basic wages, nameiy:—

Durwans	..	Rs. 45—2—65
Electric Mistries, Machinemen, Plumbing Mistry, etc.	..	Rs. 40—1—55
Mehtars and Goalas	..	Rs. 35—1—50
Dais	..	Rs. 30—1—45

and allowed to each of these categories dearness allowance at the rate of 33 per cent. of their basic wages. The said wage scale and dearness allowance were given retrospective effect from July 1948. At that time cost of living index was in the neighbourhood of 350 points. The award did not comprise Nurses, Vaids and Compounders. Just before this reference to Mr. G. Palit, the employer was paying to the unskilled workmen wages and dearness allowance according to Mr. Halder's award and Nurses and Compounders were placed in the following grades:—

Nurses	..	Rs. 54—80
Compounders	..	Rs. 50—80

with 25 per cent. of their basic wages as dearness allowance. Under the award under appeal the menial staff are to get 75 per cent. of their basic wages, Compounders and Vaids 50 per cent. and Nurses 30 per cent. Firstly it is necessary to examine and consider the reasons given by the Tribunal.

17. The Tribunal first observed that the most satisfactory method to follow in the matter of dearness allowance would be to link it with the cost of living index, meaning thereby a rate per unit rise in that index. It did not, however, adopt that method, apparently because the cost of living index figures for West Bengal as published, cannot be taken to be a safe guide, for it has been pointed out in several awards given by the State Tribunals that Government figures differ widely from the figures published by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce in the Capital. As none of the parties has pressed for that method, namely, linkage of dearness allowance with living cost index figures in the aforesaid manner we need not pursue the matter further.

18. The Tribunal stated that Mr. Halder fixed the wage scale when the living cost index figure was 160 points. That is only an assumption. It further observed that Mr. Halder did not proceed on a scientific basis in fixing dearness allowance. It then stated that as the living cost index in 1951 was 365 points, that is, 205 points more (365–160=205), the dearness allowance ought to be more than 100 per cent. of the basic wage for the menials. It, however, reduced the rate to 75 per cent. without assigning any reason. Probably, it had in its mind the fact that the institution was a charitable one, that there were deficits and that workmen along with the rest of the Society must share the burden of the rise in prices. It made a distinction between Compounders and Vaids on the one hand and Nurses on the other on the ground that the latter have only one consumption unit to feed. We may at once say that the reason given for this distinction does not appeal to us, for it is pure surmise, We must, therefore hold whatever the amount of dearness allowance be, Nurses, Compounders and Vaids have to be placed on the same footing. The assumption made by the Tribunal that Mr. Halder had fixed the wage-scale keeping in view that the living cost index then was 160 points may or may not be a correct one, but the fact remains that the Tribunal has failed to take into account the plan on which Mr. Halder had proceeded and other factors which, in our opinion, have an important bearing on the question. At this stage, we may remark that awarding dearness allowance on a percentage of the basic wages, when the wage-scale carries annual increments, is liable to the objection that the amount of dearness allowance for the same category of workmen would vary from workman to workman according to the length of his service. When wages are fixed the basis is usually three consumption units and the dearness allowance must be commensurate with the extra costs of feeding those three consumption units on account of rise of prices, and the amount must be the same whether the workman is at the lowest or highest ladder of his grade. In a matter like this an attractive and simple rule must, in our opinion, be out-weighed by considerations of fairness and equality. In fixing the dearness allowance for menials Mr. Halder first observed that theory that an institution which cannot pay for the minimum requirements of a workman have no right to exist, cannot be unqualifiedly applied to a charitable institution, an institution formed with a laudable object and which gives reliefs to Society in the matter of health, etc. The wants of workmen must be weighed with the ability to pay. With this observation, we generally agree. Then he recognised the fact that Rs. 45, as total emolument, would not be quite sufficient and after referring to some awards made in the past and taking into consideration, the financial condition of the hospital fixed the wage-scale at those figures which were much higher than what were being then paid. His direction for dearness allowance over and above the basic wages at the flat rate of 33 per cent. of basic wages, gave Rs. 40 as the total emoluments to the lowest paid category. They were the dais or maid servants who were only seven in number. The male servants—the goalas—who were 37 in number got about Rs. 47 as their total emoluments. The award of Mr. Halder increased the annual burden on the hospital by about Rs. 13,000. In these circumstances, we think the Tribunal in considering the question of dearness allowance ought to have taken the amount awarded by Mr. Halder as the basis. By raising the dearness allowance from 33 per cent to 75 per cent. what the Tribunal had in substance held that Mr. Halder's award of dearness allowance was inadequate and that he ought to have been fixed it at a much higher percentage for the cost of living index in 1948 was about 180 points above 160 at which the Tribunal assumed that the basic wages were being fixed by Mr. Halder. The other fact has not also been taken into consideration, namely, that in the conciliation proceedings the workmen expressed that they would be satisfied if proportionate increase was made in dearness allowance in view of the "sharp increase" in the living index costs. This related to the increase in that index since Mr. Halder's award. We cannot uphold the award of the Tribunal, but must lay down a fair and equitable rule, bearing also in mind the fact that prices have now a tendency to go down and that the cost of living index this year is definitely lower than that of the year 1951, We accept the contention of the workmen that dearness allowance ought to be fixed on the basis of wage groups and in this case only two wage groups are to be adopted. We direct that the wage groups would be as follows:—

Group I—Those whose basic wages per month are Rs. 50 or less and Group II—Those whose basic wages per month are above Rs. 50.

In determining the amount we think we should not accept the figures given in the Engineering Tribunal's recent award. There the concerns were commercial enterprises and the capacity to pay was undoubted. The case before us is of a charitable institution. Its resources are limited to income from invested trust funds, to donation such as the Marwari community may choose to give, sale-proceeds from ayurvedic medicines and hair oils, to cabin rent, and X'rays and operation fees. The Tribunal has remarked that there is some scope for augmenting its income, by raising the cabin rent and fees. We doubt very much whether reasonable increase in cabin rent and other methods suggested by the Tribunal could augment the income to such an extent as not only to wipe off the annual deficits but to meet the additional burden that would be imposed. We, therefore, think that the amount of dearness allowance should, in this case, fall in line with what have been awarded against non-profit-making concerns with limited capacity such as municipalities and other public bodies of a like nature. We accordingly award dearness allowance for the first group Rs. 20 per month and for the second group Rs. 25.

19. The claim for quarters or in lieu thereof for house rent allowance cannot, in our opinion, be upheld. Before Mr. Halder the claim was made on behalf of the menial staff. The employer agreed to set apart ten rooms in the hospital premises and that satisfied the staff. Ten rooms have been actually provided. The menial staff now in employment have the use of those ten rooms. Its strength was 54 when Mr. Halder made his award and the present strength is about 63, so only nine are living outside. If they like, they can share the ten rooms. It would mean an additional occupant in some of the ten rooms so allotted.

20. There are 19 Compounders and 7 Nurses; 4 Compounders and 4 Nurses have quarters. The remainder live outside. They have fixed hours of duty in the hospital. We are told that they have to work for 8 hours in a day. There is no evidence what rent they have to pay in their individual shares or whether it is inordinate. They, at least the Nurses, are in a sense part-time employees, for they are free outside duty hours to supplement their income, and so far as we are aware a general claim for quarters or in lieu thereof, house rent allowance, has not yet been recognised in West Bengal. We accordingly uphold the award on this point.

The result is that award for dearness allowance only is modified in the matter indicated above. Parties to bear their respective costs.

DECISION.

A dispute between 88 jute mills of West Bengal represented by Indian Jute Mills Association (which is an association of jute mill employers and hereafter referred to as the Association) and their workmen was pending adjudication before the Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, consisting of Shri S. N. Modak as Chairman, and Shri P. R. Mukherjee and Shri N. C. Banerjee as Members. The Association on behalf of Champdani Jute Mills (hereinafter called the Mills) made an application before the said Tribunal under section 33 of the Industrial Dispute Act, 1947 (hereinafter called the Act), for permission to dismiss Ali Jan, a workman of the Mills. The Tribunal by its order, dated 6th September 1951, declined to grant permission for dismissal but granted permission for his suspension for 4 days with effect from 9th July 1951. Against this order the Mills have preferred this appeal with Ali Jan as respondent.

Objections have been raised by Shri Mukherjee, Vice-President of the All-Bengal National Chamber of Labour, representing the respondent as to the competency of the application under section 33 as also of this appeal. It has been urged that the application under section 33 is not maintainable as it is made by the Association which is not the employer within the meaning of the section and further it was signed by N. C. Addy, the Law Officer of the Association, which is a registered Trade Union and the Law Officer is not an "Officer" as he is not a member of the Executive as defined in section 2(c) of the Trade Union Act and as such the application signed by him should not have been entertained by the Tribunal. These objections were not taken before the Tribunal. Even if we assure the Trade Union Act to be relevant to the question, the definition of "employer" as given there includes an association of employers. The application made under section 33 of the Act shows that the Association made it on behalf of the Mills and that it was signed by M. C. Addy for the Secretary of the Association who is admittedly an officer within the meaning of the Trade Unions Act. It was also signed by the Acting

DECISION.

By order No. 3316Lab., dated 28th May 1951, the Government of West Bengal referred the issue relating to the claim of the workmen for Puja Bonus for the year 1950-51 preferred against four printing presses, namely, (1) Gurudas Press, (2) Bharatbarsha Printing Works, (3) Sreekrishna Printing Works and (4) Prabartak Printing and Halftone Co., Ltd., to Shri A. Das Gupta (hereafter called the Tribunal) for adjudication.

2. The case of the workmen was that Puja Bonus was being paid by the four presses aforesaid since 1944 on the basis of an agreement which according to them was that the said printing establishments should pay thirteen months' wages for twelve months' work, the wages for the thirteenth month being payable at the time of the Durga Pujas. The claim was, therefore, on the basis that the Puja Bonus was deferred wages according to the said agreement.

3. There was an earlier reference by the West Bengal Government by order No. 249Lab., dated 27th June 1947, for adjudication of a number of disputes between 69 printing presses of Calcutta and Howrah and their workmen. Amongst the said 69 printing presses, the four printing presses mentioned above were included. Three of the items of dispute related to wages, dearness allowance and bonus. That Tribunal, which we would call the Major Tribunal, considered the question of bonus under issue No. 8 and directed that if there was any net profit, it was to be shared between the printing establishments and their workmen, the workmen getting 20 per cent. thereof. The case of the Union is that the "Puja Bonus" was entirely distinct from the said profit sharing bonus as awarded by the Major Tribunal. The Tribunal by its award made on the 14th of August 1951, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette, of the 30th August following, held that there was no industrial dispute between the four printing presses and their workmen on the ground that no demand for Puja Bonus had been made on behalf of the workmen before the Reference was made by the Government. The preliminary objection raised by the printing presses was, therefore, given effect to, but the Tribunal further took into consideration the merits of the case and its decision was against the claim of the workmen. This appeal has been preferred against the said award by the Press Employees' Association representing the workmen.

4. We do not quite agree with the conclusion of the Tribunal that the reference was incompetent, but as we are agreeing with its decision on the merits of the claim, we do not propose to pursue the matter relating to the preliminary objection further. We may point out, however, one circumstance, which appears from the Labour Commissioner's file, that the Labour Union on behalf of the workmen of these concerns addressed a letter to the Labour Secretary of the West Bengal Government wherein a demand for Puja Bonus for the year in question was made.

5. The alleged agreement according to both sides was an oral one. For the terms of the said agreement, both parties led oral evidence and that evidence is that as the wages then paid to the workmen were considered too low, the employers agreed to pay them one month's wages irrespective of profit and loss at the time of the Pujas. If, therefore, wages were raised since then to a fair rate, the consideration of the agreement would disappear and so, the agreement would no longer be binding on the employees. This proposition cannot be controverted.

6. We have already stated that by order No. 249Lab., dated 27th June 1947, the question of wages was referred to for adjudication by the Major Tribunal. An examination of that award shows that wages of most category of workmen were increased by agreement between the parties. It was only with regard to wages of readers, copy-holders, supervisory staff and workmen employed in the type foundry and cardboard making departments which were not settled by agreement. But by that award, their wage scales were fixed. There was substantial increase all round over what they were being paid before. In fact, the award shows that the demand of the workmen for the increase of wages were almost fully met. The fact, therefore, is established that as a result of the adjudication or of the agreement which was given effect to in that award, the wage scales were raised to a large extent and thereafter it would not be said that the workmen were being paid wages which were too low. The claim, therefore, which has been based on the agreement cannot be upheld inasmuch as the basis of and the consideration for that agreement has disappeared by reason of that award. We accordingly agree with the Tribunal on the merits of the claim. The result is that this appeal is dismissed. We award no costs as the respondent has not pressed for it.

SRI S. K. NIYOGI, District Judge, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

For Messrs. Burmah Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India, Ltd., (2) Caltex (India), Ltd., and (3) Indo Burmah Petroleum Co., Ltd.: Sri P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel, assisted by Sri D. Basu Thakur of Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For Messrs. Standard Vacuum Company: Sri S. K. Mullick (Junior), of Messrs. Sandersons and Morgans, Solicitors.

For Bengal Oil and Petrol Workers' Union: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, assisted by Sri Kalipada Mukherji, General Secretary.

For Bengal Oil and Petrol Mazdoor Union: Sri B. Choudhuri, Counsel, instructed by Sri Soumendra Nath Tagore, President of the Union.

AWARD.

By order No. 4071Lab., dated the 29th June 1951, read with corrigendum No. 4594Lab., dated the 21st July 1951, and subsequent corrigendum No. 4770Lab., dated the 30th July 1951, of the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, the abovementioned dispute was referred to me under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication regarding the following matter as specified therein, viz., "Additional Bonus for the year 1950".

During the pendency of the adjudication proceedings the Bengal Oil and Petrol Mazdoor Union, hereinafter referred to as the Mazdoor Union, made an application before the Hon'ble High Court, Calcutta, under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, and a Rule was issued by the High Court in pursuance whereof all further proceedings in the Tribunal remained stayed till the Rule was discharged by the Hon'ble Court dismissing the application of the Mazdoor Union. After the receipt of this intimation, on 8th April 1952 fresh notices were issued to the parties who appeared and submitted their written statements on various dates, the last being 6th June 1952. The case was heard on 25th June 1952.

As in previous years the employees concerned have been given 1 month's basic wages as bonus for the year 1950. Not being satisfied with that the employees represented by the Bengal Oil and Petrol Workers' Union (hereinafter called the Workers' Union) have demanded that bonus equivalent to 3 months' wages be paid to them. The demand on this head of the Mazdoor Union is that all workers should be paid bonus equivalent to 2 months' basic salary in addition to the bonus of 1/12th of annual basic earnings. This claim of additional bonus preferred by the two Unions is resisted by all the four companies contending that no case has been made out for such a claim by either of the Unions.

Bonus for a particular year has to be determined upon the profits of that year. Profits made in the previous years or expected to be made in future are irrelevant for the purpose of determining whether the industry is able to bear the burden for the year in question, and if so, to what extent. The fact that on the profit of 1949 the learned adjudicator Sri A. Das Gupta awarded bonus at 1/12th of the basic yearly earnings for the said year affords no ground for any contention that a general provision laying down the amount of bonus for all future years to come was made in that award. This claim of the employees for bonus for 1950 has to be considered by reference to the profits made by the companies in the particular year. Arguing on behalf of the Workers' Union, Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, has contended that since the decision of Sri A. Das Gupta these oil companies have earned full capacity to pay higher rates of bonus, and they have also paid higher rates in other States. So they should pay bonus at a higher rate as claimed by these employees. Reference has been made in support of this contention to the Calcutta, Bombay and Madras awards relating to these companies in respect of bonus to their employees for the years 1946 to 1950. The chart (Exhibit 1) prepared and submitted on behalf of the Mazdoor Union would show that bonus was awarded in the Bombay and Madras States on a more liberal scale than in Calcutta. Coming to the year 1950, 2½ months' total earnings for the subordinate staff and 2 months' total earnings for the clerical staff were awarded as bonus for the year in the case of the Standard Vacuum Co., Bombay, and 2 months' total earnings were awarded to the employees of Burmah Shell Co., Bombay. In the dispute between Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., Calcutta, and their clerical staff, the learned Tribunal Sri G. Palit, awarded 2 months' basic salary as bonus for 1950, which was revised and increased to 3 months' basic salary by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in appeal. Bonus for the same year was awarded at the rate of 3 months' basic salary for the clerical and service staff of the Standard Vacuum Company at Calcutta, by Sri A. Das Gupta, Tribunal. On the basis of these awards the claim of the Workers' Union has been modified, and it is urged that either 2½ months' wages and dearness allowance, as granted by Sri K. C. Sen in his Bombay awards, or 3 months' basic wages, as the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal has granted in the case of Caltex, Ltd., should be paid as bonus for the same year 1950 to the employees of all these four companies without any distinction.

The learned Counsel Sri B. Choudhuri, appearing for the Mazdoor Union, has argued that what has been hitherto awarded by the Tribunals is just the minimum wage, but the living wages should be the goal in the end, and until the living wage standard is reached we should see that it is assured. It is pointed out that the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal's view is that the workmen should get bonus, so long as the living wage standard is not reached, as a temporary satisfaction of their needs. The scale of pay is practically the same in all the companies, but the Standard Vacuum and Caltex employees are already getting 3 months' pay as bonus, whereas the employees in the other two companies are getting only 1 month's wages on account of bonus. This, it is said, is inequitable and amounts to unjustifiable discrimination between workmen and workmen of different units of the same industry which should by all means be avoided in the interest of industrial peace.

The arguments advanced by the learned Counsel Sri Ginwalla, appearing for the Burmah Shell, Caltex and I. B. P. Companies, and Sri S. K. Mullick (Junior) of Messrs. Sandersons and Morgans, Solicitors, for the Standard Vacuum Company, in repelling the contentions of the two Unions may be summarised thus: Unless by what the current wage falls short of the living wage be known, there is no principle to be extracted from the Bombay and Madras awards referred to by the Unions. The circumstances under which the previous awards were made, and the comparative pay scales ought to be considered. The principle enunciated by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal ought to be modified in its application to the facts and circumstances of this particular case. For, if the pay is higher the gap between the current wage and a living wage to be covered by bonus is narrower. Want of incapacity to pay is not enough for grant of bonus as demanded. There must be something more. The principle laid down in the award of Sri A. Das Gupta is applicable to future as well. Since then wages and dearness allowance have been increased in accordance with that principle which has been maintained. The emoluments which the companies pay to their employees compare very favourably with those paid by the major industries in the Calcutta industrial area. The increases which have been allowed in wages and dearness allowance voluntarily confer a permanent benefit on the employees as contributions to the Provident Fund go up. The companies have made an advance in these respects, and they should be given credit for that advance. One month's pay has been paid as bonus in deference to the general desire of having extra money at the Pujah time. But this benefit is of a transitory nature. Lump sum payment has a demoralising effect as the workmen spend money and come back again. This will be clear from the chart (Exhibit B), which shows that absentism increases after the lump sum payment in the shape of bonus. An extra payment of Rs. 5 is made to 85 per cent. of the Caltex men. The other companies also make this payment. But as 75 per cent. of their employees live outside Calcutta, in the Budge Budge municipal area, the percentage is not so high as in the Caltex, Ltd. The prices are going down, and the Government is contemplating to lift price control to keep down the prices. By awarding additional bonus in this state of things more money will be provided to the workmen with the result that the downward trend of prices will be counteracted. There is no substance in the plea of discrimination urged by the Unions, as the conditions of service applicable to different classes of employees in the same industry as well as to the employees of one industry and another, vary.

I have given my anxious thoughts to the matter in issue bearing in mind the arguments for and against it. It is not contended that acceptance of month's wages as bonus by the employees involved in this dispute for the year in question will operate as estoppel against the additional demand made for the same year. Nor is incapacity to pay more for the same year is pleaded by these companies. Capacity to pay based on the financial position of the industry i

(iii) The Charitable Endowments Act, 1890 (VI of 1890).

(iv) The Charitable and Religious Trust Act, 1920 (XIV of 1920).

78. Repeal.—The following Acts are hereby repealed:—

Name of the Act.	Extent of Repeal.
1. The Bengal Wakf Act, 1934 (XIII of 1934) ...	Whole.
2. The Mussalman Wakfs (Bombay Amendt.) Act, 1933 (XVIII of 1933) ...	Whole.
3. Mussalman Wakfs Act, 1923 (XLII of 1923) in so far as it extends to the States where this Act comes into force ...	Whole.

79. Recovery of dues by distress.—Every sum recoverable under section 45 and the contribution under section 59 may be recovered by the Board by means of distress of sale of movable property belonging to the person liable for payment, in accordance with the rules framed by the State Government in this behalf.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The management of Wakfs though it vests immediately in a mutawalli, is a subject which requires the supervision of the State. The need for supervision has been felt, and in addition to various enactments dealing with the subject of charitable endowments, the Musalman Wakf Act, 1923 (No. 42 of 1923), was enacted for the whole of India. This Act merely provides for the submission of audited accounts by the Mutawallis, to the district judges. This Act did not prove of much practical value. The Musalman Wakf (Bombay Amendment) Act, 1935 (XVIII of 1935) amended the Musalman Wakf Act, 1923 (42 of 1923). The Bengal Wakf Act, 1934 (No. XIII of 1934), was enacted to create a machinery for the supervision of wakfs in Bengal. The U. P. followed suit and the United Provinces Muslim Wakfs Act, 1936 (XIII of 1936), was passed creating a Central Wakf Board. Similarly Bihar also passed a legislation almost on the same lines. The working of these Acts has brought out the necessity of some amendments. Further many of the States have got no Act for the purpose. It is therefore necessary, that one uniform and consolidated legislation may be passed by the Centre, which may be adopted as a model Act by the various States. It is with this view that the present Bill is introduced.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of Reference No. 815Dis./D/10L-37/52, dated the 10th April 1952, as amended by order No. 1818Dis./D/10L-37/52, dated the 5th July 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sri Chitto Bose, 36, Maharaj Tagore Road, Calcutta-31.

PRESENT :

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge.

For the Company : Sri S. K. Asthana, Labour Adviser to the Engineering Association of India, instructed by Sri N. C. Sen, Works Manager.

For the workmen : Sri Susovan Roy, Member of the Executive Committee of the Union, registered on 21st August 1951 (Registration No. 2385) and Sri Patit Paban Pathak, President of the Belur Iron and Steel Workers Union, registered No. 676.

AWARD.

The industrial dispute under reference relates to the discharge of the following nine workmen and I am called upon to adjudicate whether their discharge was justified and whether they were entitled to any relief and if so, what relief they are entitled to :—

(1) Motilal Mondal.
(2) Manindra Bhusan Dutt.
(3) Santi Ranjan Sen Gupta.
(4) Haripada Seal Bhowmick.
(5) Prafulla Ray Chowdhury.
(6) Panchanan Roy.
(7) Phatiklal Das.
(8) Avimanyu Banerji.
(9) Prafulla Kumar Paul.

Before I enter into the merit of the case, I should do well to give a short history of the industry. The Bengal Electric Lamp Works, Ltd., are mainly engaged in the manufacture of electric lamps. The production was actually started in 1934. The machine shop was established in 1938 and was intended for maintenance of the lamp factory and the glass factory in connection with the breakdown of foreign machineries. As there was no production work in the machine shop, the machines could not be employed full time. The department is said to have been very uneconomic in its operation and attempts were made to procure outside work. The Company's case is that the department would have been closed down, but for some orders for nuts and washers during the war years. When the Company found its way to fully employ the machines of the machine shop, some apprentices were employed among whom were :

(1) Manindra Bhushan Dutt appointed on 5th February 1943.
(2) Santi Ranjan Sen Gupta appointed on 25th January 1943.
(3) Haripada Seal Bhowmick appointed on 25th January 1943.
(4) Prafulla Roy Chowdhury appointed on 5th February 1943.
(5) Panchanan Roy appointed on 12th August 1942.

With the termination of war, outside jobs could not be secured. With a view to provide sufficient work in the machine shop, the Company decided in September 1944 to manufacture fans. The Company started a factory for the purpose and thus found its way to retain the services of the then existing staff and retrenchment was avoided. The fan department provided the machine shop with works connected with assembling and repair works. The Company was then in a position to employ some additional hands and the following workmen were appointed :—

(6) Abhimanyu Banerji appointed on 14th February 1949.
(7) Matilal Mandal appointed on 13th March 1948.
(8) Phatik Lal Das appointed on 9th April 1948.

The fans produced by this Company were ultimately found not to have a satisfactory market in this country. It could not compete with the reputed and established makes. The result was [illegible] was a huge accumulation. The following table will show at a glance the position of production, sale and stock of fans :—

Year.	Stock in the beginning of the year.	Production.	Sale.	Stock at the end of the year.
1947	..	..	..	277
1948	277	529	490	316
1949	316	1,462	515	1,263
1950	1,263	1,034	498	1,799
1951	1,799	125	654	1,270

It is clear that the sale in 1948 and 1949 was not even half of the production of those years. The fan department could not work on economic basis. It was a losing concern. The Company accordingly decided to close the fan department completely. But this could not be done all at once on account of the fact that some fans were in process and some were received from the customers for repairs and some works were required for finishing, painting and testing the fans which were in the stock. The closure of the fan department necessarily caused a shrinkage in the works of the machine shop and the workers were retrenched gradually as detailed below :—

Date.	Machine shop—personnel retrenched.	Fan factory—personnel retrenched.
14-10-50	10	10
1-11-50	Nil	28
9-6-51	2	Nil
10-8-51	4	8 (7 temporary)
1-2-52	8	Nil

The eight workers retrenched on 1st February 1952 are those named in the schedule annexed to the original order of reference No. 815Dis., dated the 10th April 1952. They were offered jobs with lower pay but they are said to have refused such jobs. Refusal of lower rated jobs was very natural and does not in any way operate any estoppel against the workmen.

To the original list of 8 workers mentioned in the order of reference of the 10th April 1952 was added another worker named Prafulla Kumar Paul by the addendum No. 1818Dis., dated the 5th July 1952. Prafulla Kumar Paul was an Assistant pot maker, having been appointed on the 22nd January 1947. The Company's contention is that by experience it was found that pot furnaces were quite uneconomical and that the Company switched off pot furnace to tank furnace. This has necessitated abolition of the work of pot making. But the pot maker Sri Pyari Lal Paul has been retained and his services are being utilised for manufacturing furnace door covers and floating rings which were also used in the pot furnace. All the employees of the Pot Section with the exception of Prafulla Kumar Paul have been absorbed in the tank furnace section. The pot furnace was found uneconomical on two main grounds :—

(1) The pots manufactured by the Bengal Glass Works were found unsuitable and pots had to be purchased from outside parties (Balwali, Kaysee, etc.).

(2) The production was much less in the pot furnace, the daily production having been 4 to 5 thousand shells as against the daily production of 12,500 shells in the tank furnace.

Now I proceed to examine the cases of the 9 workmen individually.

1. Motilal Mondal appointed on 13th March 1948, assistant to blacksmith—He was undoubtedly appointed after the fan department was started. The sworn testimony of the Works Manager Sri N. C. Sen is that Motilal's duty was to straighten the fan discs by heating. He had no other work. Consequently he had no work after the closing of the fan department.

2. Manindra Dutt appointed on 17th March 1943—He was appointed some time before the fan department was started. He was initially an apprentice and was gradually raised to the post of an Assistant Lathe man. His duty was to cut and machine fan bodies and to turn shanks in the lathe. Although he was appointed as an apprentice a little before the fan factory was started he was employed in the machine shop after the fan factory was started exclusively for works connected with fans. The lathe machine might be required in connection with the bulbs. The evidence is that the Company has still been left with 3 lathe men. The shrinkage of lathe works in the machine shop on account of closure of the fan factory necessitated the retrenchment of one lathe man Phatik Lal Das appointed on 9th April 1948 and the Assistant lathe man Manindra Dutt appointed on 17th March 1943.

3. Fatik Lal Das appointed on 9th April 1948—Admittedly he was appointed after the fan department was started and his duty was exclusively to machine the fan bodies. I have already stated that shrinkage of lathe works in the machine shop on account of the closure of the fan factory necessitated his discharge and the discharge of the Assistant Manindra Dutt.

4. Santi Ranjan Sen Gupta appointed on 25th January 1943—He was appointed for distributing tools to machine men and to the fitters. The sworn testimony of the Works Manager is that he had no sufficient work after the fan factory was closed and that the little work in the tools department after the closure of the fan factory could be done by the Inspector. Santi Sen was appointed sometime before the fan factory was started. He was at first employed in connection with the manufacture of nuts and washers during the war years. Instead of discharging him after the cessation of the war when the Company could not secure any outside work, his services were retained and utilised in the tools department where the works appreciated on account of fan manufacturing. Before the fan factory was started the work of distribution of tools was done by the Inspector and immediately after the fan factory was closed down, an Inspector was deputed to do the work as before. The Inspector Santi Ranjan Sarkar who has been deputed to do this work in addition to his own duties is admittedly junior to Santi Sen Gupta. The Company retained the services of Santi Sarkar in preference to Santi Sen Gupta on the ground that Santi Sarkar knows how to handle the Micrometer which is necessary for inspection. Santi Ranjan Sen does not know this work.

5. Haripada Seal Bhowmick appointed on 25th January 1943—He was also appointed some time before the fan factory was started. He was at first employed in connection with the manufacture of nuts and washers during the war years. When the fan department was opened, his services were utilised in connection with the fan department. His duty was to drill the fan bodies and to fit shanks to the blades. He had little work which was not connected with the fan department and this was negligible. This little work not connected with the fan department is being done by some other man in addition to his own duty.

6. Profulla Roy Choudhury appointed on 5th March 1947—He was also appointed some time before the fan department was opened. He was initially appointed as an apprentice in connection with the manufacture of nuts and washers during the war years. His [illegible] utilised in the fan factory and his duty was to drill the fan bodies and to fit shanks to the blades. His works were similar to that of Haripada Seal Bhowmick. He was an assistant to the Head mistry. After the closure of the fan factory there was not much work, according to Sri N. C. Sen, Works Manager, for a blacksmith department. This department is maintained only to do some works in connection with breakdown. The Company has still one mistry and two boys in the blacksmith department. The absence of the mistry occasionally does not, according to the Works Manager, affect the industry much.

7. Panchanan Roy appointed on 12th August 1942—He was admittedly appointed some time before the fan department was started. He was working in the shaping machine. Before the fan department was started he was employed in connection with the manufacture of nuts and washers and after cessation of the war, instead of dispensing his services he was employed in connection with the fan factory in making the keyways for the spindles of the fan department. The shaping machine is also necessary for the glass and lamp factories, but such requirements for the maintenance of the glass and lamp factories were occasional. One Susil Nag who is said to have been junior to Panchanan Roy has been retained to do the work in addition to his own duty. Susil Nag had been working so long on the milling and grinding machines. The milling machine is required only for the maintenance. In the shaping machine only plaining is done in connection with maintenance. This plaining is required only when there is a breakdown. Panchanan Roy does not know the works of the grinding and milling machines. Hence his services had to be dispensed with in preference to Susil Nag.

8. Abhimanyu Banerji appointed on 14th February 1949—He was appointed admittedly after the fan department was started. He was a die maker. He used to make dies for notching of the discs in connection with the manufacture of fans. Consequently on the closure of the fan factory he had no work. Abhimanyu Banerji has since secured a better job and it not agreeable to work in the Bengal Electric Lamp Works, Ltd. (Exhibit 4).

9. Prafulla Kumar Pal, Assistant to the pot maker—He was appointed admittedly on the 22nd January 1947. Although the department-in-charge appears to have given a certificate to him (Exhibit A) from November 1943 he was admittedly an assistant to the head mistry Rajani Nath and was appointed on 4th February 1943. Obviously Exhibit A was granted in good faith to Prafulla to secure some job elsewhere and no attention appears to have been given about the accuracy in the statement in the certificate. I have already mentioned that the Company switched off pot furnace to tank furnace on bona fide economic grounds in the interest of the industry. Necessarily the works of the pot maker have been reduced only to the making of furnace door covers and floating rings for the tank furnace. For this purpose the pot maker is sufficient and no assistant is required.

It was only in two cases the workmen could point out that the accepted principle of "last come, first go" was not followed. This was in the cases of Santi Sen Gupta and Panchanan Roy. The Company was sufficiently justified in deviating from the accepted principle in these two cases. The evidence on behalf of the Company stands unrebutted, and I cannot but accept the case of the Company as placed before me by the Works Manager and I am satisfied that the deviation of the accepted principle in these two cases was perfectly justified. I cannot accordingly direct reinstatement of these men.

It has been amply proved that the fan factory was closed down on bona fide economic grounds. Even if it were not so it has been settled that a man has an inherent right to close down an industry or a part thereof only if he does not like to carry on. In such case the employer cannot be compelled to run the business in its entirety. All that can be done is to compensate the workmen on account of the termination of their services caused by unjustified closure. There is no ground for awarding penal compensation to the workmen in the present case. The Union has failed to make out a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. I could understand that the workmen of this industry was, for sometime, attempting to form a Union. This Union has since been formed and registered in March 1952. There is, however, no evidence that the retrenched workmen took any active part in the formation of the Union to the knowledge of the Management, and that Management had any antipathy towards the Union or had any reason to adopt unfair practice against those workmen who took part in the formation of the Union.

Abhimanyu Banerji who has secured a better job elsewhere should be given wages for the notice period, the provident fund money due to his credit including employer's contribution and the wages for the leave due to him. As regards other 8 workmen they shall be paid pay for the notice period, the provident fund money due to their credit including employer's contribution and wages for the leave due to their credit on the date of their retrenchment. In addition to these payments they should also receive some compensation on account of their unemployment. I could understand that even in 1951 the workmen were given two months' wages as bonus. The accounts of the Company have not been placed before me. I presume that the Company's financial position is quite progressive, and I hope that with the closure of the fan factory which was a losing concern, the Company will be able to earn higher profit since the closure of the fan factory. In these circumstances, I am inclined to award unemployment compensation to the retrenched workmen with the exception of Abhimanyu Banerji at the rate of half month's basic wages and half dearness allowance for each complete year of service on the date of their retrenchment, that is, on 1st February 1952. My attention was placed to awards reported in 1950-II-L.L.J. at page 51 and at page 1329, in support of the contention on behalf of the Company that by acceptance of wages in lieu of notice, a worker puts an end to his relationship of employer and employee. Similar other views of the State Tribunals were placed before me. In view of a contrary decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Viswamitra Press reported in 1952 L.A.C. at page 20 and in the case of Tara Dutt reported in the same volume of the L.A.C. at page 292, I cannot but accept the view taken by the Judges of State Tribunals. Their lordships have held:—

> "Although the case of coercion has failed we cannot overlook the fact that workmen generally are in needy circumstances and in our opinion, it would be wrong to draw an inference from the mere fact of receipt of wages for the notice period that they voluntarily gave up their services and so, are precluded from raising a dispute as to the propriety of their discharge."

I was shown some receipts from the Company's file that Haripada Seal Bhowmick, Phatik Lal Das, Manindra Dutt and Santi Ranjan Sen Gupta have received wages for the notice period, provident fund money and wages in lieu of leave due. Even if acceptance of this compensation may lead to a presumption that these workmen knew the circumstances on which these payments were made, such acceptance cannot stop them from claiming further compensation. I am not here directing reinstatement of the retrenched workmen and I do not propose to enter into the question whether the acceptance of this compensation will debar them from getting any further compensation that may be awarded by a Tribunal. I direct that the workmen retrenched shall be paid compensation according to the directions detailed above less any amount that has been paid to them. Wages for notice period and for leave due shall include dearness allowance. These payments shall be made within a month from the date when this award comes into force. The financial year of the Company is from the 1st of April to the 31st March of the following year. The accounts for the year 1951-52 have not as yet been finalised. If any bonus is declared to the workmen in general these retrenched workmen shall be entitled to get such bonus proportionate to the length of their service in the relevant year.

At the time of fresh recruitment, these retrenched hands shall be given the first preference provided other things are equal. The Company shall also grant them service certificate. There is no adverse suggestion against any of these workmen and I presume that a true certificate will stand these workmen in good stead in securing job elsewhere.

A. DAS GUPTA,
Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The 28th July 1952.

By order of the Governor,
K. R. DAS SARKAR,
Dy. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

ORDER.

No. 2302Dis./D/11L-41/52.—22nd August 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 228Dis./D/11L-133/51, dated the 12th November 1951, the industrial dispute between Great Eastern Hotel, Ltd., Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workers as represented by the General Secretary, Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet, 121/2D, Surendra Nath Banerjee Road, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Great Eastern Hotel, Ltd., Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workers as represented by the General Secretary, Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet, 121/2D, Surendra Nath Banerjee Road, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Pleader, assisted by Sri B. K. Roy, Director of the Company and Mr. C. Green, Director of the Company.

For the Panchayet: Sri J. Pandey, General Secretary of the Panchayet.

AWARD.

The above dispute had been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, by order No. 228Dis./11L-133/51, dated the 12th November 1951, for adjudication.

The case of the Union is that there was a previous industrial dispute between the Company and its workmen on the basis of general demands, which was adjudicated by an award given by this Tribunal on 4th May 1950.

It is alleged that the Company considered itself to be in an embarrassing situation by the award, and in order to avoid the implementation, launched upon the venture of illegal and unjustified lock-outs, dismissals and discharge, without any valid ground, and thus tried to eliminate the beneficiaries of the award.

It is further alleged that the Company took a bold step to discharge some 21 line bearers, and also discharged good many number of workmen, who were refused permission to resume duty after they had returned from leave. It is also alleged that some of the bakers, hotel coolies, masalchis, pantrymen and other workers were discharged from their services, the total number of the workers thus dispensed with being 99 as per letter of reference.

The Company appears and files a long written statement stoutly denying the allegations that the Company, with a view to take away the benefits and privileges of the award, had discharged the workers. The case of the Management is that the 21 line bearers, who had been discharged, were temporary hands. It is further alleged that the air line bearers were discharged for refusing to carry the luggages of the air passengers. The bakers were discharged as a result of retrenchment, which had to be effected because of the cut in the quota of flour by the Government. Others were discharged for misconduct.

ISSUE.

Discharge of the workers mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference and the relief they are entitled to.

The case of the discharged workers will be taken up for the sake of convenience in groups. I shall first take up the case of the bakers, who had been discharged on the ground of retrenchment, as stated by the Company. The number of bakers discharged is 14, as submitted in the list supplied by the Management on demand by the Tribunal. This list is not challenged. In the statement of the Union, 15 names have been given but after the Company submitted statement (Exhibit L), the position as submitted by the Management had been accepted. All of these bakers were retrenched on 28th February 1951 due to bread production being halved on account of drastic cut in flour ration. On this point, the Management has examined the clerk in charge of the Bakery Department, and Sudhir Babu, O.P.W. 4, deposes that previously the quota was 1,500 maunds per week on an average, but it had been reduced to less than half in February 1951. This is proved by the Quota Register kept in the course of regular business (Exhibit 1). It is further alleged that after six months, flour position improved and some 7 or 8 bakers were taken back. The names of the persons who have been taken back have also been shown in the list. Admittedly these men have been taken after some six months in September and October 1951, when the quota position improved. The other bakers had put in less than one year's service. None of these bakers turned up before this Tribunal. In my opinion, the authorities were amply justified in retrenching these bakers and the fact that some of them were reinstated as soon as quota situation improved, shows that the Company had acted bona fide and were eager to reinstate the workers at the earliest possible opportunity. The order of discharge of others who have not been reinstated stands. The Union claimed that the workers should be entitled to wages for period of involuntary unemployment, but there is no evidence that these workers were unemployed during this period. So, I cannot order compensation for involuntary unemployment; nor can order reinstatement with retrospective effect.

I shall now take up the group of workers discharged for overstaying leave. The complete list is given by the Management and the number is nearly 35. A copy of the list was also given to the Union and the entries are not challenged, and I am not going to incorporate this in the body of the award, as the record will be unnecessarily cumbrous. Their number is about 35, and of these, some 22 were taken back and re-appointed on the assurance by the Union that they would actively discourage overstaying of leave. This assurance was given before the Labour Commissioner and the workers were re-appointed.

Two of the workers, Hafiz and Wasik Ali, both wine boys, were given appointment in Dum Dum Restaurant on the recommendations of the Management, and they are no longer in service of the hotel.

Kasim, wine boy, it is proved, left of his own accord.

Regarding the remaining workers who were not re-appointed for overstaying leave, I cannot order reinstatement, for it is entirely at the discretion of the Management to condone negligence in not turning up after the expiry of the leave. Evidence of overstaying leave is proved by the Attendance Register and oral evidence as well. Considering the number of employees who had overstayed leave is pretty big, I cannot blame the hotel authorities if they strictly enforced the rule that workers overstaying leave should be forthwith discharged. The absence of trained workers to join the staff in proper time affects the smooth running of the hotel, and I think the authorities were well-justified in taking drastic step of discharging in case of workers overstaying leave.

It was next contended that these workers should be treated as if there was no break of service. It was also urged that some wine boys were on re-appointment demoted as table boys. There is no evidence if it is a case of demotion. Even if it be, the Company as a matter of grace and courtesy, through kindness, re-appointed those workers who had already overstayed or were discharged. After the legal discharge, the workers cannot claim any wages for back period nor complain if they had been recently posted to an inferior post. There is no evidence either that they were all along unemployed for the period complained of.

Next group of cases relate to the air line boys, who refused to obey the orders of the hotel authorities to carry air passengers' suit cases, or to push the luggage trolleys to the rooms of the air passengers. On this point, the evidence of Mr. Green, one of the Directors, is important. He deposes that these air line bearers are to serve the passengers and crews of the air line companies, and the function of the air line bearers is to look after the air line passengers and to make them as comfortable as possible. These air line bearers were to meet the air line passengers and to carry their luggages by the aid of trolley, which was taken by the electrical lifts to the air line rooms. These air line boys were specially engaged, as the air line passengers are invariably in a hurry and they leave the hotel in the early hours of the morning when the hotel coolies are never to be found to remove the luggages, causing great annoyance to the passengers. This reflected most adversely on the Company. So, these workers were appointed as thicka bearers on the daily rate of pay. It was decided to make a separate group of them, who will function as line bearers-cum-coolies for the air line wing only. With a view to giving impetus in their work, they would wear uniforms differing from others, receive 50 per cent of the air line tips, the remainder to be distributed amongst the rest of the employees. They showed great excitement over their new duties, and it was agreed that they would commence their new duties from the next day. But to the embarrassment of the Company, it was reported on the following day that the air line bearers had changed their mind and had refused to carry the luggage, which consists only of a suitcase, which are by no means heavy. So, the services of these workers were dispensed with and a new batch appointed. Later on, these workers expressed regret for their conduct and prayed for restoration of service (Exhibits D and D_1). It was suggested by the Union that these petitions had been prepared by Sudhir Babu, a clerk of the hotel, and the employees had been asked to put their signatures on the same. On reading the document, it is clear that it had been ill-drafted with very bad mistakes in spelling, etc., and it is not possible to believe that the petition should be so unhappily drafted and worded. Had it been that the hotel authorities manipulated this, the draft would have been quite happily worded and free from mistakes. The nature of the duties of the air line bearers was to carry the small luggage from the air line rooms to the trolley, which readily takes the luggages upstairs. This work is not at all heavy, and if the air line bearers entertain a false sense of prestige that by carrying these luggages, they will be humiliated in the eyes of their fellow brethren, it is better that they should leave the hotel and take up appointments elsewhere where their so-called prestige will be maintained.

The Union has examined Dulalchand and Fakir out of these air line bearers, and both of them deposed that they would not carry luggages even now, if re-appointed. In view of the bold statement, I am not prepared to reinstate any of the air line bearers, as the essential part of their duty must be to carry air line passengers' luggages themselves. The case of the air line bearers fails, and I hold they had been rightly discharged for misconduct. No question of compensation arises in such cases of discharge for misconduct and gross disobedience.

Then comes another group who have been discharged for leaving without notice. Of these, 3 have since been reappointed—Mishrilall, line bearer, Subrati, line bearer and Abdul Sukkur, coolie.

Sk. Najju, masalchi.—He sent a letter of resignation on 19th July 1950 and has been paid wages and gratuity.

Of the remaining persons, the statement of the hotel authorities is that they left without notice goes unchallenged, as none of these persons comes before the Tribunal. Possibly they are engaged elsewhere, and do not care a straw for the present case.

Lastly come the persons who have been discharged for misconduct.

Latif and Hanif, line bearers.—On this point, the evidence is that there was theft in residents' room under their charge. The matter had to be reported to the police, and the police took Latif and Hanif in their custody, and according to the advice of the police, their services were dispensed with (Exhibit E). Mr. Green has deposed on the point. The evidence of Latif and Hanif is that they led a procession on the Republican Day and were shouting slogans, for which the Management had been annoyed and they had been discharged on a false pretext. I refuse to believe that the Management can go to the length of discharging these persons for leading a procession, as alleged. Evidence regarding theft in rooms of the residents under their charge is sufficiently strong, and I cannot blame the hotel authorities if they decided to dispense with services of such men of questionable character. I uphold their discharges.

Subrati, table boy.—He had been dismissed on 4th December 1950, and Mr. Green deposes that a bottle of bear was served by him to a customer, a bill was made out, and he collected cash amounting to Rs. 4-4 and a little later reported to the Cashier to cancel the cash voucher, as the customer did not want the beer. About an hour later, the Bar Cashier sent for Subrati and asked him to return the bottle of beer. Having no other alternative, he took out of his pocket Rs. 4-4, which he had collected from the customer. A charge-sheet was given to him (Exhibit F), and he submitted an explanation (Exhibit F_1) and the Management, after considering the matter, dismissed him. I do not think anything was wrong on the part of the Management if they dismissed him under such circumstances. This worker is in the habit of misappropriating money collected from the customers, as it appears from his deposition that he did not deposit the collected money and there was no murmur when Rs. 4-4 had been deducted from his salary, presumably because of his complicity in the alleged offence. I uphold the discharge.

Abdul Gani, table boy.—On this point, the Steward, Mr. Johns, was examined and he deposes that he did not make out a bill for two lunches he had served. He found that Abdul Gani returned only Rs. 3 to a customer instead of returning the amount which he was supposed to return. The customer then gave him a rupee, and he pocketed Rs. 8, without making a bill. I think he has been rightly dismissed. I refuse to interfere.

Najju, table boy.—He had been dismissed on 29th August 1951, and the complaint is that on the night of the 28th August 1951, at 9-45 p.m. when several outsiders and hotel residents were having their dinner, he began to strip the table by removing the table cloth, etc. In spite of the Head Steward's and Head Butler's protests not to remove table cloth at such an early hour, he continued removing the table cloth. There were previous complaints against this man. Mr. S. Tweedie, Steward, O.P.W. 3, was examined and proved the charge. I uphold the discharge, which is quite proper and justified under the circumstances.

Abdul Mallik, table boy.—He was dismissed on 23rd February 1951, on a charge of making false bills in respect of two bottles of beer and thereby trying to cheat the Company. This has been proved by Mr. Green, one of the Directors. It is in evidence that he gave a slip purporting to have been given by a Rotarian for two bottles of beer. The Rotarian denied having presented the chit, which shows that the word "bottle" has been lamentably misspelt as "bootle". The charge is proved. I do not see any reason why this man should be reinstated.

Ganga Mistri, cold storage, Lokenath Ojha, pumpman, Rahimootullah, boilerman, Pabitra Singh, boilerman.—All of them were discharged on 12th December 1949 for assaulting the Chief Engineer and a case had been instituted. They were found guilty by the Presidency Magistrate, Sri S. Ghosh, on 14th June 1950 and convicted for rioting. There was an appeal by the Union to High Court, who on technical grounds, ordered a fresh trial, but in the meantime, the Chief Engineer having left India, the new trying Magistrate discharged the accused persons. Whatever that may be, the Management was not bound by the decision of the criminal court. Nevertheless the hotel reappointed these people and they are now in service. No further question of reinstatement can now arise. But the Union prays for their pay for the period of their unemployment. In my opinion, they have been acquitted on a technical point. Their complicity in a riotous conduct in assaulting the Chief Engineer was believed by the Management and it is good of them that they had been pleased to reinstate them. The hotel authorities could have ignored the judgment of the criminal case, which is not binding on them and a criminal case can fail for variety of reasons, technical or other grounds. Under the circumstances, I do not think they can claim the pay for the period of their discharge. The workers ought to be thankful to the hotel authorities for this re-appointment. No compensation or pay can be claimed under the circumstances.

Abdul Kayum, chhokra.—He had been discharged on 13th July 1950, for insubordination and extreme insolence under the following circumstances. He was bringing lunch for Mrs. Gonsalves, who is in charge of the cloak room. This chhokra put the plate on one end of the counter and pushed it to the other end. The lady concerned reprimanded him for his action, but he became most insolent. Another lady, Mrs. Godbar, who was in the cloak room at that time, spoke to him and the boy was equally insulting to her. Exhibit 12(a) is the complaint of Mrs. Godbar. The matter was investigated by the Management, and they found the boy guilty and dismissed him. Prayer for reinstatement is rejected.

Priodarshi Barua, cook.—Mr. Green proves that he had been dismissed for stealing 3 seers of flour. No interference. The order of dismissal stands.

Nagendralal Barua, cook.—He handed over a big slice of meat to one sweeper named Khajan and the latter was apprehended by the durwan. Nagendralal admitted his guilt and was dismissed I think rightly. Prayer for reinstatement is rejected.

Kedarnath Singh, Durwan.—He was found sleeping on duty as deposed by Mr. Green. He had three previous warnings for this act and on each of these occasions, his pugree was brought to the office, but his sleep was so sound that he was unaware of this. He has been rightly dismissed. A durwan on duty falling asleep commits a grave misconduct, for which dismissal is the only proper punishment. I uphold the order of discharge.

Gulzar, pantryman.—He was dismissed in November 1948 for stealing milk from the pantry and he was summarily dismissed, but on discussion with the Labour Commissioner, it was decided that he would be taken back. A letter was sent to him to rejoin his work, but the letter did not reach him in his home address. It was discovered later on that though he was dismissed in 1948, he had been secretly re-employed by the head coolie without the knowledge of the Management. Under the circumstances, he was dismissed and the Labour Commissioner informed. The Attendance Register shows that he had been working as a coolie from April 1950 by false personification. He has been rightly dismissed.

Regarding Munir Md. and others mentioned in page 6 of the Company's written statement, the facts are that there was a threatened strike in March 1951, and the Butlers told the Directors that the table boys were demanding a strength of 120. At that time which was summer, the residents numbered only 130. So, the matter was discussed with the Labour Commissioner, and it was agreed that the total strength of table boys should be maintained at 120 and 15 old employees, who had been discharged, were re-employed. At present, therefore, there is no case so far as these workers are concerned. There cannot be any claim for back wages or compensation.

This finishes the case of the workers who have been dismissed, whose cases have been considered both from the individual and collective point of view. The action of the Management in discharging these workers was amply justified as I have already noted. The Union prayed that in the case of workers who have been reinstated by the Management, ad interim pay should be given, but as most of these cases involved serious allegations and gross misconduct on the part of the workers, the fact of reinstatement by the Management does not entitle them to compensation. On a careful consideration of all the cases and weighing the evidence on the side of the workers as also on behalf of the Company, I am of opinion that none of these discharged workers mentioned in the order of reference is entitled to any relief and are not entitled to reinstatement or compensation. So far as the cases of the workers already reinstated are concerned, no further order is necessary, and no further order of compensation or back wages can be made. I make my award accordingly.

By order of the

In the matter of an Industrial Dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 16, Dum Dum Road, Dum Dum, 24-Parganas, Head Office, 11, Sovaram Bysack Street, Calcutta, and their workmen, represented by the Pioneer Match Factory Employees' Union, 17/1, Shyamnagar Road, Dum Dum, 24-Parganas.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Pleader, and Sri J. Bose, Pleader, assisted by Sri M. L. Benani, Proprietor of the Company.

For the Union: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, assisted by Sri H. C. Sen, Assistant Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 814Dis./D/11L-3/52, dated the 10th April 1952, referred the above-named industrial dispute under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), to me as the Tribunal for adjudication.

The case of the Union is that in the abovenamed factory, the wages were very low and since 1941 the workmen were being paid on time-rate basis. The dispute having arisen between the employer and the workmen regarding the rates of increment of pay and dearness allowance, the Government of West Bengal had referred the dispute to Sri S. C. Chakraborty, Tribunal for adjudication, on the 11th May 1950. The said Tribunal made an award on the 8th September 1950, and by his award, a scheme had been outlined making a substantial number of time-rates as piece-raters and the Tribunal had directed that the said scheme should be given a trial for one year and further directed that "after lapse of one year the production and wages should be examined in the light of the finance and, if necessary, the matter should again come to a tribunal for readjustment".

It is alleged that by the introduction of the piece-rate system Management made a substantial earning but the workmen could not earn any living wage. It is also alleged that the proprietor had been benefited by the above scheme as there is a substantial rise in the income of the proprietor. The workmen alleged that total earnings of the piece-rated workmen inclusive of all allowances now prevailing are below the starvation point. It is also complained that the piece-rate system has further proved to be extremely hard upon the workmen in view of the fact that the employers have not made arrangements for constant supply of materials and have not kept the machines in proper running order. The workmen pray for an award directing the proprietors to introduce the time-rate basis in place of piece-rate system now in force and for an award directing the proprietor to pay wages, annual increment and dearness allowance as per charter of demand, dated 4th January 1952, which follows a part of the written statement of the Union as Annexure "A". There is also claim for bonus of one month's pay each year.

There is a further allegation that one Sri Dhirendra Chandra Bose, Machineman of the Peeling Department, has been working in the factory since 1928 and had been a time-rated workman from the beginning of his employment. But in 1951, he was made a piece-rated worker and that his income has fallen as compared with his past earnings and the Union pressed that he should have been recategorised as a monthly paid workman. But the Company submits a long written statement alleging that this Company had been founded in 1924 and was one of the 26 small Swadeshi Match Factories which flourished and did good business till the war broke out in 1939. During the war years, the powerful Wimco concern, which had already organised its factories all over India, captured the market almost completely. Since then this Company was running not very satisfactorily and since 1948 it is systematically running at a loss. It is alleged that Mr. S. C. Chakravarty, the Tribunal, considering the poor production of the Company and also its bad financial position, awarded a scheme under which all the time-raters who used to be on piece-rates before 1951 were reverted as piece-raters. The Company alleges that the scheme is working very satisfactorily and as a result of the introduction of the scheme the production has gone up and the workers are also earning better than when they were piece-raters. The agreed scheme is working satisfactorily to the advantage of both the employers and the employees. There is no reason why so soon it will be revised. It is not prudent to introduce the time-rate scheme when the Company is running at a loss. Regarding the wages of Sri Dhirendra Nath Bose, Machineman of the Peeling Department, the Company states that his earning is much more as a piece-rater than what he had previously earned as a monthly paid worker.

ISSUES.

(1) Re-introduction of time-rated wages.

(2) Wages and dearness allowance.

(3) Bonus.

(4) Wages of Sri Dhirendra Chandra Bose, Machineman of the Peeling Department.

Issue No. 1.—The workers in this factory were time-rated since 1941, and the dispute had arisen between the employers and the workmen regarding basic pay, rates of increment and dearness allowance and Sri S. C. Chakravarti was appointed Tribunal to adjudicate the dispute and he after an elaborate survey of the work and consulting the employers and the employees introduced a piece-rate system and gave the following direction :—

> "After a lapse of one year, the production and wages should be examined in the light of finance and, if necessary, the matter should again come to a Tribunal for adjudication."

Admittedly the production was increased as stated in paragraph 9 of the written statement of the Union. But according to the Union the workmen's earnings have fallen and correspondingly the income of the Management has increased. Let us examine the position. So far as the financial position is concerned, the Company has produced the balance-sheet to show that they have sustained a loss of Rs. 69,656 (inclusive depreciation) in the year 1950. In 1951, after this scheme was introduced, the loss was considerably less. In that year the Company's loss was about Rs. 48,645-5 (including depreciation). The Company also states that previously, i.e., since 1948, the Company was running at a loss, and though the Company has not yet been able to be self-supporting, it is idle and would rather be hasty to revise this scheme of the award of Sri Chakravarty. In my opinion, it should be given a further and a longer trial. By following the award of Sri Chakravarty, the workers will not be at all prejudiced, for it is amply proved by facts and figures that the earnings of the workers have definitely increased than what had been before (vide Exhibits A and C). It is seen that the workers of all the departments—D.S.A. Department, Outer Selecting Department, Bottom Selecting, Veneer Pilling, Stick Pilling, Side Painting, Second Box Arng, Dozen Packing, Case, Gross, Packet and Packing, Labelling, Bander Oiling, Inner Pesting, Frame Filing, Frame Empty, Dipping and Stick Selecting—are all earning much more than what had been earned before on monthly-rated basis. It is also seen from Exhibit A that the previous daily rate had been increased and earned by the workers by 25 per cent. more after the introduction of the piece-rate system. The Union was given a chance to test the correctness or challenging the statements by verification from the original records produced by the Company. But they could not succeed. At the time when I went to inspect the factory the Union leaders wanted to point out to me that there are many who are earning much less than what has been earned previously. But they could not substantiate the allegation. Moreover, the accounts kept in this factory are almost unassailable for frequent audit is made by Excise authorities. So, judging the present rate of salary earned by the introduction of piece-rate system, I see no reason why the workers are anxious to go back to time-rate basis. In my considered opinion, time-rate, as is well-known, give a premium to indolence and lethargy for work or no work they will earn the fixed salary. But in case of piece-rate, an honest and enterprising worker may earn much more than what is fixed as the minimum basic wage of a monthly-paid worker. This is amply illustrated from the documents filed by the Company—veracity whereof could not be challenged successfully by the Union worker. In my opinion, therefore, the award of Sri Chakravarti should be given a fair trial at least till the Company is in a position to make up the loss. I see no reason why the award should be so soon revised when both the employer and the employees are being benefited by this scheme. My award is that the scheme of Sri Chakravarti should be permanently adopted for the benefit of all concerned. Moreover, the nature of the work in this sort of industry requires that the workmen should be on the piece-rate. It will be difficult for the Company to continue this business if the piece-rates are converted into the time-rates as the production is bound to drop in that case.

Issue No. 2.—Regarding wages and dearness allowance the Union demands as follows :—

"(1) The basic pay of all the unskilled labours should be—Rs. 40 per month.

(2) The basic pay of all the semi-skilled labours should be—Rs. 60 per month.

(3) The basic pay of all the skilled labours should be—Rs. 80 per month.

(4) The basic pay of all the manual labours who are temporary should be—Rs. 40 per month.

(5) The basic pay of all the manual labours who are permanent should be—Rs. 60 per month.

Annual increment of the—

(a) Categories 1 to 4 should be at 2 annas per rupee per annum.

(b) Categories 2 and 5 should be at 3 annas per rupee per annum.

(c) Category 3 should be at 4 annas per rupee per annum.

2. Staff.—The staff should be graded as follows :—

(i) Basic of "A" grade staff should be Rs. 150 to Rs. 200.

(ii) Basic of "B" grade staff should be Rs. 80 to Rs. 180.

(iii) Basic of "C" grade staff should be Rs. 60 to Rs. 120.

Increment should be given as follows :—

		per year. Rs.
A	.. ..	10
B	.. ..	6
C	.. ..	4

Regarding dearness allowance, they claimed according to the rate of Bengal Chamber of Commerce. In view of my previous findings, I do not see any reason why the wage rate and dearness allowance fixed by Sri Chakravarti should be so soon revised. So, my award is that the wages and dearness allowance as fixed by Sri Chakravarty, Tribunal, should continue to be paid. No revision of wages on monthly basis or time-rate is called for. Prayer for revising wages and dearness allowance as per demand of the Union is rejected.

Issue No. 3.—Bonus.—The firm is admittedly not making any profit since 1948 and it had made no profit also last year. Bonus is always dependent on profit and when no profit has been earned, no question of payment of bonus arises. No direction can be given regarding payment of bonus as claimed by the Union. The prayer is rejected.

Issue No. 4.—Wages of Sri Dhirendra Chandra Bose, Machineman of the Peeling Department.—It is complained that this Dhirendra Chandra Bose was a worker Machineman of the Peeling Department working since 1928 and he has been all along a monthly-rated workman till the year 1950, but in 1951, he was made a time-rater. It is now demanded that the said worker should be re-categorised as a monthly-paid workman and his pay should be according to following scale :—

Rs. 80—6—180.

The Company has submitted a statement, which is not challenged, and it is seen that the pay of Sri Dhirendra Chandra Bose was Rs. 70 per month previous to the introduction of piece-rate system (vide Exhibit B). But since the introduction of piece-rate in the year 1951, his income on the average is over Rs. 95 for 26 days' work. I think this worker is much benefited by the introduction of the piece-rate system. But if he wants that his pay should be fixed at the rate claimed by the Union and if he be re-categorised as a monthly-rated worker, it will be giving a premium on his idleness and the Company would be loser thereby. So, the wage of Sri Dhirendra Chandra Bose should not be time-rated but remain piece-rated as now. The issue is answered accordingly.

The humble petititon of the Petitioner Sudhansu Sekhar Ghosh respectfully sheweth:—

1. Your petitioner who is a citizen of India, at all material times, was and still is a resident of Calcutta his actual place of residence being the said premises No. 3, Jagannath Sur Lane, Calcutta (Zone No. 6).

2. The said premises No. 8, Jagannath Sur Lane, Calcutta, was and is situated within the area which formed the Burtolla Constituency in the General Election last held for the Election of Members to the West Bengal State Legislative Assembly under the Constitution of India and other enactments passed therefor.

3. The serial number of your petitioner in the Electoral Roll for the said Burtolla Constituency was 46 in part "A" of the original Electoral Roll (Jagannath Sur Lane) prepared by the appropriate authorities for the purpose of the said Elections from the said Constituency. In the said original Electoral Roll, however, your petitioner's name was wrongly described as Sadhan Sankar Ghosh which said mis-description was duly corrected by the appropriate authorities and a corrigendum to the said original Electoral Roll for the said Burtolla Constituency was accordingly published, recording the said correction, by the appropriate Electoral Registration Officer.

4. Your petitioner states that the said General Election for inter alia the Election of a member to the West Bengal State Legislative Assembly from the said Burtolla Constituency (hereinafter referred to as the said Election) was holden on the 22nd January 1952 for which all the respondents mentioned in the cause title hereof were the candidates.

5. On or about February 8, 1952, the results of the said Election were announced after the counting of votes therefor had been completed by one N. C. Chakravarty who was appointed by the appropriate authorities as the Returning Officer for the said Burtolla Constituency and the respondent Nirmal Chandra De was declared elected as a Member from the said Burtolla Constituency to the West Bengal State Legislative Assembly.

6. The results of the said Election were as follows:—

(e) Hemendra Prosad Ghosh	...	2,678
(f) Ramanath Ghosh	...	910
(g) Nirendra Nath Majumdar	...	253
(h) Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury	...	6,590
(i) Satyendra Nath Sen	...	119

7. Your petitioner states that the said Election has not been a free election nor was it conducted and held in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Statutes therefor and/or the rules and/or orders passed or framed thereunder. The said Election was further vitiated by non-compliance with the rules relating to the said Election and/or by a mistake in the use of prescribed forms. The respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or persons with the connivance of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents were further guilty of divers corrupt and illegal practices which inter alia materially affected the said election and/or as a result whereof the election of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De was procured and/or induced. Your petitioner further states and submits that the nomination of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De was improperly accepted which materially affected the results of the said election.

8. The respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or his workers and supporters, with the connivance of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents has and/or have procured and/or abetted in procuring and/or attempted to procure applications by divers persons for ballot papers in the names of divers other persons who had died before the said 22nd January 1952 and/or were dead on the said date or in fictitious names. Your petitioner sets out in the Annexure "A" hereto a full list of such votes cast and/or registered in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De as aforesaid in the names of persons mentioned in the Electoral Rolls for the said Burtolla Constituency, who at all material times were dead. Your petitioner sets out further together with the said particulars in the said Annexure "A" hereto dates and places of deaths wherever possible of such voters.

9. The respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or his workers and supporters with the connivance of the said Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents, has and/or have procured and/or abetted the procuring and/or attempted to procure applications by divers persons for ballot papers in the names of divers other living persons. Your petitioner sets out in the Annexure "B", Parts I, II and III, hereto a full list of such votes cast and registered in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De by persons other than those whose names actually appeared in the Electoral Rolls for the said Burtolla Constituency. Your petitioner is also setting out in the said Annexure "B" full particulars showing that the voters in whose names votes were supposed to have been cast in the said Burtolla Constituency in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De on the 22nd January 1952, were not and could not have been present at all at any of the polling booths of the said Burtolla Constituency either on the day of the said Election or at the times when their votes were supposed to have been cast as aforesaid in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

10. Apart from the said illegal and corrupt practices your petitioner states that the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or other persons with the connivance of the said Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents procured and/or abetted the procuring and/or attempted to procure the application by a person for a ballot paper at booth No. 3A for the said Burtolla Constituency at about 4-30 p.m. on the said 22nd January 1952 in the name of one Apanga Bhatttacharjee whose name appeared in the Electoral Roll for the said Burtolla Constituency, his serial number being 195. Your petitioner has been informed and verily believes it to be true that the polling agent of the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury at the said polling booth challenged the said person and stated that he was not Apanga Bhattacharjee at all. A deposit of Rs. 10 was thereupon made by him on the said occasion to the appropriate Election Officer at the said polling booth. Thereafter the polling agent of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De at the said polling booth however identified the said person as Apanga Bhattacharjee although he was not Apanga Bhattacharjee at all and the said person was on such identification allowed to cast his vote in the name of Apanga Bhattacharjee in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. Your petitioner states that the said Apanga Bhattacharjee was not in Calcutta at all at the said time and a false vote had been recorded in his name by a completely different person.

11. Your petitioner further states that the said election has not been a free election at all inasmuch as there had been at all material times direct and/or indirect interference or attempt to interfere on the part of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents particularly one Nanda Dulal De and Bipath Rajwar and/or other persons particularly one Dwijendra Nath Ganguli and Ram Chandra Banarjee with the connivance and knowledge of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents with the free exercise of the Electoral right of numerous employees of the Corporation of Calcutta as will appear from the facts stated hereinbelow:—

(a) The said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli, at all material times, was and still is the Chief Engineer of the Corporation of Calcutta.

(b) Premises No. 72/1, Grey Street, Calcutta, a premises situated within the area which formed part of the said Burtolla Constituency, was and is a property belonging to the Corporation of Calcutta.

(c) The North Garage of the Motor Vehicle Department of the Corporation of Calcutta and the Gowkhana of the said Corporation are housed at the said premises No. 72/1, Grey Street, Calcutta, hereinafter referred to as the said premises.

(d) At all material times there were and still are numerous employees of the Corporation of Calcutta who not only worked, either at its said North Garage or at its said Gowkhana but also resided in a portion of the said premises which had been allotted to them by the said Corporation as their residential quarters.

(e) The said Motor Vehicle Department of the said Corporation and/or its said North Garage and its said Gowkhana come directly under the supervision and direction of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli as the Chief Engineer of the said Corporation.

(f) As such Chief Engineer of the said Corporation and as a person exercising the final authority over the affairs of the said North Garage and the said Gowkhana of the said Corporation the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli at all material times, exercised and still exercises great influence over the said numerous employees of the said Corporation working and residing at the said premises.

(g) Your petitioner who, at all material times was and still is a licensed Sanitary Engineer and Plumber of the Corporation of Calcutta, was a great friend of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli. The said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli, at all material times had great respect and admiration for your petitioner and it was at the instance and request of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that your petitioner sometime in the year 1950 had taken an active part with a view to pacify the Mazdoors of the said Corporation and your petitioner was successful in his said work and was able to bring about peace amongst the Corporation Mazdoors and the said Corporation authorities. It was at the instance of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that your petitioner rendered various services in the formation of the Calcutta Corporation Karmi Sangha with the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli as its President and one Manikram as its Secretary. Your petitioner had collected various sums of moneys from divers persons for the purposes of the said Karmi Sangha and it was to a great extent due to the labour and energy put in by your petitioner that the said Karmi Sangha was able to stand on its own legs.

(h) As a result of his said acts the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli at all material times had great confidence in your petitioner and relied on him on many matters particularly in matters connected with Mazdoors of the Corporation of Calcutta.

(i) Your petitioner, at all material times was, in the premises on the friendliest of terms with the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli and he used to visit him almost daily either at his office or at his residence at premises No. 17, Shyam Square, Calcutta. The said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli also used to come sometimes to your petitioner's said residence.

(j) On or about the 17th January 1952, your petitioner had gone to the said residence of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli at about 8 a.m. in the morning and while he was conversing with the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli there the respondent Nirmal Chandra De came in to see him and in your petitioner's presence started discussing with the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli his election prospects as a Congress candidate. The said Nirmal Chandra De proceeded to tell the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that one Bejoy Singh Nahar, the Secretary of the West Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, had asked the respondent Nirmal Chandra De to come to the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli to seek his help in the matter of forcing the said Corporation employees working and residing in the said premises to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. The said Nirmal Chandra De told the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that unless the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli interfered in the matter all the said Corporation Employees would vote for the Krisak Majdoor Proja Party Candidate the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury.

The respondent Nirmal Chandra De further told the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that until and unless he intervened in the matter and talked to the said Corporation employees himself there was no chance whatever of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De's getting any of the votes of the said Corporation employees. Apart from requesting the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli to interfere as aforesaid the respondent Nirmal Chandra De also requested him that one Nanda Dulal De a relation of his and one of the said Corporation employees should be placed in charge of procuring the votes of the said Corporation employees. The said Nirmal Chandra De further requested the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli to also order the foreman of the said Garage one Ram Chandra Banerjee, who worked and resided at the said premises and who exercised great influence over the said Corporation employees to exercise his said influence in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and to see to it that all the said Corporation employees voted for him.

(k) The said Nirmal Chandra De made it quite clear to the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that until and unless the said Ram Chandra Banerjee was ordered to support and in fact did support the candidature of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De there was very little chance of any of the said Corporation employees voting in favour of the said Nirmal Chandra De. The said Nirmal Chandra De further told the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that it was the said Ram Chandra Banerjee who knew the names of all the said Corporation employees and it was he who would be able to procure all their votes and/or at any rate to manipulate votes being cast in the names of the voters whose names appeared in the Electoral Roll for the said Burtolla Constituency as residing and/or working at the said premises. It was also pointed out by the said Nirmal Chandra De that the matter was very urgent inasmuch as the said Ram Chandra Banerjee had already in the presence of many persons of the locality and/or voters of the said Burtolla Constituency given it out that he would support the candidature of the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury.'

(l) On the said representations having been made by the said Nirmal Chandra De the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli immediately left for the said premises together with your petitioner and the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. On arrival at the said premises the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli in your petitioner's presence sent for the said Ram Chandra Banerjee, the said Nanda Dulal De, the said Bipat Rajwar and one Hiranmoy Shome Chowdhury. The said Hiranmoy Shome Chowdhury, at all material times, was and still is one of the said Corporation employees working at the said premises and exercising some influence over the said Corporation employees. Thereafter the said four persons came to the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli who, thereupon in the presence of your petitioner, told the said persons that they must work for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and must exercise all their influence in forcing all the said Corporation employees to vote for him en bloc. The said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli further told the said four persons that he also, would himself speak to each of the said Corporation employees and would order them to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. He accordingly advised the said four persons to convene a meeting of the said Corporation employees so that he could address them.

(m) Thenceforward an open campaign was started at the said premises by the said four persons under the leadership of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli to force the said Corporation employees to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

(n) On or about the 18th day of January 1952, a meeting of the said Corporation employees was held at the said premises which said meeting was addressed inter alia by the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli, the said Ram Chandra Banerjee, the said Nanda Dulal De, the said Hiranmoy Shome Chowdhury and one Manikram. The said Manikram who at all material times was and still is, as already stated before, the Secretary of the said Calcutta Corporation Karmi Sangha exercised as such some influence over the said Corporation employees at the said premises. In the course of their respective addresses at the said meeting each of the said five persons told the said Corporation employees present thereat to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De, who was present at the said meeting and sitting next to the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli. All the said five persons made it perfectly clear to the said Corporation employees present at the said meeting that unless they voted for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De they would find it difficult to keep their jobs with and/or to work in the Corporation of Calcutta. They told the said employees that if it was found that they or any of them had not voted for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De their services with the Corporation of Calcutta would be terminated and their ration cards registered at the Corporation Ration Shops would be seized. They further told the said Corporation employees that those of them who came from outside Bengal would further find it impossible to leave for their native places after they were dismissed from their services with the Corporation of Calcutta in the event it was found out that they had not voted for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. The said five persons further told the said Corporation employees that if on the other hand they voted for the Congress candidate the respondent Nirmal Chandra De not only would their services with the Corporation of Calcutta be retained but their service conditions improved beyond all measure. Those of the said employees who were working as temporary hands would be made permanent and paid proper monthly salaries. Their residential quarters would further be improved and full facilities given to them with regard to Electricity and water connection at the said premises.

(o) Such meetings were thereafter held at the said premises almost daily until the said 22nd January 1952 and at each and every of the said meetings the same threats and same promises were held out to the said Corporation employees by inter alia the said five persons. Apart from holding the said general meeting the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli along with the said Ram Chandra Banerjee, Nanda Dulal De, Hiranmoy Shome Chowdhury, Bipath Rajwar and Manikram approached all the Sardars of the Mazdoors working at the said premises and told them that if they or the Mazdoors who worked with them voted for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De, their service conditions would be immensely improved and they would benefit in every possible way. They were also similarly warned that if they or their co-workers voted against the said Nirmal Chandra De they would face the danger of being dismissed from the services of the said Corporation and of the other calamities fully stated herein above.

(p) While the said meetings were going on it was arranged by the said Nirmal Chandra De with the active help and assistance of the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli that the said Nanda Dulal De who at all material times was in charge of the attendance registers of the said Corporation employees and the said Bipat Rajwar working at its said North Garage should be given copies of the Electoral Rolls for the said Burtolla Constituency and handed over the Attendance Register of the said Corporation employees including those working in the said Gowkhana so that they could manipulate the votes of the said Corporation employees properly and if necessary to cast false votes in the names of such of the employees of the said Corporation whose names still appeared in the Electoral Rolls for the said constituency although they, either had left the services of the said Corporation or were dead long ago. The choice of the said two persons for the said duties was because of the fact that they were to act as the polling agents for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De at the polling booth for the particular area wherein the said premises was situated being Polling Booth No. 11A.

(q) Thereafter the said Nanda Dulal De and the said Bipat Rajwar checked the said Attendance Registers of the said Corporation employees with the Electoral Rolls for the said constituency and found out therefrom the names of those persons whose appeared in the said Electoral Rolls although they had long ceased to be in the service of the Corporation and/or to reside or work at the said premises or were dead and/or were fictitious.

(r) After having found out the said names of persons who were not either residing any longer at the said premises or working with the said Corporation or were dead and/or were fictitious the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or his workers and supporters, with the connivance of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents procured and/or abetted the procuring and/or attempted to procure applications by divers other persons set up by them for ballot papers in the names of the said Corporation employees whose names still appeared in the said Electoral Rolls for the said Burtolla Constituency although none of them, in fact, worked with the said Corporation or resided at the said premises any longer or were not in Calcutta at all or were dead. Your petitioner sets out in Annexure "C" hereto a full list of such votes cast and/or registered in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De as aforesaid in the names of persons mentioned in the Electoral Rolls for the said Burtola Constituency, who at all material times were dead. Your petitioner sets out further together with the said particulars in the said Annexure "C" hereto dates and places of deaths wherever possible of such voters.

(s) Your petitioner sets out in the Annexure "D", Parts I, II, III and IV, hereto a full list of such votes cast and registered in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De in the names of such persons, who were either not in Calcutta at all or did not reside in the said premises or were dismissed from the services of the Corporation of Calcutta or were on leave and were out of Calcutta or were not present at their respective polling booths at all when votes were supposed to have been cast in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De in their names.

(t) Your petitioner states that the last of such meeting held by inter alia the said five persons mentioned herein above at the said premises was held on the night of 21st January 1952 which said meeting was presided over by the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli. The said meeting was attended by all the said Corporation employees. The said meeting was inter alia addressed by the said Ram Chandra Banerjee, Manikram, Hiranmoy Shome Chowdhury, Nanda Dulal De and Dwijendra Nath Ganguli who, in the course of their said addresses, reiterated the said threats and held out the said promises fully mentioned herein above at the said meeting. The said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli further in the course of his said address warned the said Corporation employees that if they did not vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De their future would be rather gloomy and that he would see to it that those of the said employees who did not vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De were dismissed from their respective services. He further told the said Corporation employees that although the voting would apparently be in secret

it would not at all be difficult for him to know which of the said Corporation employees had not voted for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De as either the said Nanda Dulal De or the said Bipat Rajwar was going to be present at the Polling Booth No. 11A where the said Corporation employees were to cast their respective votes as the polling agents for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

(u) Not content with the said meetings and the said personal approaches the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli got hold of one Mushon Hasam, who had great influence over a vast majority of the said Corporation employees and was one of their sardars and on or about 19th January 1952, took him away in his car and purchased for him a new coat and gave it to him with the request induce the said Corporation employees to vote for the said Nirmal Chandra De. The said Mushon Hasam thereafter tried to induce and did in fact induce quite a number of the said Corporation employees to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

(v) On the date of the said election, that is, on 22nd January 1952, the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli further also came personally to the said Polling Booth No. 11A in the morning and told such of the said Corporation employees who were present thereat not to forget his advice and warning and to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. The said Ram Chandra Banerjee also came similarly and talked to the said Corporation employees who were waiting to cast their respective votes and standing in a queue on Grey Street, Calcutta. The said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli and Ram Chandra Banerjee further came again later in the day to see to it that the said Corporation employees listened to their advice and voted for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

(w) The said Nanda Dulal De further remained at the said polling booth the whole day as the polling agent for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. The said Bipath Rajwar, who was also appointed a polling Agent for respondent Nirmal Chandra De, in the event of any emergency, was also present outside the polling booth and he constantly advised the said Corporation employees who were waiting to cast their respective votes outside the said booth No. 11A on Grey Street, Calcutta, to vote for the respondent Nirmal Chandra De. The said Bipat Rajwar further told the said Corporation employees as and when they came and took their turns in the queue on Grey Street, Calcutta, that the said Nanda Dulal De was inside the said polling booth and had seated himself in such a position therein as to enable him to see the legs of the voters when they went into the screened envlosure for recording their votes at the said booth. The said Bipat Rajwar further told the said Corporation employees that by watching the movement of the legs of the various voters who went into the said screened area to record their votes, the said Nanda Dulal De would easily be able to find out and ascertain the ballot box into which a particular Corporation employee or any other voter was inserting his vote.

(x) In fact the said statement made by the said Bipath Rajwar was true in fact and substance for the said Nanda Dulal De did sit himself in a very advantagous position and was all along able to ascertain by watching closely the movement of the legs of the said Corporation employees inside the said screened area as to the particular Ballot box in which they inserted their votes.

(y) Your petitioner states that as a result of the said undue influence exercised by the said Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli, Ram Chandra Banerjee, Nanda Dulal De, Bipath Rajwar, Hiranmoy Shome Chowdhury and Manikram the said Corporation employees were influenced both directly or indirectly to cast their votes in favour of the said respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

(z) Your petitioner states that he has been informed and verily believes it to be true that by an order passed by the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation of Calcutta and dated the 17th January 1952 each and every Department of the said Corporation was asked to prevent its employees from taking part in the Election campaign on pain of dismissal. In spite of the said order however, the said persons including the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli freely acted as aforesaid campaigning in favour of the candidature of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and in fact in the cases of the said Nanda Dulal De and Bipath Rajwar special permission was obtained by the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli from the appropriate authorities of the Corporation of Calcutta to enable them to act as the Polling Agents for the said Nirmal Chandra De in spite of the said order.

12. Your petitioner further states that the said election has not been a free election by reason of the fact that diverse non-Bengalee voters in the said Constituency were coerced and/or intimidated by the respondent Nirmal Chandra De in voting for him in the manner following:—

(a) At various meetings held on dates and at places mentioned in Annexure "E" hereto the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents and/or his workers and/or supporters and/or other persons with the connivance and knowledge of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents, told the non-Bengalee audience at the said meetings who were all voters at the said Burtolla Constituency to vote for the Congress candidate Nirmal Chandra De or otherwise non-Congress Bengalees would come into power and completely ruin, annihilate and drive them away from the State of West Bengal. The said non-Bengalee voters were told that until and unless they voted for the congress candidate the respondent Nirmal Chandra De their future would be very dark and completely guided by the whims of the non-Congress Bengalees who are and will be seeking to drive all the non-Bengalees out of the State of West Bengal.

(b) Your petitioner states that by reason of the said utterences made at the said meetings by the respondent Nirmal Chandra De and others as aforesaid almost all the non-Bengalee voters in the said Burtolla Constituency had voted for the Congress candidate the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

13. The polling booths in the said Constituency the numbers whereof are set out hereinbelow were not opend at 8 a.m. as a result whereof numerous voters who had come to vote for the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury had to go back without casting their respective votes. Further, although the said polling booths were opened at a time later than that advertised for the information of the public they were not kept opened for a period after the announced closing time as a result whereof numerous voters who had come to cast their respective votes could not find it convenient to vote at all.

14. Prior to the date of the said Election a notice was issued by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, as the Returning Officer for the said Burtolla Constituency, enumerating the numbers of the booths and their respective addresses where the voters of the said Constituency would be able to cast their respective votes. The residents of permises Nos. 45 to 79A, Durga Charan Mitter Street, were required under the said notification to cast their respective votes at the polling booth No. 15A and the residents of premises No. 82 to the end of Durga Charan Mitter Street were required by the said notification to register their respective votes at the polling booth No. 15B. As would appear from the said facts the residents of premises Nos. 80 and 81, Durga Charan Mitter Street, were for some inexplicable reasons not specifically or at all included in the said notice. Consequently about 43 voters being the residents of premises Nos. 80 and 81, Durga Charan Mitter Street, went to the polling booth No. 29B to cast their votes in favour of the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury inasmuch as by the said notification it was stated that residents of any premises not specifically mentioned in the said notification at all, were to register their respective votes at the polling booth No. 29B. In spite thereof however, the presiding office of the said polling booth No. 29B refused to allow the said 43 persons to register their votes at all.

15. Your petitioner states that on the eve of the said Election the respondent Nirmal Chandra De addressed a meeting of his agents including his polling agents and instructed them that in no case should any person be challenged if it appeared from the Electoral Rolls in their hands that the said person was dead or was living but was not in Calcutta or traceable implying that arrangement had been made by him and/or his agents to record votes in the names of the said deceased and/or living persons in favour of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De.

16. Your petitioner states further that the result of the election has been materially affected by the improper reception of 46 ballot papers at the various polling booths of the said constituency which were not issued by any of the said polling booths at the said consituency at all. Your petitioner states that apart from the said improper reception of the said 46 excess ballot papers not issued at all the said reception of the said votes further amount to non-compliance with the provisions of the said Act XLIII of 1950, the said Acts XLIII of 1951 and/or the rules and orders made under the said Acts or rules relating to the said election or by a mistake in the use of prescribed forms. The said fact of the acceptance of 46 excess ballot papers was found out by the Returning Officer for the said constituency after the completion of counting of all the votes cast in the Constituency. The said fact will appear from the certified copy of Form No. 16 maintained and/or filled in by the said Returning Officer under the said Act XLIII of 1951 a copy where is set out in the Annexure "F" hereto.

17. The respondent Nirmal Chandra De and/or his agents further has and/or have incurred and/or authorised expenditure and/or employed persons in contravention of Act XLIII of 1951 and/or the rules made thereunder. Your petitioner craves leave to give fuller and better particulars in respect of the statements made herein above at a later date or at the time of the hearing of this petition.

18. The name of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De does not appear in any of the Electoral Rolls published by the appropriate authorities for the said Constituency. Your petitioner states that the name of the said Nirmal Chandra De was sought to be added in the list of Electoral Rolls for the said constituency by orders purported to be passed by the Election Commissioner under section 25 of Act XLIII of 1950. Your petitioner states that the manner in which the name of the said Nirmal Chandra De was sought to be included in the said Election Roll was and is ultra vires of the said Act XLIII of 1950 and was and is of no effect whatsoever. Your petitioner has ascertained that the name of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De was sought to be added by the Election Commissioner and the Electoral Roll for the said constituency was deemed to be revised accordingly by the alleged exercise of an alleged ppower supposed to have been granted to the Election Commission under rule 20(3) framed under the said Act XLIII of 1950 which was and is ultra vires. Your petitioner states that the direct provisions of the Act XLIII of 1950 could not be evaded by shift or contrivance and the said rule 20(3) cannot override the express provisions of the said Act XLIII of 1950. In the premises your petitioner states that the respondent Nirmal Chandra De was not a person who was entitled to vote in the said Burtolla or any other Constituency inasmuch as his name did not appear in any of the Electoral Rolls therefor. As such his nomination was accepted improperly as a result whereof the said election has been materially affected. Alternatively the result of the said Election has been materially affected by the said non-compliance with the provisions of the Act XLIII of 1950 and as such the Election of the said Nirmal Chandra De was and is void.

19. By reason of the premises your petitioner states that the Election of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De should be declared void and/or set aside and/or the election of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De should be declared void and the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury should be declared to have been duly elected and/or the said election should be declared wholly void.

20. Your petitioner has deposited a sum of Rs. 1,000 with the Reserve Bank of India in favour of the Secretary to the Election Commission as a security for the costs of this his petition and a Reserve Bank receipt for the said deposit is annexed hereto and/or enclosed herewith.

WHEREFOR your petitioner prays that it may be declared that the Election of the said Nirmal Chandra De is void and that the respondent Sudhir Chandra Roy Chowdhury has been duly elected. Alternatively it may be declared that the Election of the respondent Nirmal Chandra De is void. In still further alternative it may be declared that the said Election is wholly void.

SUDHANSU SEKHAR GHOSH.

I, Sudhansu Sekhar Ghosh, the petitioner abovenamed, do declare that the statements contained in paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11 sub-paragraphs (a) to (l), the sentence commencing with the words "The said Manikram" and ending with the words "the said premises" in sub-paragraph (n), the the sentence beginning with the words "On the date" and ending with the words "on Grey Street, Calcutta" and the sentence beginning with the words "The said Bipath Rajwar" and ending with the words "inserting his vote" in sub-paragraph (v) of paragraph 11 and in paragraphs 14 and 18 of the foregoing petition including the cause title thereof are true to my knowledge and those contained in paragraphs 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 15, 16, 17 and sub-paragraph (m) of paragraph 11, first sentence commencing with the words "On or about" and ending with the words "one Manikram", the sentence beginning with the words "in the course of" and ending with the words "at the said premises" of sub-paragraph (n), sub-paragraphs (o), (p), (q), (r), (s), (t), (u) of the said paragraph 11 and the sentence commencing with the words "the said Dwijendra Nath Ganguli" and ending with the words "Nirmal Chandra De" of sub-paragraph (v), first sentence beginning with the words "the said Nanda Dulal De" and ending with the words "Nirmal Chandra De" of sub-paragraph (w), sub-paragraphs (x) and (z) of the said paragraph 11 are based on information which I verily believe to be true and those contained in paragraph 7, sub-paragraph (y) of paragraphs 11, 19 and 20 thereof are my submissions.

DECISION.

By an order No. 352-Dis./10L-128/51, dated the 10th December 1951, the Government of West Bengal referred the following dispute between Messrs. Allen Berry & Co., Ltd. (hereinafter called the Company) and its workmen:—

(1) "Whether the discharge of 490 employees as per annexed list on the 31st August 1951 was legal and justified;

(2) Whether those discharged employees or any of them are entitled to reinstatement. If not, to what retiring benefits and compensation are they entitled; and

(3) Whether those discharged employees are entitled to any other compensation."

2. Shri G. Palit, District Judge, Industrial Tribunal (hereinafter called the Tribunal), took up the reference and by the award, dated 22nd December 1951, held that the discharge of those workmen was illegal and not justified inasmuch as (a) it offended against the requirements of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, (b) the Company had not succeeded in establishing that these workmen were surplus to the requirements, (c) that there was unfair labour practice and (d) it was actuated by motives of victimisation.

3. The Tribunal ordered the Company to reinstate them in their previous posts unless they or any one of them, in the meantime, were employed elsewhere, and if such posts were not available, then they were to be given equivalent posts with equal pay and prospects within one month of the publication of the award. It further directed the Company to pay the workmen four months' salary with dearness allowance last drawn in case it did not reinstate them. The Company was also directed to pay them by way of compensation their basic wages and dearness allowance for the period of their forced unemployment, that is to say, from the 1st September 1951 upto the date of their actual reinstatement. Against this award, the Company has preferred the appeal.

4. The contentions of the appellant before us are as follows:—

(1) that the Tribunal should have held that the Company was justified in discharging all those workmen, as (a) there was no work for them and (b) the economic condition of the Company required re-organisation of its labour force;

(2) The Tribunal at any rate should have upheld the discharge of 55 workmen who were employed in the depots at Sodepur, R & A. Plant, Serampore and Cossipore, which had been closed as long back as 1949 or 1950;

(3) The Tribunal was wrong in awarding compensation for the period of forced unemployment at the full rate of basic wages and dearness allowance.

5. Up to 1939, the business of the Company consisted in selling certain types of foreign cars as agents of the Manufacturers. It had two workshops, one at Park Street and the other at Hazra Road, where repairs of cars sold by it were undertaken and bodies of buses and trucks were build. Its labour force at these two workshops at that time was 308. Between 1940 and 1942, after the war had started, it ceased to be agents for the sale of foreign cars. It had only those two workshops but they were occupied with repair of war vehicles, manufacture of spare parts for them and other articles for war purposes. Its labour force at the said two workshops was in the neighbourhood of 1,050. This line of business was carried on up to 1945. In 1946 the Company made large purchases of military vehicles and spare parts from disposals. About 38,000 cars and vehicles were purchased besides a large quantity of spare parts. Depots for receiving those cars and workshops for reconditioning them were started in many places in Bengal, Assam and other places. In Bengal, such workshops and depots were opened at Sodepur, Jodhpur, R. & A. Plant, Serampore, Brooklyn, Cossipore, Salwa in Midnapore and Ondal and the total number of workmen employed in these workshops and depots came up to a very considerable figure. Those additional depots and workshops as well as the workshops at Hazra Road and Park Street were mainly engaged in reconditioning the motor vehicles so purchased. The labour force at Hazra Road and Park Street workshops was about this time roughly 1,400 and in December 1950, it stood at 1,118. The workshops outside Calcutta which had been established for reconditioning these vehicles were closed one by one from 1949 up to August 1950. The workshop at the R. & A. Plant was closed on the 8th June 1949, that at Sodepore on the 18th February 1950, the Serampore workshop on the 29th July 1950 and the Cossipore Plant about the same time. The depots were, however, maintained where vehicles in the same condition in which they had been purchased from the disposals were housed. On the 31st August 1951, the Company gave a general notice discharging 490 workmen as per list attached to it. This was posted on the notice board. The only reason mentioned in the notice was that they were being discharged as the Company had no work for them. At that time, that is to say, in August 1951, the total labour force at the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops amounted to 986. On 1st September 1951 490 workmen were discharged, of whom 55 workmen were then posted at the following depots:—

Sodepur	...	5
R. & A. Plant	...	28
Serampore	...	3
Cossipore	...	19

and the rest, namely, 435, were then employed in the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops.

6. In the case of Viswamitra Press (Karyalaya) versus The Workers of the Press, 1952 Labour Appeal Cases, page 20, this Tribunal laid down the following proposition:—

> "It is the prima facie right of the management to determine its labour force and the management would be the best judge to determine the number of workmen who would become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economy or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained. Where in effecting the retrenchment, the management acts in a bona fide manner the number retrenched by it ought to be accepted.....but where the management is influenced by extraneous considerations or improper motives, the Tribunal must scrutinise the matter with great circumspection and must confine the number of retrenchment strictly within the limits of actual requirement. In such cases, the management must justify by evidence the extent of the retrenchment."

We, must, therefore, determine (a) whether a case for retrenchment has been made out and (b) if it has been so made out, whether in effecting retrenchment the management was influenced by extraneous considerations or improper motives, such as, unfair labour practice or victimisation. In the general notice which was posted on the notice board, the only ground given for retrenchment as already stated was that there was no work for the said 490 workmen whose names had been set down in a list appended to that general notice. We shall, therefore, have to examine the evidence to see whether sufficient work was left for them.

7. The Company has filed a chart which has been marked Ex. B-1. A copy of the same chart has also been marked as Ext. 7-M. It gives the number of motor vehicles at the different depots and workshops in the different years. Leaving aside the workships and depots outside Bengal, the stock of vehicles as on the 31st August 1951 was as follows:—

Serampore	...	...	...	...	3,636
Sodepore	...	...	...	...	4,612
Hazra Road	...	...	...	...	374
Park Street	...	...	...	...	33
			Total	...	8,655

Of the total number, vehicles kept at the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops amounted to 407 and the vehicles kept in the Sodepore and Serampore depots amounted to 8,248. As the Serampore and Sodepur workshops had been closed in February and July 1950 respectively, it must be taken that the number of motor vehicles kept in those depots, up to August 1951, numbering 8,248 were un-reconditioned ones which required repairs and reconditioning at workshops for the purposes of being put up on the market for sale.

8. Ext. 7(f) gives a general idea of the vehicles which had been reconditioned at the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops and remained there up to August 1951. Two hundred and twenty-nine vehicles and 48 trailers had been reconditioned by that time so that out of the total stock of 407 vehicles at the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops about 130 vehicles remained to be reconditioned. But Ext. 7(h) read with Ext. 7(m) gives a clear indication that vehicles left un-reconditioned at the closed workshops outside Calcutta were being brought to the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops for being reconditioned and made ready for sale. The position, therefore, on the 31st August 1951 was that there was quite a large number of unreconditioned vehicles at the closed depots outside Calcutta plus a number of unreconditioned vehicles about 130 at Hazra Road and Park Street workshops awaiting reconditioning. Ext. 7(h) also shows that with the full complement of the labour force as it was in August 1951, the output of reconditioned vehicles varied from 25 to 31 per month. There was thus enough work for a long time for the 435 workmen who had been retrenched from Hazra Road and Park Street workshops on the 31st August 1951.

9. Ext. B shows the staff maintained at the depots up to 31st August 1951 and the staff maintained there after the retrenchment—

10. The above figures show that the Company felt the necessity of retaining a large number of workmen at those depots up to 31st August 1951 and even thereafter, although the workshops at those places had been closed between 1949 and 1950. As our finding is that vehicles housed there were being sent to the Hazra Road and Park Street workshops for being reconditioned, we cannot comprehend why the mistries who were discharged from those depots on the 31st August 1951 could not have been transferred to and kept employed at the Hazra Road and Park Street establishments where so many vehicles were required to be reconditioned. Taking an overall picture of the situation as appearing from the documents filed by the Company, of which we have noticed above, as also the evidence that after retrenchment there was accumulation of work in the hands of the workmen retained in service and the Company refused to accept works for pressure of work, we cannot hold that a case for immediate retrenchment on the ground of want of work has been made out.

11. The ground now urged that the retrenchment was effected pursuant to a scheme of reorganisation on account of the financial embarrassment of the Company was not stated in the general notice of discharge of the workmen concerned nor did the Company, place before the Tribunal any such scheme worked out on the basis of economy. In the circumstances, we are inclined to hold that it is an afterthought, and whatever the financial condition of the Company might have been it was not the real cause for retrenchment.

12. The case for retrenchment of workmen on the grounds mentioned above failing, it becomes necessary to consider whether this retrenchment was actuated by other extraneous considerations or improper motives such as unfair labour practice or victimisation. On the evidence, it transpires that the Union of the workers was established in 1947 and since then there were several disputes which had to be referred for conciliation or for adjudication by Tribunals. They related to the closing of the different depots, discharge of workmen, claim for bonus, etc. It is quite obvious that for some time past the Company was trying to retrench a number of workmen on the ground that they were surplus to the requirement and the workmen resisted it. For that reason as also for others, which developed into industrial disputes, the relation between the Company and its workmen was far from being cordial.

13. In August 1951, some conciliation proceedings between the Company and its workmen were pending before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Mrs. P. Chakravorty. While those conciliation proceedings were pending, the labour Union got some information from Shri Jagannath Prosad, the Legal Adviser representing the Company, in those conciliation proceedings which made it apprehensive of immediate retrenchment of 500 workmen or more. Accordingly, on the 27th August 1951 the Secretary of the Union addressed a letter to the Joint Secretary, Labour Department, for his intervention immediately by appointing a Tribunal over the issue of apprehended retrenchment and the matter was taken up by Labour Commissioner, Mr. Haldar, immediately thereafter. On the 29th of August 1951 the said Shri Jagannath Prosad and Shri Moitra, the Liaison Officer of the Company, met Mr. Haldar and represented to him that so far as they know there was no basis for the apprehension of the Union that 500 or more workmen would be retrenched shortly. Mr. Haldar thereupon made a note on his file in these terms:—

> "Both these representatives categorically deny that there is any possibility of retrenchment of these men in the near future. But they both say that orders may issue from the management in which they were totally ignorant at present. I am, therefore, satisfied that at present there is no reasonable apprehension of any labour dispute."

This note was signed both by Shri Jagannath Prosad and Shri Moitra. The statement made by them, as appears in the above note, in our opinion, is a most clumsy one but it had the effect of misleading the Labour Commissioner in dropping the conciliation proceedings, which if proceeded with, would have been an obstacle in the way of the Company in discharging the workmen because of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It appears on evidence that the retrenchment of about 500 workmen was decided upon by the Company about 2½ months ago, and it can be safely assumed that the preparation of the list must have taken some time. That being the position, it was only in the fitness of things that the Company should have given prior notice to the workmen of its intention but instead of doing that, took advantage of the situation arising from the dropping of the conciliation proceedings and just two days later, viz., on the 31st August 1951, by a general notice, it terminated the services of all these workmen (numbering 490) by offering them one month's salary in lieu of notice. The apprehension which the Union had expressed in their letter to the Joint Secretary on the 27th August thus proved a well-founded one. The list of discharged workmen moreover shows that the workmen holding important position in the Labour Union such as Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, members of the executive committee were amongst the retrenched workmen.

14. It was pointed out on behalf of the Union that the normal rule in case of retrenchment "that last come, first go" was not followed. For this purpose the Tribunal called upon the Company to furnish a list of all workmen indicating their length of service. The Company, however, did not file a complete list. The list which it filed gave the length of service of the workmen retrenched but no list was filed giving the names and length of service of the workmen who were retained. Thus materials which would have enabled the Tribunal to come to a right conclusion in respect of this complaint was withheld by the Company. From this conduct we draw an adverse inference against the Company that if it had produced the complete list, it would have showed that it did not follow the normal rule and that there was no justification for departing from the normal rule. We hold that the discharge of the workmen concerned in this appeal was not justified.

15. After considering the facts and circumstances as mentioned above, we have come to the conclusion that in retrenching the workmen, the Company did not act in a bona fide manner but was influenced by improper motives of unfair labour practice and victimisation. Such being the case, the Company was bound to justify strictly the number it retrenched, but it made no attempt in that respect. Having regard to the view we have taken we do not think that the compensation awarded for the period of forced unemployment should be interfered with.

16. In Buckingham and Carnatic Company's case this Tribunal held that reinstatement is the normal remedy where the termination of service is wrongful. In this case the Tribunal has given the option to the Company either to reinstate or to pay compensation in the shape of four months' emoluments. That compensation is obviously in addition to the compensation awarded for the period of forced unemployment. In the absence of an appeal by the workmen, we cannot modify this part of the award by taking away that option. But to avoid any doubt we direct that that compensation for the period of forced unemployment is to be paid at the rate awarded by the Tribunal and the termini ad quen of that period would be the date of reinstatement of the particular workman or workmen in case the Company reinstate him or them and in case the Company does not choose to reinstate, the Company is directed to pay to such workmen their said compensation calculated up to 9th February 1952, that is to say, the last date by which the workmen should have been reinstated under the award of the Tribunal, in addition to that awarded by the Tribunal for not reinstating them and all the said compensation should be paid within a month from the date of this order.

17. The appeal stands dismissed with costs. We assess the costs at Rs. 250 which is also directed to be paid within a month of this order.
